PREFACE

2004 EDITION

This genealogical update, is prepared chiefly for private circulation. It does not claim to be, and is not, a complete record of this interesting family, which has played so important a part in the civil, military, and religious history of this country. Prepared for private use, it fulfills, however, the design of its promoters.

The editor desires to make thankful acknowledgment of the valuable original publication, compiled and edited by Rev. C. H. W. Stocking, in 1904 as well as Maria E. (Maxon) Tifft's A Partial Record of the Descendants of John Tefft of Portsmouth, Rhode Island and the Nearly Complete Record of the Descendants of John Tifft of Nassau, New York (March 1896) and Rachel Jean (Saul) Tefft's The Descendants of John Tefft (1997). He particularly acknowledges and credits Mr. Oscar W. Tefft, of Greenwich, N.Y., his great uncle, who was a significant resource for Rev. Stocking's original work. The current editor is also appreciative for members of his family who have added notes and clarifications in the intervening years.

In addition, the editor extends thanks and appreciation to Timothy Nathan Tefft, Lisbon Falls, Maine; A. Craig Anthony, South Kingstown, Rhode Island; the Tefft Family Association, and literally hundreds of descendants of John Tefft and Mary Barber, who have shared their wisdom, knowledge, and family genealogical information on the Tefft Rootsweb.com Internet site.

A special acknowledgment goes to Cathy Sharp Barber, Cossayuna, Washington county New York, who has unselfishly followed-up on and answered my every question when I have reached brick walls in attempting to sort out various Greenwich area Tefft families. Her information and kindness has been valuable, always.

Finally, I must thank my dear brother Timothy Huggins Tefft, who graciously proof read everything and provided format and style guidance as well as valuable mechanics perspective for the finished work. Without his valuable input and direction, this publication would be far more cumbersome for the reader to use.

All along, this project has been guided by the desire to provide correction and greater clarification of the information published by Rev. Stocking in 1904, as well as bringing the ancestry information more up-to-date. In many respects, we hope we have succeeded in those tasks. However, we realize, that regardless of our best efforts, this publication may still have many errors and misinformation. First of all, we apologize for any errors we may have made here, inadvertently or otherwise. Secondly, we invite readers to notify us of errors and provide us with corrected information so we may properly make corrections for future copies and generations.

As of the centennial of the publication of Rev. Charles H. W. Stocking's The Tefft Ancestry in 2004, we are thankful for the opportunity we have had to research, clarify, and add new information about this historical family, my historical family.

- Foreword -

More than a few of us regret that when we were young we did not listen more carefully as grandparents, great aunts and uncles, and other relatives spun tales of family lore and lineage. In our youth our tendency was to think in terms of the present and the immediate future. Stories about people we had never met – ancestors who had gone to their graves before our births – no matter how interesting – were not, and are not, indelible in our memories. We failed to take notes, to record the reminiscences, the history of our family. We were too young to appreciate our heritage. Sure, we were entertained. In some cases we were fascinated, but we have long since forgotten the details. Who was it who could pen, with his left hand, a passage from an ancient Greek text and simultaneously, with his right hand, produce a translation in perfect classical Latin? That required ambidexterity of mind and hand. Wasn't I told once that someone in the family had a double row of teeth – one inside the other? Wasn't the proof, in part, the assertion that he could crack walnuts in the shell within his mouth without the slightest difficulty or injury to his molars? Who was that?

Now we wish we had listened more carefully, more attentively, and that we could somehow play back those unrecorded tales. We sometimes wish we could converse with the members of our family who preceded us through the adventure of life and hear their stories once again and learn much more about our family and our common past.

The most ancient of storytellers, before writing was invented, told tales of family, of heritage, of lineage. Those stories, part of an oral tradition, were passed down through many generations until, at last, some were written down, but others were lost, forgotten. Some that were recorded on clay or stone or fragile forms of paper have since been lost as well. Many contained genealogies, which were intended to link the living with the people of their pasts. Family lines were considered important. They helped to establish the legitimacy of the tales and to make proud those who listened to and read the accounts of events, tragic, amusing, commonplace, and heroic. People wanted to know their pasts, their origins, their connections to the world in which they lived.

Ancestry was and is important as it ties a living family with it progenitors of clan, of country, of doctrine, of politics and faith. Family lines even appear with frequency in the Old Testament and in the New Testament. Today we still love to hear stories of the past, and some of us are particularly interested in learning about our roots and preserving the stories of our families. We want to know, and we often ask again, as we did when we were children, "Where did I come from?" Now, however, we are truly interested and attentive – not just curious about the mysteries of reproduction.

Of course, the answers to the genealogy questions are complicated. None of us has a single source. Each of us is the product of hundreds of generations of marriages and liaisons. We are descendants of rogues and kings, of good women and stalwart men, of the high and mighty, of the mean and low, the yeoman, the gentleman, the remembered and the forgotten. Most of us of European ancestry might, without much difficulty, find some line of ancestors who indeed were members of royal families. In fact, it has been said that all of us are descended, in one way or another, from Charlemagne. All of us are descended, too, from meaner stock.

Most of us who are Teffts and Tiffts are kin to a man who was executed – drawn and quartered – after King Philip's War in colonial Rhode Island. We are related, too, to soldiers and military officers, doctors, lawyers, legislators, jurists, scientists, teachers and professors, farmers, homemakers, pioneers, businessmen, authors, artists, musicians, publishers, editors, lumbermen, miners, factory workers, and men and women of a myriad of other callings and professions – all of them good people – all of them the descendants of William or John Tefft, the original members of the family in the New World. Then, of course, there are the daughters of Teffts and Tiffts who married, bore children, and carried on through life with other names. All are members of the family and contributed to our heritage.

Fortunately, though we ourselves cannot recall all of the stories we once heard, members of the family in the past and the present have taken interest in the stories of the Teffts and Tiffts, and they have delved through church and public records, wandered through many a graveyard, and corresponded with one another to preserve the history of the family. They have helped us all answer the question, "Where did I come from?" We know now more than we did before.

A century after the publication of The Tefft Ancestry, by the Reverend Doctor Charles H. W. Stocking – 1904 – it seems appropriate that the work is at last being formally brought up to date by Culver S. Tefft, an eleventh generation descendant of John Tefft, the progenitor of a family which, over the course of more than three hundred and fifty years, has spread from Rhode Island to nearly every state in the United States and to at least three provinces of the Dominion of Canada. Culver Tefft, thanks to notes recorded and correspondence preserved by his great uncle, Oscar W. Tefft; his grandmother, Mary Lucina Huggins Tefft; and his father, Richard S. Tefft, has been able to expand and correct the genealogy compiled by Dr. Stocking in his Ancestry and by Maria Maxon Tifft in her record, The Descendants of John Tefft (1896). Together with information from Rachel Saul Tefft's The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), information available on-line from the Tefft Family Association and other sites, as well as correspondence with numerous descendants of John Tefft, Culver has been able to add much to the family genealogy.

Bringing the record, the genealogy, up to date has been, even with the wonder and advantage of modern technology, an arduous task. After all, it is estimated that there are more than 2000 people living in the United States today who bear the Tefft name. Hundreds more carry the variant Tifft cognomen. All are kin, and all, through more or less a dozen generations, are descendants of John and Mary Barber of Portsmouth, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, or William Tefft and Anna Tefft of Boston, Massachusetts Bay Colony. In the course of three and a half centuries of their history in the New World, there have been, perhaps, more than 4000 Teffts and Tiffts. Tracing them all, determining their family lines, is an ongoing process. However, the new Tefft Ancestry, which can and will be emended and expanded in the future, brings a better, more complete family genealogy into the Twenty-first Century.

Still there are gaps in the record. Still there are questions without, at the moment, satisfactory answers. For instance, did the line of William and Anna Tefft continue through their son, John? Were some of the Teffts who lived in the Boston area in the Twentieth Century descendants of William and Anna?

What about the origin of the family name? Dr. Stocking seemed confident that Tefft, Teft, Teffe, Tifft, and Tift are derived from a Saxon word meaning "the place where a house has stood." The Rev. Dr. William Arthur[‡‡] included "Tefft or Teft" in his Etymological Dictionary of Family and Christian Names (1857) and recorded that they originally meant "A piece of ground where there has been a house." Another, more modern, book which lists origins of family names contains no entry for Tefft or any of its variants but does list Toft, from Middle English for "homestead," perhaps derived from the seemingly related but nonspecific Saxon word cited by Arthur. From Toft comes the name Taft. Perhaps, then, Tefft and Tifft do as well. What about Tuft, Tufts? Could it be that all of us, Tefft, Tifft, Taft, Tuft, Tufts, have a common Anglo-Saxon ancestor? If so, we may all be related to Robert Tofte, an English poet and translator who died in England in 1620. Someday, with more research, someone may be able to trace the history and lineage of the English Tefft/Tifft ancestors who adopted some form of the name at about the time of William the Conqueror.

Because we are proud to be members of the Tefft/Tifft family, The Ancestry in its updated form is an important book to us. However, it is not a record firm, as if carved in stone. Rather it is more flexible. It may be further corrected. It may be even more expanded. What others began and what Culver Tefft has added to will serve both present and future members of the family as a road map to the past, but it does not show all of the byways, some of the other lanes and lines of our history. Those will be appended to the record in the future, even though some of those routes began as pathways of the past. Let the Ancestry serve the family as a living document, one which can change and grow, as the family does. But, let us also be sure to pass family lore and history on in more tangible ways than we do when we just "tell" stories. Write those stories down. Print them. Don't let our children and grandchildren, nieces and nephews, regret that they did not listen better and more attentively to the stories about John and William Tefft's descendants. Those stories are herein only partially preserved, but their preservation is better assured with the publication of this book.

[‡‡]Note that the Rev. William Arthur probably included the name Tefft in his book because he had known members of the family (members of the congregation of his church, when he was pastor of the Bottskill Baptist Church in Greenwich, New York (1839-1844). Arthur was the father of Chester Alan Arthur, a classmate at Greenwich's Union Village Academy of Henry Amos Tefft. Chester, of course, later became President of the United States. Henry Amos Tefft became an early California lawyer, legislator, and jurist, and he once owned Rancho San Simeon (later the site of William Randolph Hearst's fabulous estate). Greenwich (and its environs) was the home of numerous Teffts in the Nineteenth Century.

Reading & Using This Book

This book is chiefly a resource for genealogy researchers, intended to help readers find their ancestors and identify their Tefft branch or line in the Tefft Family Tree or Ancestry. This is an update of The Tefft Ancestry published in 1904, by Rev. Charles H. W. Stocking, Vincennes, Indiana.

The format basically follows the original Stocking publication with some minor modifications. The editor has created three main sections, the first following the Teffe, Tefft, and Teft surname alone. The second section follows the Tifft and Tift surname sequentially. The third section records Tefft descendants whose surnames have been altered by marriages. These families are the "Allied" families. It is the hope of the editor that such divisions will facilitate researchers following or discovering their lines.

The information for each family record, when known, includes the following data:

Listing Section

1. Chronological number of the Tefft-related parent (Bold).
2. First, Middle, and Last name of Tefft parent (Bold).
3. First, Middle, and Last name of spouse (Bold).
4. Plus (+) symbol (Denotes marriage where a family record provides next generation offspring).
5. Dagger (†) symbol (Denotes biographical record, however no offspring).
6. Child chronological number.
7. First and Middle name of child.
8. Date of child birth (Denoted by "b.").
9. Date of child death (Denoted by "d.").
10. Date of child marriage (Denoted by "m." or "m. 1st", &c.).
11. Spouse of child (First, Middle, and Last name).
12. Date of child's spouse's birth (Denoted by "b.").
13. Date of child's spouse's death (Denoted by "d.").
14. The diacritical tilde mark (~) has been incorporated as an abbreviation for circa.
15. By convention the standard abbreviations for Senior (Sr) and Junior (Jr) omit the period.

Biographical Section

1. Given name of Tefft parent (e.g. John, Samuel, Mary, etc.).
2. Chronological number of Tefft parent in parentheses (#2004).
3. Given and Surnames of his or her parents and their chronological number (Maiden name).
4. Birth, death, marriage, and divorce information.

5. Parents of spouse.
6. Historical information.
7. Occupations, hobbies, accomplishments, trivia, and notable events.

What the format looks like:

1. John Tefft & Mary Barber had:

+2. Mary, m. Samuel Wilson, b. 1622; d. 1682.
+3. Samuel, b. 1644; d. 1725; m. Elizabeth Jenckes, b. 1652; d. April 1740.
+5. Tabitha, b. 1653; d. 1722; m. February 18, 1670, George Gardner.

John (#1) was the son of William and Anna (Maiden Name) Teffe. He was born in England about 1614, and died January 26, 1676. John and Mary are progenitors of more than 4,000 Teffts and allied family descendants.

Abbreviations used:

1. aft. or > – after.
2. b. – born.
3. bef. or < – before.
4. .bur. – buried.
5. c. or ~ – circa or about.
6. cem. – cemetery.
7. com. - companion.
8. co. – county.
9. d. – died.
10. div. – divorced.
11. F - female sex.
12. M - male sex.
13. m. – married. [Multiple marriages denote first (1st), second (2d), third (3d) and fourth (4th), &c.]
14. Res. – resided; resides.
15. s.s.p. – same sex partner.
16. twp. – township.
17. U - unknown or unidentified sex.
18. u. p. – unmarried partner.
19. &c. - etc. (old form)

For the most part, dates (birth, death, and marriage) appear in standard English format (i.e. January 1, 2004). The editor felt the format would be clearer to understand than a variety of abbreviated formats. Also, there should be fewer errors and less confusion in interpretation of dates.

Names of places (cities, towns, villages, counties, states, and countries) have been spelled in full in family biography sections. States are abbreviated in the listing section in order to conserve space. This convention should facilitate the reader's understanding of localities and regions. In some cases, the editor was unable to ascertain the correct place name, especially where counties were concerned. Where place names seemed confusing or incorrect the editor inserted question (?) marks to denote that something about the information may be incorrect. A few of the place names have been corrected from what was originally provided by Rev. Stocking, Rachel Saul Tefft, and/or the Internet genealogy data, when the editor knew, with assurance, the correction of a place name was justified and the information correct.

Footnotes appear at the end of some family records, providing source information, additional information about an entry, or simply to highlight issues that may or may not be obvious about the data.

The last section, the Addenda, has Tefft descendants the editor discovered, but was unable to properly place in the family tree. Every reasonable attempt has been made to link these names, but, at date of publication, the connections remain elusive. The editor welcomes any information that will link these individuals to specific entries in the Tefft ancestry, as well as the names of any additional descendants who have been unfortunately omitted in this volume.

The index has been set up to facilitate finding family records and individual names. Page numbers in bold face type denote pages for the given name from the family record indicating a parent with children.

Regular face type for page numbers indicate page references for children listed within family records. In cases where names are unknown, children are listed as Child. When the gender is known, then Daughter or Son is indicated. For parents, the unknowns are listed as either Female or Male Unknown, unless the gender is completely not known to the editor.

While every attempt has been made to provide accurate data to the researcher, inevitably there are mistakes that even the best proof reader misses. Please take the time to give us your feedback and corrections so that future publications of this book will have most accurate information available.

Thank you for permitting me to assist you with this resource to aid in your genealogical research.

Good luck in your research.

Sincerely,

Culver

The Tefft Ancestry

Introduction

The year 1,000 A. D. marks the date on, or which surnames came into recognized use. They were usually taken from the estates owned by bearers of such names, indicating, therefore, landed proprietors. In process of time the use of surnames was extended to natural objects, trades, and professions, and even to personal traits and characteristics.

The name Tefft has undergone the usual changes in spelling, being variously written Tefft, Teffe, Tifft, and Tift. It is of Saxon origin,[1] and means "the place where a house has stood." The theory advanced by some that it is the anglicized form of the French "Thevet" is probably fanciful, and without historical warrant, for the name appears in early Saxon annals, and its origin and meaning are attested by William Arthur[2] and other etymological authorities.

The first persons of the name in America were William and John Teffe, or Tefft, the former of whom settled in Boston not later than 1635, and the latter in Portsmouth, Rhode Island. It is probable that these brothers were accompanied by a sister Sara, for there stood until recent years on Cole's farm, near Cole's Station, Warwick, Rhode Island, a memorial slab. with the following inscription: "Here lieth ye bodie of Sara Tefft, interred March 16, 1638." This stone is now in the possession of the Rhode Island Historical Society, and is the oldest monumental slab in the state.

Rhode Islander and Tefft Family Genealogist/Historian Note:

Tefft family researcher and Rhode Islander, Anthony Craig Tefft, a neighbor of Tefft Hill in South Kingston, Rhode Island, where John Teffe and Mary Barber settled has found colonial information and corroborated it which dramatically changes what has long been accepted about Sara Tefft. Sara Tefft, as previously believed, was not the sister of William and John Teffe. Nor did she die as early as 1642.

Anthony Craig Tefft, after six years of research, published (March 15, 1998) an article finding that Sara Tefft actually died in 1672, 30 years after the 1642 date. The finding means that Rhode Island Historical Society held gravestone is no longer the oldest marked stone in the United States. That distinction is now held by either Massachusetts or Connecticut, for each has a gravestone dated 1644.

According to Craig's research, Sara's presence in Warwick, Rhode Island, was a mystery since she was supposedly there "7 months before the first settlers purchased land there." Sara was the illegitimate daughter of John Greene Jr of Warwick who was elected Deputy Governor of the colony in 1690. In court records, Craig found that "Sara Greene was called to answer charges of fornication." She avoided four sessions before magistrates and her father paid the 40-Shilling fine. Sara married Thomas Flounders circa 1668. In 1670, Flounders beat Walter House to death over a land dispute. Thomas was captured in Rhode Island, tried, and convicted of manslaughter (a felony) and executed November 1670.

A young widow, Sara Flounders married Joshua Tefft. They had a son Peter and Sara died March 16, 1672, two days following his birth.§ See #4, page 8.

It will be observed by the reader of the following pages that the Tefft's were an intensely patriotic family, their names frequently appearing on the rosters of regiments in the Colonial, Revolutionary, and 1813 wars.

[In addition, the Civil and Spanish American wars, World Wars I and II, the Korean Conflict, Vietnam, Persian Gulf the War, and Serbia Civil War]. They were equally prominent in civil affairs, holding both local and state offices, sometimes for very many years. In religious faith they were generally Baptists, the prevailing sect in Rhode Island, a faith to which many of their descendants are loyal to the present time.

There was a large emigration from Rhode Island, to Washington county, New York, in 1766, Nathan, Nathan Jr, William, and Asa being the first of the name in that quarter. Other Tefft's penetrated into Vermont, some remaining but a short time and removing to Erie county, New York, while others remained permanently, the family name being still perpetuated there.

[1] The New World Book of Teffts, Halbert's Family Heritage, Bath, Ohio 1998, p. 4 suggests the Tefft surname can be associated with the Dutch and means "descendant of Theudofrid (prince of peace)," according to onomastic research. They do, however, acknowledge that they may be other derivations and meanings. The editor subscribes to the etymological information attested in the original 1904 publication of The Tefft Ancestry.

The first immigrants were:

A. William Teffe (Tefft), b. ~1590; d. ~1647; m. 1st _____; m. 2d Ann(a) _____, b. ~1590.

+1. John Tefft, b. ~1614; d. ~1679; m. ~1645, Mary Magdaline Barber, b. ~1618; d. 1679.

William (#A) and John (#1) were sons of Thomas Teffe and Sarah _____. Thomas was born circa 1561 in Appleby, England. William and John were born there as well.

William Tefft and wife Ann(a) were in Boston in 1638. William was admitted a freeman in June 2, 1641. He joined the church William Wilson Pollock (2.57) August 2, 1640, and, recorded his will May 1, 1646, in Boston. John Tefft, brother of William (A) were sons of William Tefft and Ann _____, born in England.

A1. William Teffe (Tefft) & 1st wife Ann(a) _____ had:

A2. John Teffe, b. _____ (England), d. _____.

+A3. Lydia Teffe, b. 1631 (England), d. _____, m. John Deeble[3] _____, and had son Abraham, b. _____, who removed from Boston to Haddam, Connecticut.

William Teffe (#A1), the son of Thomas and Sarah _____ Teffe, was born circa 1590 in Appleby, England. His first wife (name unknown) was born in England. It is guessed that the first wife died giving birth to Lydia, however that is not confirmed. Ann or Anna born in Buckingham, England circa 1590, was William's second wife. William and Anna may well have married before coming to America. They emigrated from England circa 1633; settled in Boston, and carried on the tailoring business. He was made a freeman December 24, 1638, and his wife Anne was admitted to the church on August 2, 1640. They had no children. The date of William's death hasn't been found.

Boston town records indicate that Williams was "admitted to inhabit, 24 Deer, 1638 and to buy the house of Jacob Wilson, sawyer. Drake's "Boston" shows his name was sometimes spelled "Teft." (pp. 241, 245, 787, & 798)

In presence of Thos. Leverett, John Harrison, John Ingolsby.

Testified before the Governor (Mr. No)well, Mr. Hibbins by Thos. Leverett and John Harrison. 2. (9) 1648. Copia Vera.

This will was entered and recorded November 23, 1672.

Widow Anna married Deacon Henry Allen, carpenter and housewright, whose residence was in Weymouth, and his business in Boston. She died March 8, 1673.

[4] Probably refers to a Step-Mother, i.e. a Mother -in, or at law.

[5] This presumes a testamentary guardian, his daughter then being a minor, under 20.

[6] John Teffe [Tefft]'s eldest child was a daughter (#2) who married Samuel Wilson; Joshua (#3) was the eldest son.

1. John Tefft [Teffe] & Mary Magdaline Barber had:

+3. Joshua Tefft, b. ~1641; d. January 18, 1676; m. ~1708, Sarah (Greene) Flounders,[7] b. ~1650; d. March 16, 1672.

+5. Tabitha Tefft, b. 1653; d. 1722; m. February 13, 1670, George Gardiner II, b. 1647; d. 1724.

John Tefft (#1), born about 1614 emigrated from England presumably with his brother William (#A1), settled temporarily in Boston, and removed thence to Portsmouth, Rhode Island, where according to Capt. Oliver's letter he died January 26, 1676. John's will, however, was not proved until 1679, giving rise to the belief that his death may have been as late as 1678 or 1679. John moved, sometime between 1662 and 1670 to Tower Hill on the mainland. This area is what became Kingstown, later South Kingstown.[8]

On July 3, 1656, it was ordered by the town officers that "John Teft should haue 13-6-8 peage 6 P. white penny or black 3 P penny, to keepe auld John mott this yeare for dyat lodging washing and looking to beadde the Cowe and the Corne that auld man's son adam is engaged to giue."

At a Town Meeting on November 30, 1657, it was ordered that William Carrie and John Teifft (sic) shall be supplied with plantinge land on hoge Hand & to injoy to the tearme afore-sd"

He was made a freeman in 1655, a civil and political status which insured one a share in the common land, giving him also the right of suffrage on condition of owning a freehold estate of not less than $134. He is recorded as a resident of Pettaquamscutt in May 1671. In his will he left to Samuel Wilson, his son-in-law, his new dwelling-house and twenty acres of land. To his wife, Mary, he bequeathed his cattle, two oxen, two cows, two yearling steers, eight swine kind, a ewe and a lamb. and all other movables; to his son Samuel, two shillings; to son Joshua, one shilling; to his daughter Tabitha, one shilling, and an iron pot after his wife's decease. His debts to the amount of £1. 3s were paid equally by Samuel Wilson and son Joshua.

John married Mary Barber, daughter of James Barber around 1645. Mary, born circa 1618, died in November 1679. Joshua (#3) was designated in John's (#1) will to pay his debts.

[7] Sarah Deible was a Wampanoag Indian and according to The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) Sarah's surname was variously given as Deeble and Pindar.

2.6. John Wilson. No children.

Mary Tefft (#2) was the daughter of John (#1) and Mary (Barber) Tefft. Samuel and Mary Wilson resided in New Shoreham and South Kingston, Rhode Island. Samuel was born in 1622 and died in August 28, 1683, after being cursed by his neighbor for denying he had set his dog against the neighbor's cattle. [10]

3. Joshua Tefft & Sarah (Greene) Flounders had:

+6. Peter Tefft Sr, b. March 14, 1672; d. bet. January and November 1719; m. 1st ~1699, Sarah Witter, b. February 9, 1679; d. ~1703; m. 2d ~1704, Mary Tefft (#14). [Orphaned, Peter was raised by his uncle, Samuel (#4) and Elizabeth (Jenckes) Tefft.]

Joshua Tefft (#3) was the son of John (#1) and Mary (Barber) Tefft. Joshua resided in Kingston, Rhode Island. He was captured while fighting on the Indian [Native American] side during King Philip's War. Roger Williams writes thus to Governor Leverett, of Massachusetts, January 14, 1676: "This night I was requested by Capt. Fenner and other officers of our town to take the examinations and confession of an Englishman who hath been with the Indians both before and after the fight. His name is Joshua Tift, and he was taken this day by Capt. Fenner at an Indian house half a mile from where Capt. Fenner's house (now burned) did stand. He was asked how long he had been with the Narragansetts, and answered twenty-seven days, more or less. He said he was at his farm a mile and a half from Pettaquamscutt where he hired an Indian to keep his cattle, himself proposing to go to Rhode Island, but the day he prepared to go a party of Indians came and told him he must die. He begged for his life, and promised he would be servant to the Sachem for life, and his life was given him as such slave. He was carried to the fort where were eight hundred fighting men. His eight cattle were killed. He said he was in the fort and waited on the Sachem till the latter was wounded, of which wound he died some days afterward.

At the court martial a soldier testified that he had seen Joshua fire at the English several times, but he was not able to certify that any shot took effect. Looking at this matter dispassionately, one might say in charity that Joshua may have fired blank cartridges, and under compulsion. The witness must have had remarkable eyesight to have singled out an individual marksman at the probable distance.

The really serious charge brought against Joshua was that he was a heathen, not having attended the Baptist services for several months, and, incidentally, that he had married a Wampanoag squaw. Roger Williams had perhaps forgotten his own experience at the hands of the Massachusetts Puritans, and that compulsory attendance on Divine Service sent him to Rhode Island, to enjoy the religious and personal liberty which he denied to Joshua Tefft.

So the latter was executed. Legend states Joshua's remains were placed on the Congdon farm gatepost.

If Joshua's story were true (and it was never disproved), he was an unwilling slave, and not a rebel soldier. He was executed January 18, 1676, a sentence that was considered pleasing to God.

Sara died March 16, 1672. Peter, an orphan at age 4, was placed under the guardianship of his uncle, Samuel Tefft (#4) and Elizabeth (Jenckes) Tefft. He was eventually adopted by them.

According to Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743)'s 1997 The Descendants of John Tefft (1614-1676) Joshua married Sarah Dieble. This compiler does not know if Sarah Flounders and Sarah Dieble is the same person. Craig Anthony's genealogical research indicates that William Tefft's daughter Lydia married a Mr. Dieble from Connecticut.

18. Mercy Tefft, b. August 9, 1696; d. bef. 1725; Unmarried.

Samuel Tefft (#4) was the son of John (#1) and Mary (Barber) Tefft. He was born in 1644 in Portsmouth, Rhode Island, and died after March 16, 1725 in South Kingston. Samuel resided in Kingston, Rhode Island, where he was a freeman in 1682. He was fined 20s. for not attending Jury of General Court of Trials, but this fine was remitted the following year because he had not been duly summoned by the General Sergeant. He and twenty-six others bought, on June 28, 1709, the tract called Swamptown, a portion of vacant lands in Narragansett. He died in 1725 and his will was proved December 20, 1725. His estate inventoried at £1,01, 2s. 8d., a considerable one for those days, itemized as follows: Wearing apparel, sword, 11 cows, 4 oxen, 4 steers, 4 yearlings, 5 calves, 121 sheep, 5 mares, 3 horses, 15 swine, 2 linen wheels, 2 spinning wheels, worsted combs, 6 beds, 2 warming pans, cider, cidermill, 22 geese, silver, and £155 in bonds.

Elizabeth was sister of Joseph Jenckes III., Deputy Governor of Rhode Island, from 1715 to 1727. She was born in 1652 in Lynn, Massachusetts and died in April 1740 at South Kingston, Rhode Island, leaving an estate of £401, 12s. Elizabeth's parents were Joseph Jenckes Jr (1632-1717) and Esther Ballard (1633-1695). Her father was a man of extraordinary mechanical genius, and he cut the die for the first issue of the "Pine Tree Shilling." (Joseph Perry Tefft I (#1707) indicates that Elizabeth was born in 1658.)

Samuel and Elizabeth took guardianship of their nephew Peter, son of Joshua Tefft and Sarah Green Flounders, in 1676 and eventually adopted him. Samuel treated Peter as his own son. In his will: "I give my Grand Son, Daniel, son to Peter, deceased [1719] the sum of Twenty pounds if he lives in My family where now live till he arrives to the age of Twenty one Years which is to be paid by My Executrix."[12]

[11] Robert G. King, husband of Dorothy Alyce Duke (#1279.15) has provide the names of Peter (#8) and Solomon (#9) and their twin relationship (November 22, 2009).

[12] According to information from Timothy N. Tefft (#3066), Maine: Sarah was baptized at the First Sabbatarian church in Newport, Rhode Island, in 1679.

[13] Information from Elder John Crandall of Rhode Island and his Descendants (1949), John Cortland Crandall.

[14] Timothy N. Tefft (#3066) indicates Mary may have been unmarried. Mary Newton is mentioned in Samuel's will but is probably the widow of Peter Tefft, who died in 1719. In the will, Samuel mentions his daughters Elizabeth Carpenter, Esther Mumford, and Mary Newton in one item. Then in the next two items Samuel names his daughter Mary Tefft. It seems more reasonable that Samuel's daughter married Matthew Newton and it is she who is referred to in the "one item," while "daughter Mary Tefft" might be nephew and adopted son) Peter's widow. From information provided by Timothy N. Tefft (#3066), Maine.

Tabitha (#5) was the daughter of John (#1) and Mary (Barber) Tefft. She was born in 1653, in Portsmouth, Rhode Island, and died sometime after October 29, 1722, in Rhode Island. Tabitha married George Gardiner II on February 13, 1760. George was the son of George I and Herodias (Long) Wicks Gardiner. Tabitha died in or after 1722 and George in 1724.

26. Jonathan Tefft, b. October 18, 1718; d. 1751; m. June 29, 1740, Mary Bailey (Westerly, R.I.).

Peter Tefft (#6) was the son of Joshua (#3) and Sarah (Greene) [Flounders] Tefft. He was born March 14, 1672, in South Kingston, Rhode Island. Sarah was born February 9, 1679, in Westerly, Rhode Island. Peter resided in Westerly, Rhode Island, and Stonington, Connecticut, where his youngest son was born, and where Peter died in 1725. Sarah was the daughter of Josiah Witter and Sarah Crandall. Sarah's grandparents were William and Hannah (Churchman) Witter and Rev. John Crandall.

A bond was issued against Mary Tift [Sarah Witter Tefft], widow of Peter Tift, by the New London Probate Court in November 1719, which suggests Peter died sometime that year (1719).

According to Rev. Charles H. W. Stocking, D. D. in The Tefft Ancestry (1904), Peter Tefft's spouse was Mary _____ (Family genealogists, Rhode Islander Craig Anthony among them, suggest that Peter's second wife Mary ____ was a cousin.) Mary (#14) the daughter of Samuel (#4) and Elizabeth (Jenckes) Tefft fits the time period and locality. Thus, this compiler speculates that Mary Tefft (#14) was, in fact, Peter's second wife and mother of six children and stepmother of two issue. After Peter's death in 1719 Mary then married second husband Matthew Newton in 1725 bearing 11 children.

[16] Freelove Palimeter [m. Daniel Tefft (#24)] and Jonathan Palimeter [m. Sarah Tefft (#25)] may have been brother and sister.

39. Elizabeth Tefft, m. _____ Skellie.

John Tefft (#7) was the son of Samuel (#4) and Elizabeth (Jenckes) Tefft. He married Joanna Sprague in 1698. Residence, South Kingston, Rhode Island. Joanna died in 1757. John, probably born in 1676, died in South Kingston, Rhode Island, in 1760.

John's estate inventoried at £6,148, 16s. 7D. which was divided among his children and grandchildren. Wife Joanna was daughter of Jonathan and Mehetable (Holbrook) Sprague. She was born in 1676 and died in 1757. Following Joanna Sprague's death, about 1757, John married Virtue Wightman on December 25, 1757 in South Kingston, Rhode Island. Children from that union are not known. Virtue died about 1768.

[17] Marcy Barber, wife of Samuel (#29) and Benjamin, husband of Mary (#30) were the daughter and son of Moses Barber and Susannah West. Marcy may well have been known as Mary.

[18] According to note by Mazie Tefft, Greenwich, N. Y. circa 1950 Mercy (#32) & James (#33) were twins.

[19] Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) notes that Tabitha Tefft (#36) married Tennant Tefft (#43) son of Samuel Tefft (#11) and Abigail Tennant. According to Rev. Stocki*ng (The Tefft An*cestry) Tennant married a Tabitha, last name not noted. Also, Stocking indicates Tabitha with unknown first name James.

11. Samuel Tefft & Abigail Tennant had:

+40. Samuel Tefft, b. January 19, 1712; d. April 11, 1784; m. Mary _____ [Barber?].

Mary Tefft (#30) was the daughter of John (#7) and Joanna (Sprague) Tefft. She was born in 1705 and died September 3, 1782. Mary married Benjamin Barber January 11, 1729. Benjamin was the son of Moses & Susannah (West) Barber. After Mary's death he married second Mary Perry, daughter of Benjamin & Susannah
(Barber) Perry. Mary died in Rhode Island.

[31] Peleg and Robert Kenyon were brothers. Parents were David (1693-1772) and Marcy ( ??-aft. 1761) Kenyon.

Joseph Tefft (#31) was the son of John (#7) and Joanna (Sprague) Tefft. His life spanned January 8, 1710, to February 22, 1792. He and Esther Brownell were married on February 22, 1729. Residence, Richmond, Rhode Island. Esther, the daughter of Thomas and Esther (Taber)[36] Brownell, was born February 22, 1706, and died February 25, 1806, at age 100.

[32] There is a John Sheldon who is reported to have married Elizabeth Webb (#28.2), daughter of Joanna (#28) Tefft and John Webb. It is unknown whether one or the other entry is erroneous, if same man was married to both Elizabeth's, or if one of the Elizabeth entries is incorrect.

[33] Mary Kenyon [m. William Tefft Sr (#97)] and Thomas Kenyon [m. Ruth Tefft (#99)] were sister and brother and siblings of Robert and Peleg [See note 31 above.].

[34] Sarah (#103) is noted in Rev. Stocking's The Tefft Ancestry (1904), but not in Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743)'s The Descendants of John Tefft (1997). Maria Maxon Tifft A Partial Record of the Descendants of John Tefft of Portsmouth, Rhode Island and the Nearly Complete Record of the Descendents of John Tifft of Nassau, New York, also refers to Sarah. Esther (#101), born February 10, 1706, died after June 24, 1778.

[35] Sarah (#103) was not included in Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743)'s list of issue. According to Timothy N. Tefft (#3066), Lisbon Falls, Maine, Sarah (#103) is named as Sarah Pilman in Joseph's (#31) will along with his grandson Edward Pulman.

[36] According to Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), Esther Brownell's mother was Esther Taber. Timothy N. Tefft (#3066), Lisbon Falls, Maine, also confirms this.

32. Mercy Tefft & Rev. James Rogers Sr had:

+32.1. Thomas Rogers, b. 1745; d. September 20, 1816; m. Abigail _____, b. 1748; d. March 4, 1727.

+32.2. James Rogers Jr, b. 1746; d. 1792; m. Nancy Tefft [Mercy Tefft?] (#115), b. December 14, 1749; d. April 18, 1837.

+32.4. Susannah Rogers, b. March 1, 1745; d. ??; m. Alexander Case, b. November 19, 1747; d. 1800.

Mercy Tefft (#32) was the daughter of John (#7) and Joanna (Sprague) Tefft. She was born circa 1712. Rev. James Rogers removed from Newport, Rhode Island, to New York state at the mouth of the Batten Kill, on the estate still once owned by his great grandson, A. Y. Rogers. A historic interest attaches to this farm, since from it Gen. John A. Burgoyne's British forces crossed the Hudson river on their march towards Albany, and [it is] here the Americans [Colonists] blocked his retreat, compelling his surrender at Saratoga, October 17, 1777, [to Gen. Horatio Gates].

Rev. Mr. Rogers died May 25, 1775, age 56. He served in the ministry for 32 years. Wife Mercy died March 25, 1781, age 69. Mercy and James are buried Rogers cemetery, Moreau, N.Y.

"Mazie" Huggins Tefft (w#1860), sister-in-law of Oscar W. Tefft (#1807), noted about 1950 that Mercy Tefft Rogers and husband Rev. James had a daughter, Margaret (#32.3) in Rev. Stocking's The

Tefft Ancestry (1904). [James Jr was #117, Thomas #118, and Margaret #119½ according to Rev. Stocking's accounting.]

33. James Tefft Sr & Martha Sheffield had:

105. James Tefft Jr, m. February 6, 1772, Mary Wescott.
106. Gideon Tefft.
+107. George Tefft, b. January 16, 1754; d. 1804; m. Mary _____.

110. Martha Tefft, m. John Whitford, b. ~1700; d. ~1782.
111. Mary Tefft.
112. Patience Tefft.

James Tefft (#33) was the son of John (#7) and Joanna (Sprague) Tefft. James, born April 21, 1715, in Washington county, Rhode Island, and died in 1758. When James married Martha is unknown. Martha was born September 29, 1719, and died in South Kingston, Rhode Island, in 1758. Mary Wescott [married James Tefft Jr (#105)] was the daughter of Caleb and Hannah (Gardiner) Wescott.

34. Judge Nathan Tefft & 1st wife Isabel Stanton had:

+113. Stanton Tefft, b. July 9, 1744; d. July 28, 1811; m. July 17, 1776, Mehetable Rogers (#35.2), b. October 3, 1745; d. September 19, 1836.
+114. Isabel Tefft, b. March 14, 1746; d. December 19, 1833; m. Caleb Tefft Sr (#133), b. October 11, 1743; d. December 31, 1833.
+115. Nancy Tefft[37] [Mercy Tefft?], b. December 14, 1749; d. April 18, 1837; m. James Rogers Jr (#32.2), b. 1746; d. 1796.
+116. Nathan Tefft Jr, b. August 28, 1752; d. September 18, 1828; m. Dorcas Babcock, b. December 12, 1753; d. July 10, 1819.
117. John Tefft, b. March 13, 1756.
+118. Mary Tefft, b. May 2, 1758; d. July 1, 1837; m. January 20, 1786; Nathan Cottrell, b. April 11, 1764; d. August 8, 1842.
+119. Sarah Tefft, b. August 14, 1762; d. October 13, 1813; m. September 12, 1782, Asa Crandall, b. September 30, 1759; d. August 12, 1825.

Judge Nathan Tefft (#34) was born in South Kingston, Rhode Island, on March 14, 1717, in Kingstown, Rhode Island. He died April 3 {18?], 1789, in Easton, Washington county, New York.

Nathan and Isabel married on September 16, 1742, in South Kingstown, Rhode Island. Isabel, daughter of Thomas and Susannah Stanton, was born August 13, 1716, and died June 12, 1777, in Washington county, New York. His second wife was Dareis Sheldon, widow of Isaac Sheldon. She was born February 12, 1718. They married after 1777. "Judge" Nathan removed from Rhode Island, to Easton, Albany, New York, traveling on horseback. He passed through trackless forests where neither path nor road existed, being guided by marks cut in trees, passing through Petersburg Valley as far up as Cambridge and thence across to Washington county, New York.

His son Stanton,[38] a surveyor, accompanied him, and laid out the tract of land now embracing the Roger's, Collamer's, Richardson's, Parker's, Babcock's, Tefft's farms. One year later Nathan brought his family to Galesville [Middle Falls], New York, and built a saw mill, the first on the Batten Kill. His untiring industry and wise management were rewarded with success, and he left a comfortable estate to his children.

Wife Isabel was born August 13, 1716, and died in 1777. Nathan married E. Dareis (Dorcas) Sheldon. After Nathan's death Dorcas married Capt. John Rogers, husband of Mehetable (#35). He died April 3, 1789.

Judge Nathan was Justice of the Court of Common Pleas for Kings county, 1763 and 1764. He was Lieutenant of the Third Co. Militia, Col. Pendleton's Regiment, in [to] 1750 and 1753; Captain in [to] 1753 and 1754. Judge Nathan (#34) was the son of John (#7) and Joanna (Sprague) Tefft.

[37] Nancy (#115) had been erroneously identified as Mercy.

[38] Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) speculates: page 21, The Descendants of John Tefft [1614-1676] (1997), that Simon might have been a son by Nathan and Dorcas. However, there is no other mention of Simon, the surveyor, as Judge Nathan's son except here. The confusion may be because son Stanton was a surveyor, who accompanied his father on the move to Washington co., New York.

35. Mehitable Tefft & Capt. John Rogers Sr[39] had:

35.1. Elizabeth Rogers, m. 1st December 23, 1757/9, Lieut. Josiah Rogers;[39] m. 2d_____James.

+35.2. Mehitable Rogers, b. October 3, 1745; d. September 19, 1836/7; m. ~1765, Stanton Tefft (#113), b. July 9, 1744; d. July 25, 1811.

35.3. Sarah Rogers, b. 1748; d. October 30, 1828 (age 80); m. 1st Elisha Bentley, b. 1730; d. February 26, 1798; m. 2d Daniel Rose.

35.7. Oliver Rogers.

+35.8. Tabitha Rogers, b. October 15, 1759; d. March 5, 1841; m. Samuel Sheldon,[40] b. April 15, 1742; d. August 12, 1834.

Mehetable Tefft (#35) was the daughter of John (#7) and Joanna (Sprague) Tefft. Born February 12, 1718, she died in 1797. Capt. John Rogers of Newport, Rhode Island, was a brother of Rev. James Rogers who married Mercy Tefft (#32).

Lieutenant Josiah Rogers who married Elizabeth Tefft (#35.1) emigrated from England. He served in the French and Indian Wars and was a prisoner on Block Island in 1777.

Amy Bronson wife of James Rogers (#35.5) is said to have been a half-breed Indian, an adopted daughter of a Bronson family residing in Princeton, New Jersey.

Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), provides given name as Mehetable, while Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) indicates the spelling as Mehetable.

It is said that Capt. John Rogers was a member of the Committee of Safety for the district of Saratoga in 1777. He was one of the original Rhode Island, settlers of the Batten Kill valley and was buried here. The tombstone has disappeared. In addition, Capt. John Rogers was brother of Samuel Rogers, who settled on the Col. Thompson farm in Easton; and of Harper, who settled in Mapletown, Town of Hoosick, Rensselaer county. Of these five brothers, John and James married sisters of Judge Nathan Tefft, the original settler of Galesville, now Middle Falls, New York. The other three, married nieces of these two sisters, according to town and village of Greenwich Historian Jane Haverly from about 1960 until about 1980.

[39] How, or even if, Captain John Rogers Sr and son-in-law, Lieutenant Josiah Rogers [m. Elizabeth Rogers (#35.1)] are related is unknown.

[40] Benajah Sheldon [m. Mary Rogers (#35.6)] and Samuel Sheldon [m. Tabitha Rogers (#35.8)] may have been brothers.

Ebenezer Tefft (#45) was the son of Samuel (#11) and Abigail (Tennant) Tefft. Born February 14, 1724, at South Kingston, Rhode Island, he died April 21, 1808. Lydia, born in 1720, was the daughter of John and Lydia (Whaley) Sweet. The marriage was on November 6, 1746, at South Kingston.

[44] The relationship of James [m. Abigail (#134)], Mary [m. James (#135)], and Jeremiah Gardner [m. Mary (#121)] is not known (i.e. brothers or cousins).

46. David Tefft & _____ had:

137. Mary Tefft.
138. Elizabeth Tefft.
139. David Tefft.

David Tefft (#46) was the son of Peter Jr (#19) and first wife Ann (Spicer) Tefft. He was born about 1719 and died May 11, 1816, at age 97. He resided in Cranston, Rhode Island, and marched on alarm in August of 1757. The Cranston Council called because Elizabeth (#138) was single and pregnant with "bastard child." The case was rested February 25, 1769, no knowing "any other place of residence" for Elizabeth.[45]

47. Peter Tefft III & Sarah Barnes had:

John Tefft was born in Providence, Rhode Island. John (#52) was the son of Peter Jr (#19) and third wife Sarah (Callam) Tefft. He was a shoemaker and tanner. He removed to Smithfield, Rhode Island, and thence to Vermont, where he became one of eleven pioneers who settled the northeastern part of the township of Huntington, about 1794. Wife Mary, daughter of Winchester and Mercy (Herendon) Mathewson, was from Gloucester (?), Rhode Island [Mass.??]. Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), shows spelling of Mary's surname as "Matheson." Mathewson agrees with Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997).

[46] Rev. Stocking noted that Royal was sometimes spelled Rual or Rial.

John Tefft (#63) was the son of Samuel (#21) and Mary (_____) Tefft. He was born September 27, 1736, in Scituate, Rhode Island, and died circa February 1820, in Westerly, Rhode Island. John and Ann Crandall were married December 16, 1764, in Westerly, Rhode Island. Ann Crandall Tefft died about 1773. Anna was the daughter of Col. John and Esther (Lewis) Crandall. Rev. Stocking lists David (#185) as issue by both wives, Ann Crandall and Mary Lewis. Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) attributes David's parentage to John and Ann (Crandall) Tefft as does John Cortland Crandall. Stocking records David's birth as 1779 while Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) records 1773 for his birth. Mary Tefft's (#180) nickname: "Polly."

[47] Rachel Tefft indicates Mary (#180) Tefft's date of birth was August 1, 1765; Rev. Stocking recorded the 19th date.

[48] Lucy (#184) and David (#185) were twins according to information from Elder John Crandall of Rhode Island and his Descendants (1949), John Cortland Crandall.

Robert Tefft (#86) was the son of John Jr (#27) and Mary (Reynolds) Tefft. He was born May 25, 1732, in Richmond, Rhode Island, and died circa August 1771, at Exeter, Rhode Island. Robert married Abigail Tefft March 27, 1754, in Richmond, Rhode Island. Abigail (#120) was born December 24, 1731, in South Kingstown, Rhode Island. Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), lists Martha (RST#257) as daughter of Robert and Abigail and another daughter Martha (RST#258) born May 7, 1771, (same date) by second wife Martha Reynolds. Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry does not show a daughter, Martha, by first wife Abigail.

[50] Abigail Tefft, wife of Robert Tefft (#86) has not been conclusively identified. Abigail (#120), daughter of Samuel Tefft (#40) and Mary (?Barber?) Tefft was born December 24, 1731, while Robert's (#86) birth was May 25, 1732. According to this ancestry, however, she married James Gardner in 1771(?) and there is no record of another marriage for her. Abigail (#44), daughter of Samuel Tefft (#11) and Abigail Tennant Tefft, is also a candidate since she was born February 14, 1724; no mention of her marriage, however.

William Tefft (#97) was the son of Joseph (#31) and Esther (Brownell) Tefft. William was born February 28/29, 1731/32. William was Justice of the Peace by Royal appointment, in Richmond, Rhode Island, and one of a committee to purchase arms for the Militia. He served in the Commissary throughout the American Revolution. He was also elected a Deputy from Richmond. He removed to Town of Easton, Washington county, New York, in 1787 where he died November 28, 1822. His wife Mary was daughter of David and Mary (Sanford) Kenyon, born in Charlestown, Rhode Island, November 7, 1734, and died October 17, 1824, in Easton, New York. She was age 93. Mary Kenyon and William were married March 12, 1754, in Richmond, Rhode Island.

Hezekiah (#228) is listed by Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), however he may be misplaced. Timothy Nathan Tefft (#3066) in A Record of Some of the Descendants of John Tefft of Portsmouth and Pettaquamscutt, Rhode Island (2006) does not show Hezekiah as a son of William Tefft (#97) and Mary Kenyon.

[56] According to Timothy N. Tefft (#3066) Ruhamah James [m. David Tefft (#231)], and Elizabeth James [m. William Tefft Jr (#232)] were sisters; unknown if Davis James [m. Mary Tefft (#233)] is related to them.

98. Capt. Joseph Tefft Jr & 1st wife Sarah Maxon had:

237. Caleb Tefft, b. October 17, 1757; d. January 25, 1758.
+238. Mary [Marcy] Tefft, b. November 24, 1758; m. ~1776, Perry Watson, d. February 27, 1832.

+239. Taber Tefft Sr, b. March 3, 1761; d. November 8, 1834; m. 1st July 25, 1782, Sarah "Polly" Barber, b. April 17, 1762; d. 1796; m. 2d 1801, Hannah Ross, b. 1770; d. 1847.
+240. Jemima Tefft, b. July 10, 1763; m. Latham Johnson, d. aft. April 20, 1824.
+241. Joseph Tefft III, b. April 6, 1766; d. February 1, 1813; m. Abigail _____, b. ~January 17, 1768; d. March 28, 1813.

Captain Joseph Tefft (#98) was the son of Joseph (#31) and Esther (Brownell) Tefft. He had patriotic service during the American Revolution and was voted to receive from the state "the town's proportion of salt."[57] Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), indicates "Maxon"[58] spelling while Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), shows "Maxson." Sarah Maxon was born November 24, 1738, in Rhode Island, and died in 1778 in Washington county, Rhode Island.

Latham Johnson, husband of Jemima Tefft (#240) seems to have also been married to Alice Tefft (#244), Capt. Joseph Tefft's daughter by his second wife, Alice Albro.

[57] Historical Sketch of Town of Richmond, 1747-1876. James R. Irish, author as noted by Timothy Nathan Tefft (#3066).

Capt. Joseph Tefft Jr & 2d wife Alice Albro had:

+243. Anstice Tefft, b. April 1, 1773; d. ~1805/1806; m. John Kenyon, b. March 9, 1771; d. September 1831.
244. Alice Tefft, b. June 16, 1775; m. Latham Johnson.
+245. Samuel Albro Tefft Sr, b. September 27, 1778; d. November 7, 1820; m. Sarah Tefft (#252), b. April 10, 1775; d. September 13, 1839.

Resided in Richmond, Rhode Island. Alice Albro was the daughter of Samuel Albro, Exeter, Rhode Island. Captain Joseph and Capt. Potter were appointed, August 27, 1776, a committee to receive of the state, the town's proportion of salt. Joseph Jr, was Lieutenant of the Richmond Company, King's county Regiment, 1769 and Captain of the Providence Troop of Horse, 1770.

Latham Johnson, husband of Alice Tefft (#244) seems to have also been married to Jemima Tefft (#240), Capt. Joseph Tefft's daughter by his first wife, Sarah Maxon.

99. Ruth Tefft & Capt. Thomas L. Kenyon had:

99.1. Thomas Kenyon, m. Abby Brown.
+99.2. Phillip Kenyon, b. May 17, 1758; d. July 20, 1852; m. 1st March 13, 1780, Catherine Greene; m. 2d Ester Crandall (widow); m. 3d Sarah Kennedy.

+99.4. Patience Kenyon, b. January 12, 1763; m. 1st Whitman Wilcox Sr.; m. 2d Paul Rathbun.
+99.5. Sprague Kenyon, b. May 19, 1766; d. May 3, 1857; m. Mary Lillibridge (#95.6), b. 1767; d. October 18, 1845.
+99.6. Mary Kenyon, b. April 8, 1768; d. aft. 1850; m. Elnathan Terry.
+99.7. Pardon Kenyon, b. March 19, 1770; d. July 26, 1843; m. Mary Barber, b. July 15, 1774; d. May 24, 1860.
+99.8. David Kenyon, b. March 15, 1772; d. March 31, 1854; m. April 21, 1791, Hannah Kenyon.

Ruth Tefft (#99) was the daughter of Joseph (#31) and Esther (Brownell) Tefft. Resided in West Greenwich, Rhode Island. He was the son of David and Mary (Sanford) Kenyon. Thomas died September 11, 1811, in Wood River, Rhode Island. Ruth was a Mayflower descendant through her mother Esther (Brownell) Tefft.

In 1774 Thomas and Ruth and family lived in Richmond, Rhode Island. There were three males and one female over age 16, four males and three females under age 16. In 1770, Thomas was Captain of the Richmond Company of Militia (C.M.L., p. 288). Since he did not live to apply for pension for Revolutionary War service and, for the most part, Revolutionary War service was recorded in statements made in pension applications, it is not know for sure that Thomas served in the American War for Independence. It is, however, suspected that he did serve in the Revolution since Thomas retained Captaincy of the Militia Company, during the period of the American Revolution. Parties that actually served at the time of the taking of the military census, 1777, were not listed as such in the census records. Since his name was omitted, it is more than likely that Thomas was with his company which he had been made captain of some seven years prior.

100. Benjamin Tefft & Deborah Burdick had:

+246. Joanna Tefft, b. February 7, 1766; d. October 13, 1828; m. Caleb Barber Jr, b. November 25, 1764; d. ~July 22, 1849.
+247. Edward Tefft Sr, b. March 12, 1768; d. November 23, 1842; m. December 16, 1804, Nancy Turner, b. ~1783; d. October 8, 1863.
+248. Elizabeth Tefft, b. September 10, 1770; d. July 10, 1854; m. Enoch Hoxsie, b. July 17, 1769; d. May 22, 1822.

261. Ruth Tefft, b. July 12, 1794; d. October 22, 1826. Unmarried.

Thomas Tefft (#102) was son of Joseph (#31) and Esther (Brownell) Tefft. He was born November 10, 1845, in Richmond, Rhode Island, and died sometime after 1813. Thomas and Lydia were married December 10, 1772, in Richmond, Rhode Island. Lydia was born February 17, 1751, and died May 22, 1797, in Richmond, Rhode Island. Thomas was Town Clerk of Richmond, January 1777, to June 1813; Justice of the Peace, 1777 to 1793; Major of Washington county Militia, 1780; and Lieutenant Colonel in 1785 and 1788 of the Providence county Regiment. According to Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), Lydia Barber was daughter of Sarah Lillibridge (must be some other Sarah than (#88.1), the daughter of Patience Tefft (#88) and Edward Lillibridge or second marriage). [This reference does not track.] Resided in Richmond, Rhode Island.

103. Sarah Tefft & _____ Pulman had:

103.1. Edward Pulman, b. bef. 1778.

Sarah Tefft (#103) was daughter of Joseph (#31) and Esther (Brownell) Tefft. She was born August 24, 1747, in Richmond, Rhode Island. Her date of death isn't known nor when Sarah and Mr. Pulman were married. Vital dates for Pulman are unknown.

104. Samuel B. Tefft & Amie Gardiner[59] had:

262. George Tefft, b. May 7, 1772; d. December 10, 1773.

+263. Susannah Tefft, b. June 30, 1775; m. November 4, 1792, Lawton Foster, b. May 2, 1767; d. June 26, 1842.

273. Abigail Tefft,[61] b. March 1797; d. July 20, 1824; m. 1st _____ Smith; m. 2d Ezra Champion.

Samuel B. Tefft (#104) was son of Joseph (#31) and Esther (Brownell) Tefft. Samuel was born August 19, 1749, in Richmond, Rhode Island, and his death was on February 15, 1806, in Johnson, Providence county, Rhode Island. Amy was the daughter of George Gardiner, Jr. and Sarah (Boss) Gardiner, Richmond, Rhode Island. He and Amie (Amey) were married December 9, 1771, in Richmond, Rhode Island. She was born in 1753. Abigail (#272) was an addition to Rev. Stocking's, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), by Mazie Huggins Tefft about 1950. Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), lists Amy's surname as Gardiner while Rev. Stocking's, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), shows the surname as Gardner. Resided in Richmond, Rhode Island. Deputy to Legislature, 1776. Another record indicates Samuel was married to Annie Gardiner.

[59] Another record gives the name of Samuel's (#104) wife as Annie Gardner, according to The Tefft Ancestry, Rev. Charles H. W. Stocking, Lakeside Press, 1904.

[60] Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) indicates Elizabeth (#269) married Edward Edward Smith. A family note in Rev. Stocking's Tefft Ancestry indicates she married Chandler Tillotson.

[61] Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) doesn't show Abigail (#273), daughter of Samuel and Abigail (Gardiner) Tefft, however a family note provides the information included here.

107. Col. George Tefft & Mary _____ had:

283. Female Tefft.

Rev. Edmund Tefft (#109) was the son of James Sr (#33) and Martha (Sheffield) Tefft. He was born in Albany, Albany county, New York August 11, 1762, and died after 1782 . Mary Sweet was born in Albany county, New York in 1762, and died after 1782. Resided in Ballston [Ballston Spa], N. Y. (1790 census); Norway, Herkimer county, N. Y. (1800 census); and Remsen, Oneida county, N. Y. (1810 census). Edmund's location was Harpersfield, Ashtabula county, Ohio, according to the 1820 census.

Edmund was a Baptist minister. Most genealogy sites refer to him as Rev. Edmund Tefft. Some researchers spell his given name: "Edmond." Evidently sometime after 1820 Rev. Edmund and Mary Mercy (Swet) Tefft returned to Albany county, New York and reportedly had a church in Ballston Spa, which at that time was the county Seat and in Albany county. Today Ballston Spa is in Saratoga county. Saratoga county was formed out of Albany county in 1791. Both Rev. Edmond Tefft and Mary died in 1780 at Ballston [Spa], New York.

Stanton Tefft (#113) was the son of Judge Nathan (#34) and first wife Isabel (Stanton) Tefft. Removed from Richmond, Rhode Island, to Greenwich, New York, in 1763. Stanton served in the 13th Albany, New York, Regiment in the Revolutionary War. An engineer, he was Supervisor of the Town of Easton, New York, in 1794.

Stanton died July 25, 1811. Wife Mehetabel (#35.2) was daughter of Capt. John and Mehitable (Tefft) Rogers (#35). Mehetabel was born October 3, 1745 and died September 19, 1837. Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), indicates spelling as Mehetable while Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), and Timothy N. Tefft also uses Mehitable. In Middle Falls, Town of Easton, the Battenkill Country Club golf course now occupies much of the original Stanton Tefft farm. The Tefft cemetery is at the top of the hill behind the clubhouse.

[62] Rev. Stocking provides this date. Town of Greenwich, New York, Civil War records indicate the year 1865. Galesville cemetery stone indicates 1864.

63 A family note entry in Stocking indicates Nathan S. Tefft (#288) married a second time. The name isn't known, but I. V. H. Gill's historical notes on Greenwich, N. Y. suggest the widow Luther as the second wife. There were two children, John Putnam Tefft (#670) and Susan Tefft (#670).

32.12. Thomas Rogers, b. March 2, 1784; d. December 19, 1877; m. October 5, 1809, Betsey Merchant, b. May 5, 1788.

Nancy Tefft (#115) was the daughter of Judge Nathan Tefft (#34) and Isabel (Stanton) Tefft. James (#32.2) was the son of Rev. James Rogers and Mercy Tefft (#32). Resided Washington county, New York. They died in Town of Moreau, Saratoga county, and are buried in Rogers Family cemetery in Moreau. Nancy (#115) in previous ancestry publications was erroneously identified as Mercy.

[64] Date of birth suggests that James (#32.10) and Samuel (#32.11) were twins; unknown whether identical or fraternal.

Nathan Tefft Jr (#116) was born in Rhode Island, August 28, 1752, and removed to Greenwich, New York. Nathan Jr. was the son of Judge Nathan (#34) and Isabel Stanton. Nathan Jr died September 18, 1828., in Greenwich, Washington county, New York. Wife Dorcas was born December 12, 1753, and died July 10, 1819, in Easton, Washington county, New York. Nathan Jr died there in September 18, 1828 (Stocking). According to Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), Nathan Jr died September 16. Children beginning with Isabel (#114) were born in Easton, Washington county, New York. He was an original settler in Greenwich/Easton about 1767.

[65] John [m. Isabel (#293)] and Mitchell [m. Mary (#299)] Corliss were father and son. John was brother to Dr. Hiram Corliss of Easton and Union Village (Greenwich), N. Y. They were both sons of Nathan Corliss.

[66] A family note entry in Stocking indicates that Gardner T. Tefft (#294) married Sarah Burns instead of Sarah Havens. However, Havens is likely the correct maiden name and is still a very common name in Washington and Warren counties, New York.

118. Mary Tefft & Nathan Cottrell had:

118.1. John Cottrell, b. December 8, 1786; d. April 5,1791.

119.5. Asa Crandall Jr, b. August 19, 1794; d. ??.
119.6. Catherine Crandall, b. December 17, 1799; d. ??.
119.7. James Crandall, b. June 1805; d. ??.

Sarah Tefft (#119) was the daughter of Judge Nathan (#34) and Isabel Stanton. Sarah died October 13, 1844. Asa and Sarah were married September 12, 1782. Asa Crandall was the son of Simeon and Mary (Sweet) Crandall. Asa was born September 13, 1759, in Charlestown, Rhode Island and dies in the Town of Easton, Washington county, New York on August 12, 1825. According to John Cortland Crandall, Elder John Crandall of Rhode Island and his Descendants (1949), Asa was previously married to Phebe Taylor and Sarah was his second wife. Asa Crandall was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He removed from Rhode Island to Easton, New York in 1791. Daughter Sarah (#119.3) and James Stanton (#290) Tefft marriage noted in Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), by Mazie Huggins Tefft around 1950. The Crandall genealogy by John Cortland Crandall notes that Asa hand a son with first wife Phebe (Taylor) Crandall, John, born November 15, 1781. Children: Thomas (#119.1), Phebe (#119.2), Sarah (#119.3), and Mary (#119.4) were born in Charlestown, Rhode Island. Asa (#119.5), Catherine (#119.6), and James (#119.7) were born in Easton, Washington county, New York.

Oliver Tefft (#125) was the son of Samuel (#40) and Mary_____ Tefft. He was born March 22, 1743, in South Kingstown, Rhode Island, and died in 1831, at Edmeston, New York. Oliver and Deborah were married August 1, 1776, in Stonington, Connecticut. Wife Deborah was the daughter of David and Deborah (Tracy) Dewey. She was born May 18, 1748. Oliver served in Revolutionary War as Ensign of Kings and Kent counties, Rhode Island, Army of Observation.

127. Daniel Tefft & 2d wife Sara Gardiner had:

+312. Sarah Tefft, b. ~1774; d. March 10, 1859; m. Henry Hooper Holland, b. July 27, 1767; d. September 6, 1835.
+313. Lucretia Tefft, b. ~1776; d. bef. August 1820; m. March 1, 1796, Clark Whitehorne, b. 1773.
+314. Stephen Tefft, b. November 22, 1779;[67] d. October 16, 1844; m. October 16, 1808, Mary Browning, b. October 24, 1787; d. September 4, 1781.

+315. Lydia Tefft, b. May 29, 1779;[67] d. March 7, 1873; m. 1791, Joseph A. Adams, b. April 25, 1770.

Daniel Tefft (#127) was the son of Stephen Tefft (#42) and Amie (Gardiner) Tefft. He was born May 1, 1743 in South Kingston, Washington county, Rhode Island, and died September 1, 1818. Peter married circa 1801. She was born September 9, 1781. Resided Westerly, Washington county, Rhode Island. Resided South Kingston, Washington county, Rhode Island. Daniel's first wife, Sarah Hazard, was a first cousin of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry. Joseph A. Adams (m. Lydia Tefft #315) may well be same Joseph who married Mary Crandall (#15.3).

[67] The 1779 birth dates for Stephen (#314) and Lydia (#315) appear to be incorrect. It doesn't seem likely that they were born within four months of each other, unless they were twins and that does not appear to be the case. If the months and days are correct, perhaps Stephen was born in 1778 or Lydia in 1780.

128. Gardiner Tefft & Waity Eldred had:

316. Mary Tefft, b. February 4, 1772; d. February 9, 1819; m. 1832, John Caswell.

341. Phila Tifft.
342. Freelove Tifft, m. October 21, 1792, Joseph Brown.

Rufus Tifft (#142) was the son of Peter (#47) Tefft III and Sarah Barnes. He was born circa 1754 and was a Baptist Minister. It isn't known the circumstances of how or why Rufus changed the spelling from "Tefft" to "Tifft;" only that he did. The vital information about Mary isn't known either. They resided in Smithfield, Rhode Island. When he married second wife Sarah isn't known; nor any of her vitals. The best information so far seems to indicate the children were all by Mary and none by Sarah.

[70] Joanna [m. James (#337)] and Dennis Ballou [m. Mercy (#340)] may have been cousins.

He was born August 14, 1766, in Smithfield, Providence, Rhode Island, and died May 23, 1841, in Jacksonville, Lawrence county, Illinois. Royal Tefft removed with his brother John from Rhode Island, to Vermont. They were members of a pioneer party of eleven men who settled the township of Huntington in 1794. Royal conveyed land to one Hopkins in 1796. He married Eunice Jaquith in Vermont, July 19, 1787. Roots Web sources claim Royal's wife was Eunice Smith. They remained in Vermont, but a short time before removing to Erie county, New York. From his numerous real estate transactions recorded in Vermont, it is evident that he had liberal means and active business foresight which gave him prominence and influence. Royal later married Sarah Phelps on June 16, 1839, in Morgan county, Illinois. It may be that, even at about age 55 Willia (#375) is Willis W. Tefft who served in Civil War in Companies K & I, 33d Regiment, Illinois Infantry, though that seems unlikely. It also may be that Willis Tefft (#375) served in Civil War, in Company G, 17th Regiment, Iowa Infantry.

John Tifft (#210), son of Robert Tefft (#86) and Abigail Tefft (#120), was born February 19, 1758, in Exeter, Washington county, Rhode Island, and died April 26, 1813, Nassau, Rensselaer county, New York. Perhaps Abigail was (#44) the daughter of Samuel (#11) and Abigail Tennant Tefft. When Robert and Anna Vallette were married isn't known but was sometime before the birth of firstborn son, Robert (#440), in 1779. It is reasonable to guess they married in 1682 or 1678. Anna Vallett was the daughter of Jeremiah and Anna (Bissell) Vallett. Anna was born February 13, 1760. She died in Nassau, New York, March 23, 1834.

John Tifft removed with his wife and children in 1793, from Exeter, Rhode Island, to Nassau, New York, where he previously purchased a farm. The journey was made in winter, the family and household goods being conveyed in sleds. The hardships of such a journey for a mother with eight children, the eldest but fifteen years of age, and the youngest a babe in arms, can be readily be imagined. The route for much of the way lay through woods, the proper direction being given by marks on trees.

Storms and cold beset the brave pioneers, but they safely reached their destination in twenty-two days. The home which they planted in Nassau was the center of a domestic circle honored in life and regretted in death, and from which descended numerous posterity conspicuous for the sterling virtues inherited from their pioneer ancestors. John changed his name to Tifft, a spelling retained by his descendants. He died April 26, 1813. Wife Anna was the daughter of Jeremiah and Anna (Bissell) Vallett, of North Kingstown, Rhode Island. She died March 13, 1834.

[76] John (#210), the son of Robert Tefft (#86) and Abigail Tefft, for reasons unknown, changed the spelling of his surname to Tifft.

489. Susan Almeda Tefft, b. September 26, 1837 (Elgin, Ill.); d. May 3, 1842 (Elgin, Ill.).

Jonathan Tefft (#222) was born March 18, 1790, in Richmond, Rhode Island, the son of Jeremiah (#92) and Rhoda Hoxsie Tefft. He removed to Hanover township, (Elgin vicinity) Illinois, in 1835, where he purchased a farm from the United States government and remained on it until 1865 when he removed to Elgin, Illinois. When Jonathan settled in Elgin, Illinois in 1835 there was only one log house there according to information provided by Joseph Perry Tefft (#1707). It was there he enjoyed the ample fruits of his enterprise and industry. He died January 26, 1866. Wife Elizabeth was the daughter of Solomon and Sarah (Perry) Collins. They were married November 11, 1811. Elizabeth was born December 8, 1792, at Stonington, London county, Connecticut, and died August 24, 1856, in Elgin, Illinois, August 24, 1856.

Additional information was obtained from the Worldwide Web concerning Jonathan and three of his sons. According to Hanover Township history [Tefft Middle school near Elgin, Illinois] Jonathan Tefft (#222) and wife Elizabeth (Collins) Tefft, along with three sons, Joseph (#476), Jonathan Jr. (#479), and Thomas Wilbur (#483) moved there from Lebanon, Madison county, New York, in 1835. Hanover is 36 miles west of Chicago.

The Tefft family obtained the deeds to several farms in the area from the U. S. government. As neighboring Chicago grew, so did the prosperity of the Tefft farms. In 1850, when the Galena to Chicago Railroad began making regular runs through nearby Elgin, the Teffts took advantage of the new technology by shipping fresh dairy products to the burgeoning metropolis to the east.

Although they had many clients, their most famous was Jane Addams's Hull House. In addition to gaining wealth for themselves, the Teffts' success also contributed to the Elgin Board of Trade's nationwide dominance of milk and butter prices.

Following World War II, Hanover township began its transformation from a farming community to a suburban community with an easy commute to metropolitan Chicago. As the population grew, so did the area's need for educational facilities. In 1963 the decision was made to build a middle school serving Hanover township. In 1964 the Tefft Middle school opened, being named for one of the pioneering families of Hanover and recognizing the economic and civic contributions made by the Tefft family over the years. [83]

Late in life Jonathan married Mrs. Jerusha Goff. There are no known issue by this marriage.

[81] Rhoda Kenyon [m. Erastus (#480)] and Thomas Kenyon [m. Mary, a daughter included by Rev. Stocking, but not in this genealogy] may have been related (brother & sister), but not known. Rev. Stocking records Mary (listed by Stocking ahead of Thomas Wilbur), however Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) omits this daughter of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Collins) Tefft.

[80] Tamar [m. Eli Alonzo (#482)] and Alfred Hewitt [m. Minerva S. (#484)] may have been related (brother & sister), but that is not known.

David Tefft (#231) was the son of William (#97) and Mary (Kenyon) Tefft. He was born April 19, 1760, in Richmond, Washington county, Rhode Island, and died in Greenwich, Washington county, New York, March 14, 1843, age 85. A book on Greenwich cemetery burials puts the death of David in 1842. He married Ruhamah James, daughter of William and Elizabeth "Betsey" (Sabin) James, February 26, 1787. Residence in Greenwich, New York. David Tefft was placed on the pension roll of Washington county, New York, in 1832 for his service as Private and Sergeant in the Rhode Island line. He lost a leg in battle [Lineage book, D. A. R., volume XXIX]. He died March 13, 1843, age 83. Wife Ruhamah was born in 1769, in Richmond, Washington county, Rhode Island, and died December 12, 1854, in Greenwich, Washington county, New York. Ruhama was the daughter of William and Elizabeth (Sabin) James. Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) records Ruhamah's maiden name as Sabins. They were buried in Bottskill Baptist church cemetery.

Note: Oden B. Tefft (#512) is added as a probable son of David Tefft and Ruhama (James) Tefft. Genealogy and Family History of northern New York, Lewis Historical Publishing Co. (1910) speculates on page 342 that Oden B. Tefft was a son or nephew of William Tefft Sr (#97) and Mary Kenyon. This researcher/compiler believes it is more likely that William Jr (#232) was his father making William Sr (#97) a great-uncle and rather than uncle. Every instinct and name - date - location combinations give this assignment some degree of reasonability, if not credibility. Elizabeth's nickname was "Betsey."

[87] Eliza Woodard [m. David Sabin Tefft (#515)] is the sister of Lyman Woodard [m. Nancy Helen Maria Tefft (#517]. They are daughter and son of Amos Woodard Jr and Dolly Pifer.

Taber Tefft (#239) was the son of Captain Joseph Jr (#98) and first wife Sarah (Maxon) Tefft. Taber was born March 3, 1761, in Richmond, Rhode Island, and died November 8, 1834, in the Town of Greenwich, Washington county, New York. Buried in old cemetery behind the Tefft house. Most stones are gone and lost as of 2006. In 1969 there were about 20 stones.

Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), indicates "Maxon" spelling while Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), shows "Maxson."

Taber married Sarah Barber January 25, 1782, at Richmond, Rhode Island. She was the daughter of Caleb and Elizabeth (Niles) Barber. Sarah was born April 17, 1762, Rhode Island, perhaps Richmond. Her exact date of death isn't known but other than the year 1796. Taber next married second wife Hannah Ross sometime after 1786.

The Taber Tefft farm was on the North road, one-half mile north of the Beech Hill schoolhouse, between Greenwich, New York, and the south end of Lake Cossayuna. Taber also built the David Ryan, Beech Hill, house in 1802. Taber relocated from Richmond, Rhode Island, in 1785 to five miles northeast of Union Village (now Village of Greenwich), in the town of Greenwich where he bought 500 acres of land.

[89] Lydia Coon was first married to Joseph Ross Tefft (#544) and married Caleb (#550) after Joseph's death.

563. Anne Tefft, m. John Brown.
+564. Pardon R. Tefft, b. 1813; d. April 5, 1833; m. Caroline Clark.[92]
565. Alvira Tefft.[93]

Taber Tefft (#239) was born March 3, 1761, and died November 8, 1834, at the age of 76. Wife Sarah was born April 17, 1762. They removed from Richmond, Rhode Island, to Greenwich, New York. Hannah was born in 1770 and died in 1847; her gravestone has disappeared. Hannah Ross was the daughter of William I (1748 – 1832) and Mary (1753 – 1835) (Reed) Ross. They lived in Northumberland, Saratoga county, New York and are buried in Coffinger – Ross cemetery, Bacon Hill, Saratoga county, New York.

Many of the gravestones, a little north and east from the rear of the house, are in very bad shape. The farm house was probably built in the 1790's and has a center chimney with two fireplaces (kitchen on first floor and bedroom on second floor).

Second wife of Taber Jr (#556) given name is Anne (Stocking); Anna (Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743)). Betsey's (#557) husband's surname is noted by Mazie H. Tefft circa 1950 (Stocking) as Dwelle; Dwells (Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743)). Pardon R. (#564) added by Mazie H. Tefft note circa 1950 (Stocking). Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) places Alvira (#565) ahead of Pardon R. (#564) and Anne (#552) after him. I. V. H. Gill, onetime Greenwich, New York, historian gives the spelling "Dwellie." Tim Tefft, Argyle Men in the Revolution says spelling is "Dwelle."

Buried in the old Taber Tefft farm cemetery, behind and to the right of the house, were: Taber Tefft and first wife Sarah Barber, second wife Hannah Ross, and children as follows: Mercy Tefft Clark (#562), Pardon Tefft (#561) an infant, Pardon R. Tefft (#564), married Caroline Clark, James H. and Elizabeth H. Clark, children of Mercy Tefft and James R. Clark: Mary E. Clark, a female Clark, and a Male Clark.

Benjamin Tefft (#555) and all the children of Taber Tefft were contributed by Oscar Worthington Tefft, descendant of Taber Tefft (#239) to Rev. Charles V. H. Stocking for The Tefft Ancestry (1904) volume.

[90] Lydia Coon Tefft, widow of Joseph R. Tefft (#555) who died April 2, 1853, in Greenwich, N. Y. married Caleb Tefft (#550). Joseph (#555) was the son of Taber Tefft (#239) and Hannah Ross, while Caleb was the son of Taber Tefft (#239) and Sarah Barber.

[91] Betsey (#557) and Mary (#558) are very likely twins since they were born on the same day October 10, 1802.

[92] Unknown if James R. Clark [m. Mercy (#562)] and Carolyn Clark [m. Pardon R. Tefft (#564)] are siblings; brother and sister is a likely conclusion.

[93] According to Town of Greenwich, New York, vital records information, Alvira (#565) had an illegitimate daughter, Henrietta, b. September 28, 1848; d. October 14, 1848.

Joseph III (#241) was the son of Captain Joseph Jr (#98) and Sarah (Maxon) Tefft. Joseph was born April 6, 1766, and died February 1, 1813, Richmond, Rhode Island. The Newport, Rhode Island Mercury newspaper recorded the death of Col. Joseph Tefft, in Richmond, Rhode Island, "in the 47th year of his age; representative from that town in the General Assembly of this state." Joseph and Abigail were married. Abigail was born about January 17, 1768, and died March 28, 1813, in Richmond, Rhode Island. Resided in Richmond, Rhode Island.

Rev. Stock*ing, The Tefft An*cestry (1904), indicates "Maxon" spelling while Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), shows "Maxson." Mary (#562), listed by Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) maybe a misreading of the name Mercy (#563) on some stone or document and therefore a duplication. Jeremiah (#564), also listed by Rachel Tefft (w#2743), may also be a misreading of the name Jemima (#576) and therefore a duplication. Neither Mary nor Jeremiah are listed as children of Joseph III and Abigail ( _____ ) Tefft by Timothy Nathan Tefft (#3066).7

640. Harmony A. Tefft, b. ~1837 (Ill.); d. March 3, 1854, (Edgar, Ill.); m. March 27, 1853, Asa Tucker, b. June 14, 1831; d. August 29, 1919. (Co. C, 135th Ill. Vol. Inf., Civil War).

George Levie Tefft (#265) next married Harmony Mitchell in Vigo county, Indiana, on November 18, 1824. Harmony was born circa 1790, in Vigo county, Indiana, and died circa 1840. George next married third wife Mrs. Elizabeth Elam in Coles county, Illinois, on August 28, 1848. There were no children from the third marriage. Second and third marriage information is provided by genealogist Kathleen Isabel (Tifft) Cooper (#2698). What inspired the surname spelling change of Oliver Perry (#638) from Tefft to Tifft is unknown.

269. Elizabeth Tefft & Edward Edward Smith had:

+269.1. Elizabeth Smith, b. January 18, 1791; d. September 22, 1866; m. October 19, 1843, John Sellers Wood, b. August 28, 1818 (Penn.); d. 1894 (Sistersville, W. V.).

Elizabeth Tefft (#269) was the daughter of Samuel B. (#104) and Amy (Gardiner) Tefft. Elizabeth was born November 16, 1788, in Richmond, Rhode Island, and died November 1834 in Virginia. Edward died in New York.

270. Judge William A. Tefft[102] & Elizabeth Tremaine had:

+641. William Augustus Tefft, b. September 16, 1815; d. April 18, 1894; m. 1st December 25, 1839, Sarah Elizabeth Creel, b. August 16, 1823; d. February 26, 1850; m. 2d April 5, 1859, Emma Jane Tomlinson, b. March 6, 1843; d. July 8, 1888.

Judge William A. Tefft (#270) son of Samuel B. (#104) and Amie or Amey (Gardiner) Tefft. He was born October 3, 1791, in Richmond, Rhode Island and died February 22, 1850, at Parkersburg, Wood county, West Virginia. It seems, from information found on Wikitree (Internet source), that William first married Elizabeth Tremaine circa 1814, who bore most, if not all, the children. Elizabeth was born September 20, 1791, in Egremont, Berkshire county, Massachusetts, and died March 18, 1854, in Parkersburg, Wood county, West Virginia. She is buried in Riverview cemetery in Parkersburg.

Other sources indicate that William and Rebecca Loomis were married January 5, 1815. The marriage dates are therefore suspect requiring further data to substantiate. Rebecca was born September 30, 1797, in Bridgewater, Litchfield county, Connecticut, and died January 31, 1891. The place is not known, but maybe in West Virginia. Graveside information is unavailable from Internet genealogy sources. Some suggest that Rebecca is buried in Cincinnati, Ohio along with the above listed children. Cincinnati information has not been found to confirm her burial there. Rebecca's parents were Joseph and Lucy (Root) Loomis.

[102] William's (#270) relationship to Samuel B. (#104) and Amy (Gardiner) Tefft by Timothy N. Tefft (#3066) as a result of photographs of cemetery gravestones taken by Kathleen Tifft Cooper at Cincinnati, Ohio. The birth date on William's stone is October 3, 1791, the exact same date of birth as William Augustus Tefft Sr (Addenda #3021), who married Elizabeth "Betsey" Tremaine, b. 1791; d. May 18, 1854 and after leaving Otsego county, New York resided in Parkersburg, West Virginia. William Augustus died February 22, 1850, in Parkersburg, Wood county, West Virginia and is buried in Riverview cemetery, Parkersburg, Wood county, West Virginia. The editor wonders if there are two Williams with the same birth date from New York state, one who ended up in Cincinnati, Ohio; the other in Parkersburg, West Virginia. Are there different parents of each of the Williams? Or was there one William who led a double life?

271. William Tefft (Tift) & Rebecca T. Loomis had:

642. William Tift Jr., b. December 23, 1816; d. November 21, 1846.
643. Joseph Orlando Tift, b. September 22, 1820; d. October 1821.

William Tefft (#270), son of Samuel B. (#104) and Amie or Amey (Gardiner) Tefft. He was born October 3, 1791, in Richmond, Rhode Island and died March 7, 1868, at Cincinnati, Hamilton county, Ohio, at the age of 76. He was interred in Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio. From source cited information received from Tefft Genealogist Timothy Nathan Tefft (#3066), New Lisbon, Maine, William was born with the surname "Tefft" but later legally change his surname to "Tift." William married Rebecca, daughter of Joseph and Lucy (Root) Loomis, on January 5, 1815. Rebecca was born September 30, 1796, in New York state or Bridgewater, Litchfield county, Connecticut, and died January 31, 1891, in Cincinnati, Hamilton county, Ohio, at the age of 94. She is buried in Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati.

Caleb Tefft (#274), the son of Col. George Tefft (#107) and Mary Unknown, was born March 16, 1791, likely in Rode Island, possible Kingston, Washington county. Caleb died December 21, 1864, at Vernon, Tolland county, Connecticut. When he wed Mary Knowles is unknown. She was born March 2, 1796, in Kingston, Washington county, Rhode Island, and died November 16, 1857, at Vernon, Tolland county, Connecticut. Both along with some of their children are buried in Spring Grove cemetery, Hartford, Hartford county, Connecticut.

Sarah Tefft (#282), the daughter of Edmund (#109) and Mary (Sweet) Tefft. She was born (probably in western New York state and an area considered Indian country), September 22, 1780. She married Archelaus Parker on November 11, 1798, in Oneida county, New York. Archelaus was born in Sutton, Worcester county, Massachusetts, on August 22, 1777, and died September 13, 1869, in Blaine, Boone county, Illinois. Resided in Ashtabula county, Ohio in Harpersfield and vicinity.

284. Thomas S. Tefft & Nancy _____ had:

+659. Stanton Tefft, b. 1786; d. April 2, 1852; m. 1801, Clarissa Norton, b. 1787; d. June 11, 1852.

662. Sydney Tefft, b. 1798; d. October 11, 1837 (Mendon, Mich.).

Thomas Tefft (#284) was the son of Stanton (#113) and Mehetable (#35.2) Rogers Tefft. Thomas was born in Greenwich, New York, and presumably Nancy was also. They were married in 1785. They removed to Cayuga, New York, vicinity. After Thomas died August 24, 1828, Nancy may have removed temporarily back to Greenwich, New York, as she was listed as a resident in the 1830 census. Both are buried in Montezuma cemetery, Cayuga, New York. Nancy was born May 10, 1767. She died February 3, 1834.

Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), records the birth date for Jabish M. Tefft (#660) as March 4, 1790, while direct descendant Hans Hammer (#1832.28) provides the March 27, 1790, date.

[103] The information for this line, beginning with Jabish (#660) and following down through the Zimmerman and Hammer lines, was provided by Hans M. Hammer, P.O. Box 451411, Atlanta, GA 31145-9411 <www.bosmafamily.com> and <www.hammerfamily.biz>.

Mehetabel Tefft (#285) was the daughter of Stanton (#113) and Mehetabel (Rogers) Tefft. She was born August 25, 1769, in Galesville (now Middle Falls), Town of Easton, Washington county, New York. Her date of death was on April 21, 1840. The date of marriage for Mehetabel and Nathaniel was October 27, 1788, probably in Whipple City, later Union Village, and finally Greenwich Washington county, New York. Nathaniel, according to several Roots Web sources, was born June 13, 1763, in Pelham, Hillsboro county, New Hampshire, and his death occurred on April 19, 1844, in Lafayette, Tioga county, New York. Nathaniel's grave stone in Tioga county, New York indicates his Revolutionary War service.[104] Mona Caldwell,[105] provides erroneous information regarding birth of several children in Pelham, Hillsboro county, New Hampshire. and in the vicinity of Lafayette, Onondaga county, New York. Elaina Marie (Gage), formerly Bissell, now Rager, a descendant, has documents indicating that all the children, except Phineas, were born in Washington county, New York, and Garrett was born in Argyle, Washington county, New York. Phineas was born in Lafayette, Onondaga county, New York. Mehetabel and Nathaniel resided in Washington county, New York from May 2, 1797 until 1806 when they removed to Onondaga county, New York. They are buried in Cardiff cemetery.

Nathaniel served in Revolutionary War and lived for a time in Saratoga county. Both he and his father came to Saratoga for the war..

Notes concerning Nathaniel Gage

Notes from the book John Gage of Ipswich, Rev. Clyde B. Gage, author, indicate that Nathaniel Gage in the course of his lifetime resided in Saratoga, Stillwater, Greenwich, Fabius and Lafayette, New York, spending much of his life in Washington and Onondaga Counties in New York and in Amherst, Massachusetts.

"Liber H, pg. 421: 17 Aug 1805 recorded 3 May 1807 Nathaniel GAGE and Mehitable of Greenwich, N.Y. sold to John SKINNER of Cambridge, N.Y. 168 acres, Lot 93 CAMPBELL Patent, reserving one acre sold to James R. (?) being where his home now stands.

"In No. 11472 brief in the case of Nathaniel GAGE of Lafayette county, Onondaga county N.Y. (act of 7 Jun 1832) for Revolutionary Pension (S-13117) he was allowed three years and four months service from 1779 to 1783 as a private with various companies supported by traditional evidence. Also stated that at age 5 he moved with his father to Saratoga (NY) where he resided until 1779 when he went to reside in Amherst. After the peace of 1783, he resided at Stillwater more than one year; then moved to Greenwich in Washington county, (NY) where he resided until 1806. He then moved to the town and county of Onondaga where he resided until 1823, then moved to Fabius for two years; then to Lafayette, Onondaga county (NY) where he then resided."[106]

James Stanton Tefft (#290) was the son of Stanton (#113) and Mehetable (#35.2) Rogers Tefft. He was born September 9, 1784. Sarah (#119.3) was the daughter of Sarah Tefft (#80) and Asa Crandall. Sarah (#119.3) and James Stanton (#290) Tefft's marriage is noted in Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry (1904), by Mazie Huggins Tefft circa 1950. Resided in Greenwich, New York, where James S. Tefft died August 29, 1853. Wife Sarah was born November 27, 1788, and died May 9, 1852 [April 10, 1852?]. According to 1850 census James was married to Polly _____. Unsure whether Polly was a nickname used by Sarah or a second wife.

[108] Information from Betty Snell (#1896.2) Wilbur (October, 2006) suggests that this date of death isn't correct. James C. Tefft (#686) was perhaps a son that died in infancy and a second boy (#690) later was born and given the same name.

Simeon Tefft Obituary

Death Notice of Mr. Simeon Tefft as reported in the Whitehall Chronicle, Whitehall, Washington county, NY, Sept. 26, 1874.

"Death of Mr. Simeon Tefft of Easton - The People's Journal of Greenwich, gives the following sketch of the family descent of Mr. Simeon Tefft, who recently died at his home on the Easton side of the Battenkill, a little below Galesville at the advanced age of 86 years. He was a grandson of Nathan Tefft, who was born at North Kingston, RI, March 14, 1717. He came from Rhode Island to this county on horseback, taking his route through the Petersburgh valley up as far as Cambridge, thence across to this place. There were no roads at the time, and the only means of knowing where to travel was by marked trees. He arrived here with his son Stanton, who was a surveyor, and laid out the extent of land now including Harvey Roger's farm, a portion of F. Collamer's, F. Parker's, Richardson's, Babcock's, and including the whole of the farm now owned by descendants of deceased. He remained here a year, or long enough to make preparations for the reception of his family, whom he had left in Rhode Island, and then returned for them. His family were as follows: Isabel, his wife, born August 13, 1716; Stanton, his eldest son, whom he had with him on his first trip, born July 9th, 1744, died in 1811; Isabel, second child, born March 14, 1746; Nancy, born December 14, 1749; Nathan 2d father of Simeon, the subject of this sketch, born August 2, 1752, died September 18, 1828; John, born March 13, 1756; Mary, born May 2, 1758; Sarah, born August 14, 1762. Fanny or Fannie may be nickname for Nancy.

These were the children of Nathan, 1st, in the order of their ages. He (Nathan 1st) labored assiduously, cleared the land, and erected the first mill ever built upon the Battenkill at Galesville which was a sawmill. He died April 3, 1789, leaving his children in peaceable possession of a nice property and comfortable home; his second wife, whom he married shortly after the death of his first in 1787, survived him only a short time.

Upon the death of Nathan 1st, his son, Nathan 2d succeeded to the possession of the farm, and his family was as follows: Dorcas, his wife, born Dec. 12, 1753; Benjamin, eldest son, grandfather of the editor of the Chronicle, born October 16, 1773, died May 2, 1847; Nathan, 2d born March 10, 1776, died Jan. 24, 1848; Isabel, born November 27, 1778, died March 16, 1857; Gardner born August 13, 1780, died November 8, 1803; Sarah, born January 23, 1783, died October 6, 1863; Dorcas, born June 1, 1786, died April 2, 1865; Simeon, the subject of the present sketch, born August 20, 1788, died August 30, 1874; Mary, born January 28, 1791, died October 28, 1816; Phebe, now the only survivor, born November 2, 1796.

Simeon Tefft had eight children, all of whom, with one exception, are living. Two of his children, the youngest, are now living on the farm. As we stated in the former notice, he lived and died on the same place where he was born. He never entered conspicuously in public affairs, but held town offices repeatedly. He took part in the War of 1812, and with this exception he never was off from his farm for more than two months at a time; yet remarkable as this may seem, he appeared to live within the age. Even at the advanced stage of eighty-six, there was no mark of antiquity to be found in his language. He conversed freely on all current topics, and was quick to decide for or against any question that might arise. His mental strength stood firm almost down to the dying hour, and those who knew him, young and old, saw no difference in the vigor of his thrifty mind. His aged wife survives him, to whom he had been faithful over sixty years.[112]

[110] Almira Tefft, first wife of Norman B. Tefft (#711) was daughter of Jabish M. (#660) and Hannah (Robinson) Tefft.

[111] Harriet E. Shaddock Clark [m. 2d to Norman Bailey Tefft (#711)] may be related to Alice Shaw Clark [m. Nathan B. Tefft (#715)]. The relationship may be by marriage only and not siblings.

She was born October 24, 1787, and died September 4, 1781. Resided South Kingston, Washington county, Rhode Island.

[114] The 1779 birth dates for Stephen (#314) appears to be incorrect. It doesn't seem likely that Stephen and Lydia (#315) were born within four months of each other, unless they were twins and that does not appear to be the case. If the months and days are correct, perhaps Stephen was born in 1778 or Lydia in 1780.

315. Lydia Tefft & Joseph A. Adams had:

Simon Tifft (#443) was the son of John (#210) and Anna (Vallett) Tifft. Simon Tifft was Captain of a company in Lieutenant Colonel Carr's Regiment, New York state Militia, in the War of 1812, serving from September 8 to 20, 1814. They were ordered to Sackets Harbor, but on reaching Whitehall, New York, they learned of the Declaration of Peace, and so returned home. Simon was also, for many years, Captain of Stephentown and Nassau local militia. Simon and Ann were married at the Webster homestead in Stephentown, New York, and it was said of them, at the time, that they were the handsomest couple ever married in that region.

Ann Webster was a direct lineal descendant of Governor John Webster of Connecticut, one of the founders of the City of Hartford, Conn. The governor was one of Hooker's party, who made their way from Cambridge, Massachusetts, through the then trackless forest to the Connecticut river in 1636. John Webster subsequently removed to Hadley, Massachusetts, where he was made magistrate in 1660 and where he died April 5, 1661. Webster's widow, Agnes, then married George Stocking, a prominent member of the Hartford Colony. A statue of Stocking now stands in the old Centre Church cemetery, Hartford, Connecticut, where he held many important offices and where he died at the age of 101 years. Simon Tifft died March 3, 1873. Wife Ann, died September 14, 1859. She was the daughter of Constant Jr and Chloe (Daniel) Webster. They resided in Stephentown, New York.

Joseph Tifft (#450) was the son of John (#210) and Anna (Vallett) Tifft. Resided in Nassau, New York. Joseph and his brother Sprague lived jointly on the old Tifft homestead, where they, with filial love and duty, cared for their venerable mother. Joseph was born November 3, 1803, in Nassau, Rensselaer county, New York, and died there May 24, 1879. Wife Sally was born October 5, 1803, in Sand Lake, New York, and died March 23, 1885, in Nassau, New York. They were buried in Tifft cemetery at Nassau, New York.

451. George Washington Tifft & Lucy Enos had:

974. John Vallett Tifft, b. March 28, 1828; m. April 17, 1882, Maria L. Pitkin.
+975. Sarah Ann Tifft, b. October 25, 1829; m. January 11, 1854, Dr. Charles C. F. Gay, M.D.
+976. Lucy Tifft, b. April 10, 1837; m. December 2, 1863, Charles L. Whiting.
977. George Harrison Tifft, b. April 13, 1840. [Killed January 25, 1865 by the falling from burning hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.]

George Washington Tifft (#451) was the son of John (#210) and Anna (Vallett) Tifft. George Washington resided in Nassau, New York, until 25 years of age. He removed then to his farm in Orleans county, New York, which he had purchased through his indomitable energy and industry. Thence he removed to Michigan City, Indiana, where he engaged in the grain business. In 1842 he removed to Buffalo, forming a copartner ship with the late Dean Richmond of railway fame, in the milling business. In 1843 he engaged in the transportation business, known as the Troy & Michigan Six Day Line, under the name of George W. Tift & Co.

His extraordinary business versatility enabled him to engage successfully in various other commercial enterprises, such as the milling, produce and commission, real estate, smelting, manufacturing, and banking business. He was principle founder of the International Bank of Buffalo, builder and owner of the Tifft Elevator and the Tifft House, whose fame as a hostelry extended beyond the limits of the country. During the last twenty years of his life he devoted himself chiefly to the interests of the Buffalo Engine Works, owned by George W. Tift, Sons & Co.

He was a prominent and influential member of Central Presbyterian church in Buffalo, an ardent Republican, and a generous supporter of the administration during the Civil War (War Between the States). George died June 24, 1882, honored and regretted for his sterling integrity, business enterprise, staunch citizenship, and personal righteousness.

George, born January 30, 1805, in Nassau, New York, died June 24, 1882, in Buffalo, New York. Lucy was born December 2, 1805, in New Lebanon, New York, and died August 21, 1870, in Buffalo, New York. They were married March 14, 1827. They were buried in Forest Lawn cemetery, Buffalo, Erie county, New York. George W. may have served in Co. K, 117th Reg., New York State Volunteers (Inf.). If so, he was a Cpl., in Civil War.

452. Abigail Tefft & John Simpkins had:

452.1. Richard Bradford Simpkins, b. May 14, 1810; d. April 24, 1884; m. July 12, 1838, Evelina Sarah Ames, b. 1811; d. November 2, 1860.
452.2. Judith Simpkins, b. March 8, 1813; d. November 28, 1901; m. ??, James Sellard, b. November 20, 1809; d. ??.
452.3. Joanna Simpkins, b. 1816; d. June 6, 1857; m. ??, Charles O. Spencer,[145] b. February 12, 1810; d. February 27, 1887.
452.4. Betsy Simpkins, b. January 27, 1817; d. September 8, 1866; m. C. H. Sayles, b. 1811; d. 1893.
452.5. George W. Simpkins, b. April 28, 1819; d. July 31, 1886; m. ~1844, Celia M. Spencer,[145] b. June 9, 1817; d. January 9, 1905.

Abigail Tefft (#452), daughter of Robert (#211) and Bridget (Bailey) Tifft, was born on March 27, 1817, in Madison county, New York; and died in O'Brien county, Iowa, in April 1910. According to information provided by Joe Morse and Joyce Tice on Roots Web Claudius and Mary Mullen were married on May 9, 1846, in Harrison county, Kentucky, perhaps in the vicinity of Cynthiana.

[145] Charles O. Spencer [m. Joanna Simpkins (#452.3)] and Celia M. Spencer [m. George W. Simpkins (#452.5) may have been siblings.

453. Reuben Tifft & Betsy De Colon had:

+979. Robert Caleb Tifft, b. August 10, 1814; d. ~1911; m. 1st ??, Ann Stocum, b. March 4, 1824; d. August 5, 1888; m. 2d March 3, 1915, Mary E. Fuller, b. ??; d. ??.
+980. Claudius Tifft, b. March 27, 1817; d. March 15, 1910; m. May 9, 1846, Mary E. Mullen. b. January 28, 1822; d. ~1911.
981. Thomas James Tifft, b. ??; d. ??.
982. Hannah Elizabeth Tifft, b. ??; d. ??; m. Barclay Wooster, b. ??; d. ??.

Reuben Tifft (#453) may have been Reuben (#453), son of Robert (#211) and Bridget (Bailey) Tefft. Our records do not indicate Reuben's (#453) date of birth, but sometime after 1791, in Rhode Island, is very reasonable and possible. Some of the date information from Joe Morse on Roots Web is confusing and seems inaccurate. Morse gives Betsy De Colon's date of birth as both circa 1795 and December 25, 1829. The year 1795 seems more likely. She may have been born in New Jersey based on his commentary. Reuben's father, seems to be Robert Tefft (#211) was born in 1761, in Exeter, Rhode Island and certainly Reuben could reasonably have been born in 1817. The foregoing and all that follows in this branch commentary has been constructed based on the assumption that Reuben Tifft is Reuben Tefft (#453). Betsy's maiden name may have been spelled "Decolan."

456. Potter Tefft & Sarah Kittell[146] had:

983. Alsena Tefft, b. March 27, 1811; d. April 25, 1813.

458.8. Infant Pomeroy, b. September 20, 1839; d. September 20, 1839.

Sarah Tefft or Tifft (#458), daughter of Joseph (#212) and Sarah (Potter) Tefft, was born June 10, 1794, at Stephentown, Rensselaer county, New York, and died at Stephentown on August 28, 1869. According to Jim Gambell <jwgambell@aol.com> in Gambell-Littler-Clarry-Jackson-Pomeroy-Marsh family genealogy information posted at RootsWeb.com, Sarah and Quartus were married July 30, 1820. This genealogist believes the event took place in Stephentown or West Stephentown, Rensselaer county, New York.

Quartus, son of Titus and Kesiah (Sedgwick) Pomeroy, was born July 20, 1794, in Norfolk, Norfolk county, Massachusetts, and died February 12, 1870, West Stephentown, Rensselaer county, New York. As a small boy Quartus' family relocated to Rensselaer county. He first married Sabra White in 1815 at Sand Lake, Rensselaer county, New York. Quartus and Sabra had three children as follows: Alonzo, born January 6, 1816; Emily, born January 22, 1817; and Julia, born August 27, 1818. Sabra November 13, 1818. The Pomeroy's resided in West Stephentown, New York. Sarah (#458) and Quartus, Hannah (#458.2), Sabra White (#458.6), Abigail (#458.7), and Infant Pomeroy (#458.8) were all laid to final rest in Tifft cemetery, Stephentown, New York.

459. Abigail E. Tefft & Ebenezer Kittell[151] had:

459.1. John Kittell, m. Margaret Dunham.
459.2. Robert Kittell, d. in Mich.

459.3. Mary Kittell.

Abigail E. Tefft (#459) was the daughter of Joseph (#212) and Sarah (Potter) Tefft. Resided in West Stephentown, Rensselaer county, New York.

[151] Ebenezer [m. Abigail (#459)], Sarah [m. Potter (#456)], and Mary Kittell [m. Benjamin (#457)] were probably sisters and brother, but relationship is unsure.

460. Robert Tefft or Tifft & Esther Babcock had:

999. Mary L. Tifft, B. June 1, 1826; d. August 12, 1903.
1000. Esther Tifft, B. August 2, 1834; d. November 26, 1860.
1001. Sarah A. B. Tifft, b. June 28, 1838; d. July 154, 1854.

Robert Tefft or Tifft (#460) was the son of Joseph (#212) and Sarah (Potter) Tefft. Resided in West Stephentown, Rensselaer county, New York.

465. Luke Tefft & Elizabeth "Betsey" Bloomer had:

1002. John Tefft, b. March 7, 1842;[152] d. January 31, 1845.
1003. George H. Tefft,[152] b. April 27, 1892; d. August 22, 1920; m. ??, Isabella C. _____, b. September 27, 1844; d. aft. 1900.

+1005. Lewis Tefft, b. 1853; d. November 10, 1896; m. Margaret Smith, b. 1851; d. 1929.
1006. Flora A. Tefft, b. 1857; d. ??; m. December 27, 1879, Edward Button, b. ??; d. ??.

Luke Tefft (#465) was the son of John (#217) and Elizabeth Nichols (Dye) Tefft. He was born September 13, 1809, in Lebanon, Madison county, New York, and died July 15, 1891, in New York state. He was buried in Red Bird cemetery, in Ellery, New York. Luke married Elizabeth, the daughter of John Bloomer and Rhoda Darrow, in Chautauqua county, New York. She was born April 17, 1816, in Chautauqua county, New York, and died September 28, 1907, in South Stockton, New York. She was also buried in Red Bird cemetery. Friends and family knew her as "Betsey."

[152] Birth dates for John (#1004) and George (#1003) seem incorrect, at least one, due to the closeness. However it is possible, we think. They may have been twins and George took an extra month inside the womb. That doesn't seem very likely by today's medicine, but could well have occurred in the 19th century.

466. Daniel Dye Tefft & Lydia Mills had:

1007. John Tefft, b. April 15, 1838; d. February 22, 1908; m. November 25, 1874, Melissa Skellie, b. 1844; d. 1911.

1014. Sarah Tefft, b. October 1849;[155] d. January 1855.
1015. Laura Mynett Tefft, b. March 1851.

John H. Tefft (#469) was the son of Jeremiah (#221) and Sarah (Sweet) Tefft. He was born September 8, 1819, in Madison county, New York and died June 10, 1876, in Town of Portland, Chautauqua county, New York. He married Frances Mynett Swetland, on April 2, 1843, in Mayville, Chautauqua county, New York. Frances, the daughter of Palta and Mariah (____) Swetland, was born March 26, 1822, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and died October 22, 1854, in Town of Portland, Chautauqua county, New York, where she was interred. John H. may have served in Co. I, 43rd Reg., New York State Volunteers (Infantry) with rank of Private in Civil War. Frances nickname was “Menetta.”

[154] Information of offspring provided by Timothy N. Tefft (#3066). A Record of Some of the Descendants of John Tefft of Portsmouth and Pettaquamscutt, Rhode Island. Self-Published: Lisbon Falls, Maine. June, 2006 (pp. 135, 223).

[155] March and October 1849 birth dates do not seem likely, but Sarah (#1014) may have been born a few weeks premature or date may be a little off.

470. Thomas G. Tefft & 1st wife Martha Hunt had:

+1016. Morris P. Tefft, b. March 10, 1846; d. March 12, 1912; m. 1st March 22, 1866, Martha McCann, b. September 1, 1846; d. March 20, 1892; m. 2d April 30, 1901, Lottie Showalter, b. ~1857; d. November 3, 1911.

Lyman O. Tefft (#471) was the son of Jeremiah (#221) and Sarah (Sweet) Tefft. He was born in 1823 in Madison county, New York and died May 27, 1905, in Chautauqua, Chautauqua county, New York. Lyman, according to Joseph Perry Tefft (#1707), is reported to have committed suicide by hanging himself. He first married Maria Swetland, September 26, 1844, in Chautauqua, New York. Maria, daughter of Silas and Abigail Rose ( _____ ) Swetland, was born circa 1820 and died in 1893.

Joseph Perry Tefft (#1707) also found information that suggests Maria's given name may actually been Marcia, Margie, or Martha. It is guessed that Maria died prior to Lyman's marriage to second wife, Caroline Miller on May 14, 1896. No children are known by this or later marriages.[156] In Civil War, Lyman O. Tefft enlisted on September 28, 1861, at the age of 36, as a Corporal. On October 2, 1861 he enlisted in Company E, 9th Cavalry Regiment, New York State Volunteers. He received a disability discharge on April 7, 1862 at Washington, D. C. He was company of Falconer. They are buried in Sherman cemetery.

472. Dr. Nathaniel Stacy Tefft[159] & Hattie S. Gibbs had:

1028. Clyde Tefft, b. ~1867; d. August 17, 1870.

Dr. Nathaniel Stacy Tefft (#472) was the son of Jeremiah (#221) and Sarah (Sweet) Tefft. He was born July 16, 1830, in Hamilton, Madison county, New York and died May 27, 1905, in Plainview, Wabasha county, Minnesota. He married Hattie S. Gibbs, November 10, 1866, in Plainview, Minnesota.

Educated in Fredonia, Mayville and Panama, New York, Nathaniel began studying medicine about 1848 with Dr. James Fenner in Chautauqua, New York. During the years 1851 and 1852 Nathaniel received two full lectures in medicine at Cincinnati, Ohio. He graduated and after four years of apprenticeship at Sherman, the pioneer doctor relocated to the vicinity of Minnieska on the Mississippi river, in what is now Wabasha county, Minnesota, from New York state around 1856.

Dr. Nathaniel Tefft served in the Minnesota state legislature in 1858, 1861 and 1871, have been first elected in the November 1857. He was Wabasha county Physician in 1882 and evidently during a three-year period prior to that. The prairie doctor was enterprising and influential in his community. Considered a mechanical genius, he applied his knowledge to invent the first mechanical grain binder. Nathaniel also pioneered in the application of permanent magnates for the power of motivation.

Dr. Tefft was a lifelong member of the Plainview Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows (I. O. O. F.) having passed through all the chairs. On June 5, 1883, he was unanimously elected Deputy Grand Master of the state of Minnesota for that fraternal organization and served one term.[160]

Nathaniel and Hattie's house in Plainview, Minnesota is operated as a Bed 'n' Breakfast but the present owners. A brief description about the house from their web site follows:

"The Tefft House The Tefft House was built by Dr. Nathaniel Stacy Tefft in 1878. It is a traditional four-square building. Although the four-square home is common to this area, Dr. Tefft added some extra touches which made his home unique. The corbels at the roof line add an Italianate look to the exterior of the home. The breakfast nook in the dining room was an afterthought that was added after the frame of the house had already been erected. The Tefft House still boasts the dramatic walnut newel post and handrail on the stairs, the only interior details that remain from the original house.

"Old World Charm with Modern Amenities After serving as an office building for 16 years, the Tefft House was lovingly renovated in 2000. Except for the frame, the corbels, the newel post, and the handrail, the entire home has been upgraded. All the major systems were replaced - plumbing, electric, and gas. New interior walls were built, new floors were laid, and state of the art gas fireplaces, bathtubs, toilets, and sinks were installed. Antique reproduction tiles, imported marble, reproduction electrical fixtures were added.

"The Rooms The rooms are all named after individuals with a close association with the Tefft House.

"Nathaniel's Room is named for Dr. Nathaniel Stacy Tefft who built the home. He was a physician who was trained in New York and Cincinnati. In 1856, he moved to Minnieska, where he practiced medicine and served as both Postmaster and Justice of the Peace. In 1857, he was elected to the lower branch of the Minnesota Legislature which was closely associated with admitting Minnesota to the Union in May 1858. He moved to Plainview in 1861. In 1871, he was elected to the State Senate.

"Hattie's Room is named for Hattie Tefft, Nathaniel's wife. Not much is known about Hattie, except that her father, Chauncy Gibbs, brought the first piano to Plainview. He gave the piano to Hattie as a gift.

"Sarah's Room is named for both Nathaniel and Hattie's mothers who shared the same name. Hattie's mother lived in Plainview with her husband, Chauncy, who was another physician in town."

1035. Randolph Tefft, b. in Avoca, Neb.; d. in infancy.

Amos Tefft (#478) was the son of Jonathan (#222) and Elizabeth (Collins) Tefft. Amos was born August 29, 1815, in Lebanon, Madison county, New York, and died in Avoca, Cass county, Nebraska, May 25, 1906. The marriage was in September 1840 in Elgin, Kane county, Illinois. Margaret died in Avoca, Cass county, Nebraska in 1875. It has been said that in 1849-1850 Amos and Margaret joined the California "Gold Rush" traveling by ox cart. According to Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743), The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), they returned by way of the Panama Canal. This seems unlikely since construction of the canal wasn't begun until after the revolution in 1903 and it wasn't completed until 1914. It is possible that the couple returned by way of Panama, however. In 1857 Amos and Margaret relocated to Avoca Precinct, Nebraska. In 1862 Amos was elected to the Territorial Legislature of Nebraska.

John Tefft[166] & 2d wife Sarah Aman had:

+1065. Nathan Tefft, b. June 12, 1804; d. August 9, 1861; m. May 1, 1830, Almira Sabin, b. ~1805.

John Tefft (#490) was the son of Hezekiah (#225) and Sarah (Lillibridge) Tefft. He was born about 1775 to 1777. His date of death is not known. Dorcas, daughter of Ezekiel and Hannah (Bailey) James, was born about 1777. John was a soldier in the War of 1812. Tefft genealogy researcher Virginia Lee <lee2sky@msn.com> writes, "John probably received bounty land near Peoria, Illinois for [his] service in the War of 1812." According to 1810 federal census John resided in Plainfield, Connecticut. It is speculated that John removed to Russia township, near Elyria, Ohio and there, married Dorcas. They and children Ray G. and John J. show up in Elyria, Lorain county, Ohio, which at that time was part of Connecticut's Western Reserve, circa 1824. Ms. Lee notes that additional children were raised in Ohio.

[166] Much of the information for this line, as it goes forward, has come from data provided by Virginia Lee <lee2sky@msn.com> and John L. Lillibridge <redfork@planetcable.net>. John has spent a decade or more researching the Tefft/Tifft/Tift descendants of Hezekiah (#225) and Sarah (Lillibridge) Tefft as a part of his Lillibridge family ancestry.

495. Huldah Tefft & William V. Brand Sr had:

495.1. William V. Brand Jr, b. June 22, 1811.

Huldah Tefft (#495) was the daughter of Ezekiel (#226) and Amy (Willcox) Tefft. She died April 3, 1819. William was born November 5, 1790. He died April 3, 1819. William was the son of Nathan and Susanna (Vincent) Brand.

496. Stephen Tefft & Rebecca _____ had:

+ 1066. John H. Tefft, b. November 1844; d. May 2, 1916; m. 1st ~1866, Ellen O. Boyens, b. December 1839; d. 1936; m. 2d ~1888, Jeanette Groves, b. August 1857; d. 1924.

Stephen Tefft's (#496), parentage has not been determined, for sure. When and where he was born is also a bit of a mystery, though the Gazlay family genealogy indicates he was born circa 1793. Stephen likely begun life in Rhode Island, where a great many Tefft's were from and where John Tefft (#1) and Mary Barber settled around 1632. Gazlay family information indicates Stephen died sometime after 1870, possibly in Connecticut. At the time of the birth of John H. Tefft, Stephen and his wife Rebecca dwelt in Jewiit city, New London county, Connecticut as that is where their son was born in November 1844.

Little is known about Rebecca, mother of John H. Tefft, not the least of which is her parentage. According to Gazlay family history, Rebecca was born circa 1806. Her date of death is not revealed.

Genealogist Timothy Nathan Tefft (#3066) of Lisbon Falls, Maine, believes, according to the date time frame, Stephen might be the son of Ezekiel Tefft Jr (#226) and Amy or Amie Willcox. If correct that would place his birth in the vicinity of Richmond, Rhode Island. Tim also notes that Stphen may have been involved in Brother's Cotton Manufacturing Co., in Wyoming (Richmond), Rhode Island, along with Samuel Tefft, Ezekiel Tefft, and Nathan Lillibridge.

Amy Willcox's spelling of her given and surnames seems to be in question. The given name is spelled "Amy" and "Amie" by various sources. The surname also has two variations–"Willcox" and "Wilcox." This genealogist has no information on which spellings are correct or even preferred.

497. Ezekiel Tefft III & Mercy Wilber had:

Ezekiel Tefft III (#497) was the son of Ezekiel Jr. (#226) and Amy (Wilcox) Tefft. He was born January 1799, in Richmond, Washington county, Rhode Island and died in Perrysburg, Ohio, February 17, 1868, at age 69. Ezekiel is interred in Fort Meigs cemetery, Perrysburg, Ohio. Mercy was born June 13, 1802, in Rhode Island, and died February 19, 1885, in Portage Township, Wood county, Ohio, at the age of 82 years, 8 months, and 19 days. Ezekiel and Mercy relocated first to Binghamton, Broome county, New York, and then to Perrysburg, Wood county, Ohio, in 1849.

Ezekiel was known as GAR "Squirrel Hunter." Civilians from sixty-five Ohio counties numbering 15,766 men reported for duty to help defend Ohio and particularly Cincinnati from Confederate invasion. These men became known as the "Squirrel Hunters.

Ezekial married Mercy Wilber about 1820, and they had Hulda (R.I.), Palmer (R.I.), William V. B. (R.I.), Gardner Rowland (N.Y.), Leah (N.Y.), Loren Palmer (N.Y.), and Nathan (N.Y.). He was the son of Ezekial and Amy Wilcox Tefft.

Mercy may have been the daughter of William and Anna Wilber. She married Ezekiel Tefft and moved west from Rhode Island to New York then to Ohio. She had children: Hulda, Palmer, William, Gardner, Nathan, Leah (not previously mentioned), and Loren [Lorin]. After Ezekiel's death, Mercy lived with her sons William and Gardner. She died in Portage Township although she was living in Bowling Green, Ohio. [See page 250]

1077. Cordelia Tefft.
1078. Orlando Valentine Tefft, b. ??; d. ??.

Samuel Tefft (#498) was the son of Ezekiel Jr (#226) and Amy (Wilcox) Tefft. Samuel was born in 1804 and the date of his death in unknown. When and where Samuel and Julia married has not been discovered. It is possible that he was born in Rhode Island before the family relocated to Smyrna, Chenango county, New York, however, that remains unknown. Julia was born in 1806, also either in Rhode Island or New York state. The death dates for Samuel and Julia have not been found.

Oden Tefft (#512) was the son of David Tefft (#231) and Ruhama [Ruhannah] (James) Tefft. Information found on wikitree (https://www.wikitree.com/wiki/TeffT-285) indicates that Oden Tefft was born in an unknown place, however, his parents resided and are buried in Greenwich, Washington county, New York. It is reasonable to conclude therefore that he was born there. Our calculations from gravestone information suggests the birth year as being in 1794. Other Internet genealogy sites have dates of 1793 and 1796. All seem to confirm Oden's death on June 12, 1854, at age 60, at Ausable, Clinton county, New York. Where his wife, Ann Briggs was born is unknown as well. Circa 1801, is the guessed birth date. Where they were married is unknown. She died January 31, 1868, at Ausable, Clinton county, New York. They lie in rest at Clintonville Old cemetery, Clintonville, Clinton county, New York.

1111. Leroy Tefft [?].
1112. Ella C. Tefft [?].

Brinton [Brynton] James (#519) was the son of David (#231) and Ruhamah (James) Tefft. He was born in December 8, 1809, according to find-a-grave web site, in Troy, Rensselaer county, New York. His parents resided and are buried in Greenwich, Washington county, New York, and this genealogist believes Brinton was born there. He died at Port Elgin, Bruce county, Ontario, Canada, August 18, 1888, at the age of 78. Brinton was a veterinarian.

Prior to 1860 Brinton's family resided in the Town of Jackson, Washington county, New York. In 1860 the family relocated to Conestogo, Ontario, Canada, where Brinton established his veterinary practice. It is likely that Brinton adopted the "Brynton" spelling of his given name when the family moved to Ontario.

When and where Brinton and Sarah Cook were married is not known. The daughter of Reuben and Wealthy (Huntley) Cook, Sarah was born in Preston, New London county, Connecticut, on March 24, 1824, and died in Port Elgin, Ontario, on January 9, 1892, at age 67. Both are interred at Sanctuary Park cemetery, Port Elgin, Bruce county, Ontario, Canada.

Information about and confirming Frank (#1107), Leroy (#1108), and Ella C. (#1109), at this printing, is unknown and unavailable.

1118. William Tefft, b. November 3, 1823 (Ticonderoga, N.Y.); d. August 20, 1839 (Salem, N.Y.).

+1119. Martin Tefft, b. April 1, 1825; d. 1881 (West Indies); m. 1st June 8, 1852, Maria H. Scott, d. September 30, 1855; m. 2d March 3, 1857, Mrs. Rebecca Lovisa (Lovina) Sexton Tefft,[175] b. March 31, 1829; d. June 24, 1909. [See foot note below].

James Tefft (#520) was the son of William Tefft Jr (#232) and Elizabeth (James) Tefft. He was born June 6, 1787 and died December 30, 1863. He married Patty in Braintree, Massachusetts. She was born January 2, 1793 and died in Ticonderoga, New York on August 13, 1825. According to David Brainard Hall, James and Patty were married January 1, 1810 at New Braintree, Massachusetts. They resided in Jackson, Washington county, New York and Ticonderoga, New York. William was a hotel keeper in Ticonderoga.

Rev. James Cutler (#1115) and both his wives were missionaries at New Mendi, Sierra Leone, West Africa, where James, Lovisa, and a son are buried.

Edwin's (#1114) wife, Jane was the daughter of Joel and Jeanette Rich.

Martin (#1119) was a dentist and resided in Cambridge, Washington county, New York. Beginning about 1870 he spent his winters in the West Indies and South America, where he practiced dentistry successfully.

[175] Louise R Sexton, wife of James Cutler Tefft (#1115) and Lovisa R. Sexton, wife of Martin Tefft (#1119) are presumed to be the same person, although that is unknown for sure. The death date of Rev. James C. Tefft (#1115) in 1855 and Martin Tefft's (#1119) wife Maria (Scott) Tefft's death, also in 1855 suggests that Rev. James C.'s widow married Martin in 1857.

Judge James Tefft & 2d wife Susan Stewart Wheelock had:

1120. Caroline Tefft, b. 1830; m. 1867, Thomas Ray.

+522.9. Edgar Norton, b. December 29, 1832; d. October 29, 1861; m. September 27, 1854, Julia A. Welling.

Polly Tefft (#522) was the daughter of William Tefft Jr (#232) and Elizabeth (James) Tefft. She was born March 21, 1793. They resided in Greenwich, New York, where Polly died March 1, 1851. William Norton died May 10, 1861.

523. Oden B. Tefft & Sarah Wallis had:

1122. Addie Tefft, b. 1861; d. 1890 (bur. Cadyville Protestant cemetery, Cadyville, Clinton Co., N. Y.).
1123. Edward B. Tefft, b. June 2, 1866; d. May 5, 1946 (bur. Forest Lawn cemetery, Buffalo, Erie Co., N. Y.).

1124. C. H. Tefft, b. unk; d. aft December 15, 1922.

Oden B. Tefft (#523) was the son of William Tefft Jr. (#232) and Elizabeth (James) Tefft. Information found on wikitree (https://www.wikitree.com/wiki/TeffT-275) indicates that Oden Tefft was born in an unknown place, however, his parents resided and are buried in Greenwich, Washington county, New York. It is reasonable to conclude therefore to believe that he was born there. He was born in 1829, and died January 12, 1886, in Dannemora, Clinton county, New York. The Plattsburgh Sentinel., January 15, 1886, reported the following:

Mr. Oden Tefft, who for 13 years was an officer at Clinton prison, and one of the leading citizens of Dannemora, died at the residence of John Wallace, in that town, of paralysis, last Tuesday. His remains were taken to Cadyville for burial.

Oden and Sarah Wallis married in 1859. She was born June 9, 1843, in Chazy, Clinton county, New York, and died December 2, 1922, in Dannemora, Clinton county, New York. Circa 1801, is the guessed birth date. Where they were married is unknown. She died January 31, 1868, at Ausable, Clinton county, New York. They lie in rest at Clintonville Old cemetery, Clintonville, Clinton county, New York. The Plattsburgh sentinel., December 15, 1922, reported the following:

Mrs. Sarah W. Tefft, died at the home of her son, C. [possibly Charles] H. Tefft, Chazy Lake, Saturday. She was married to Oden Tefft in 1859 and four children were born of this union, but two now living, namely C.H. Tefft of Chazy Lake and Edward B. Tefft of Buffalo.

The funeral was held at the home; remains being taken to Cadyville for interment.

Both Oden B. and Sarah Wallis Tefft were laid to rest in Cadyville Protestant cemetery, Cadyville, Clinton county, New York.

Note: Oden B. Tefft (#523) is a probable son of William Tefft Jr. (#232) and Elizabeth (James) Tefft. Genealogy and Family History of northern New York, Lewis Historical Publishing Co. (1910) speculates on page 342 that Oden B. Tefft was a son or nephew of William Tefft Sr (#97) and Mary Kenyon. This researcher/compiler believes it is more likely that William Jr (#232) was his father making William Sr (#97) a great-uncle and rather than uncle. Every instinct and name - date - location combinations give this assignment some degree of reasonability, if not credibility. Elizabeth's nickname was "Betsey."

524. Sarah Tefft & Consider White had:

524.1. George Henry White, b. March 10, 1821; m. 1841, Elizabeth Lyon.

Caleb Tefft (#550) was the son of Taber Tefft (#239) and first wife Sarah Barber. Caleb was born October 14, 1782 and died at the age of 92 in 1874. The 1904 Ancestry indicated they resided in Richmond, Rhode Island, but Mazie Huggins Tefft crossed this notation out. Hannah, born in 1788, in Town of Kingsbury, Washington county, New York died November 28, 1851. At some point Caleb removed to Greenwich, New York, and married Lydia (Coon) Tefft, the widow of Joseph R. Tefft (#555). Caleb and Lydia had no children. Caleb and Hannah are buried in Greenwich, New York, cemetery.

Note: Dates and names and their spellings were confirmed in the Caleb Tefft and Hannah (Green) Tefft family Bible.

1154. Mary Thankful Tefft, m. John Dorr.
1155. Clarke Tefft.
+1156. George Tefft, b. 1825, d. 1892; m. 1850, Caroline Morey, b. 1829.

+1157. Charles Tefft,[186] b. ~1837; m. Delia _____, b. ~1844 (Canada). (Occupation: Farmer).

1158. Ann Tefft, b. August 15, 1858; m. Charles Downs.

Benjamin Tefft (#554) was the son of Taber Tefft (#239) and second wife Hannah Ross. He was born circa 1797, in the Town of Greenwich, Washington county, New York, and died in 1892. In 1880 he was age 88. They resided in Salem, Washington county, New York. Dorcas was a great-granddaughter of Captain John and Mehetable Tefft (#35) Rogers. It is likely that Dorcas' line follows down from Elizabeth (#35.1) who married Josiah Rogers, John Jr (#35.4), James (#35.5), or Oliver (#35.7), however, marriages and any issue down those lines is unknown to this compiler.

This Benjamin (#554) may have been living with Charles (#1157) and Delia Tefft as noted in 1880 census, District 1, Town of Greenwich, county of Washington, State of New York.

Note: Charles H. W. Stocking notes Benjamin Tefft and Dorcas Rogers on page 2 of The Tefft Ancestry (1904). Oscar Worthington Tefft, descendant of Taber Tefft (#239), contributed Taber Tefft's genealogy data to Stocking's book. Dorcas was great-granddaughter of Captain John Rogers and Mehetable Tefft (#35) Rogers.

[186] Charles Tefft (#1157) is attached here based on a reasonable guess of 1880 census information and is therefore italicized. His birth date and marriage information is confirmed in the 1880 census. The census also indicates his father Benjamin was living in the household. This genealogist concludes from the census information and known information about the children of Taber Tefft Sr and second wife, Hannah Ross, that Benjamin Tefft (#554), who married Dorcas Rogers, and Charles Tefft (#1157) are correctly placed.

555. Joseph Ross Tefft & Lydia Coon[187] had:

Benjamin Cottrell Tefft (#593) was son of Asa (#249) and Hannah (Cottrell) Tefft. He apparently was born circa 1795 and died October 2, 1881 at the age of 86 on the family farm in the vicinity of Spraguetown or North Greenwich, Washington county, New York. Benjamin and Margaret may have married, likely in Greenwich or perhaps Easton, Washington county, New York, around 1825 or 1826. The year is an educated guess. Margaret was born circa 1806, in Greenwich, Washington county, New York, and died October 31, 1872, perhaps in or near North Greenwich or Spraguetown, Washington county, New York, at the age of 66. Benjamin was a farmer. He and Hannah were buried in Tefft (Galesville) cemetery. Margaret Nelson's parents are so far unknown.

Laurie Tvedt, of New York, New York, a descendant, provides the following census information: Birth - 1795, Greenwich, Washington county, NY; 1830 - Resided Washington co., NY; 1840 - Resided Washington co., NY; 1850 - Resided Greenwich, Washington co., NY; 1860 - Resided Washington co., NY; 1870 - Resided Greenwich, Washington Co., NY and later Argyle, Washington Co., NY; & 1880 - Greenwich, Washington Co., NY. Civil War Sgt. In Co. E, 21st Reg. N. Y. S. Vol's. (Cav.).

Originally, we only had Jane (#1196) and Quincey (#1200) as their children. Janice Marie Tefft (#2962) formerly of Mennands, Albany county, New York and now Troy, Rensselaer county, New York provides the following children, presumably from Tefft cemetery (now called Galesville cemetery), Middle Falls, Town of Easton, Washington county, New York, stones: Helen, Mary, and Helen.

The 1850 United States census household members listed are: Edward S., Elizabeth), Charles R., Jane A., and Emma S. The 1860 Federal census names the following household members: Franklin, Jane, Quincey, Effie, and Aencourt, probably Adencourt.

Franklin seems to be Benjamin Franklin also referred to as B. Frank. A good many of the stones in the Tefft (Galesville) cemetery are well worn and some are broken and missing. That maybe why Janice didn't list him as a child of Benjamin and Margaret Tefft.

Laurie Tvedt notes: (Information gleaned from Asa C. Tefft, Jr.'s (#584) will.

1. Edward S. Tefft (#1192) in 1888 resided in Jamestown, Chautauqua county, New York.
2. Elizabeth Tefft (#1194) and Henry Mosier are buried in Greenwich cemetery; headstones are missing. Henry was soldier and fought in Civil War, maybe the 123d Reg., N.Y.S.V.
3. Charles R. (K.) Tefft (#1195) in 1888 resided in Cornwall, Ontario, Canada.
4. Jane A. Tefft (#1196) and Franklin Tucker are buried in Greenwich cemetery. Her headstone is weathered so badly it is unreadable.
5. Emma S. Tefft (#1163) and Dubois Baird resided in Westerloo, Albany county, New York.
6. Thomas Calvin Tefft (#1199) may have died at a very young age and is likely buried in Galesville cemetery, where Benjamin Cottrell Tefft and Margaret Nelson are buried. His headstone is missing, but he may have been interred where a gap exists between two other stones. This is a guess by Laurie Tvedt.
7. Quincey M. Tefft (#1200) Resided Hoosick Falls, Rensselaer county, New York in 1888.

Note: 641. William Augustus Tefft

The placement of William Augustus Tefft (#641) in the Tefft ancestry has been a challenge, to say the least. Temporarily we place his biography and genealogy information here until his proper place in the Tefft Ancestry is found.

Many living Tefft's, particularly his descendants, are trying to unravel the mystery of his parentage. In 1904, Rev. Charles H. W. Stocking, an Episcopal Rector from Vincennes, Indiana, and compiler of The Tefft Ancestry indicated William Augustus Tefft was the ninth of ten children of Samuel and Amy (Gardner) Tefft. William was the fourth of five sons according to the information provided to Rev. Stocking. Samuel B. Tefft, (#104) by Stocking's reckoning, was the son of Joseph Sr (#31) and Esther (Brownell) Tefft. The rest of the parentage back to John (#1) and Mary (Barber) Tefft is well known.

Several living descendants of William Augustus Tefft, who married Elizabeth or Betsey Tremaine, remain unconvinced that Samuel and Amy were his parents and are therefore earnestly trying to identify William's father and mother. Using census, birth, marriage records and information provided by living Tefft descendants, Timothy Nathan Tefft, New Lisbon, Maine, has concluded that William, son of Samuel and Amy G. Tefft, married Rebecca T. Loomis. William and Rebecca removed from Rhode Island to Cincinnati, Ohio.

These findings have left William Augustus Tefft without an established place in the Tefft family tree. One point has confounded the genealogists and particularly the descendants of William Augustus Tefft, that both William who married Rebecca Loomis and William who married Betsey Tremaine seem to have been born on the same day, October 3, 1791. Their dates of death and locations differ: William A. Tefft died February 22, 1850 at Parkersburg, Virginia (later West Virginia) and William, spouse of Rebecca Loomis, died in Cincinnati, Ohio on March 7, 1868. The later William's birth and death are duly engraved on the cemetery stone in Cincinnati.

This compiler has wondered if William Augustus Tefft, who removed to Parkersburg, Virginia circa 1817, was the son of William Tefft (#152), born September 13, 1767. This compiler has no information that William, the son of Daniel (#50) and Martha (Jenckes) Tefft, married nor had children. The date of his birth, however, makes him a possible candidate for direct kinship to William Augustus Tefft.

New information (Wiki Tree and Find-s-Grave.com, May 5, 2021) now suggests that William Augustus Tefft first married Rebecca Loomis with whom there were children and married Elizabeth Tremaine later. Thus, the following information on William Augustus Tefft's line and descendants is inserted where this genealogist now believes it belongs.

Comments by Genealogist Timothy Nathan Tefft

Genealogist Timothy Nathan Tefft(#3066)in his research concerning William Augustus Tefft offers the following information:

William Tefft,1 son of Samuel Tefft Jr.2 and Amie Gardner, was born on October 3, 1791 in Richmond, Rhode Island,3 died on March 7, 1868 in Cincinnati, Ohio4 at age 76, and was buried in Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.5 Another name for William was William Tift.5

General Notes: There is no question that Samuel and Amy (Gardner) Tefft had a son, William, born October 3, 1791 in Richmond, Rhode Island. His birth is recorded in the Richmond town records. Several sources have paired this William Tefft with Betsey Tremaine, daughter of Julius Tremaine. Among them are "The Tefft Ancestry" by Charles Stocking and "The Descendants of John Tefft 1614-1676" by Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743). New evidence suggests that this may be incorrect.

During the course of her research on the Tefft family Judy Sylte Osterberg obtained information that George Tefft, a son of Samuel Tefft and Amy (Gardner) Tefft had received a loan from a William Tift of Hamilton county, Ohio. She surmised that this William was likely George's brother. Furthermore, she received burial information that indicated that William Tift, son of Samuel and Amy, died in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 7, 1868.

Recently, Kathleen Tifft Cooper received a photograph, taken by a kind-hearted fellow researcher, of the grave of William Tift, Sr. and his wife Rebecca Loomis in Cincinnati, Ohio. This grave shows the birth of William on October 3, 1791, the same day Samuel and Amy's son was born. Therefore, the evidence points to this William as the son of Samuel Tefft and Amy (Gardner) Tefft.

Unfortunately, this leaves us with an unattached William Tefft, who did live for many years in Parkersburg, West Virginia, and who was married to Betsey Tremaine. Thanks to Kathleen Tifft Cooper and Jenny Tefft Williams for their aid with these two Williams.

Though he was born William Tefft, this family eventually took on the spelling Tift. The births and deaths of the children are from the family cemetery plot in Cincinnati, Ohio. (Contributed by Kathleen Tifft Cooper)

†811. Ransom Tifft & Lucy A. Beckwith:

Ransom Tifft (#811), son of James (#337) and Joanna (Ballou) Tifft, was born in March 1813, in Smithtown, Providence, Rhode Island, and died February 19, 1870, a few short years following the Civil War. In 1837 he married Lucy Beckwith. Dates for her are not available. Ransom was a scythe grinder probably around Worcester, Massachusetts.

Ransom was a Private in the Civil War and served in Company I, 1st Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers (Infantry). The following Civil War biography is from:
http://www.franklin.ma.us/auto/general/civilwar/ma18cont/default.htm.

Ransom Tifft

Ransom Tifft was born in March of 1813 to farmer James Tift and his wife Joanna Ballou in Smithfield, Providence, Rhode Island. Tift had three siblings, Mary, Otis, and Eunice. Tift became a scythe grinder (one who grinds the scythe blade to make it sharp enough for cutting) by trade. On April 2, 1837, he married Lucy A. Beckwith in Mendon, Worcester, Massachusetts. They had at least one child, born around 1845. Tift returned to Rhode Island after the Civil War. He died February 19, 1870, seven years after he was honorably discharged from the army.

Tift enlisted in the army in May 1861 (since Tift would have been 48 at the time, it is easy to assume he lied about his age like many others in order to enlist), and he signed up for three years with the 18th Massachusetts Infantry, Company I. As part of the 18th, Tift participated in the Peninsular Campaign, which was focused on capturing Richmond and breaking the Confederates' hold on the lower Potomac. The regiment served under Col. James Barnes, and they crossed the Potomac in early fall of 1861, becoming part of George McClellan's Potomac Army. The 18th served outpost duties with Fitz John Porter's division near Washington D. C. until March of 1862.

On March 21, the regiment left for the Peninsula and arrived in time to take part in the siege of Yorktown. At Yorktown, the troops mostly worked on ditches and building stone walls for a month until the Confederates vanished from the site in May. Yorktown was the first real fighting of the Potomac Army and allowed the regiments to press on to Richmond. During Yorktown, the 18th was detached most of the time with General Stoneman's command.

Tift's first combat service was in August 1862 at the Second Battle of Bull Run, serving with the Porter's Corps'; the regiments under Fitz John Porter's command were initially ordered to attack Jackson's flank, but Porter failed to carry out the orders. On the third day of the battle, the regiment met James Longstreet's troops and were forced to retreat. The whipped army, along with Tift and the 18th regiment then traveled to Antietam, but never participated in the actual battle. Tift's regiment ignored orders from McClellan, took an offensive course of action, and pursued the retreating Confederates over the Potomac on September 20th. Though a draw, the battle weakened the Confederates hold on the Potomac and convinced Robert E. Lee to stay away from invading the North.

Following Antietam, Tift was honorably discharged, and it could be assumed that he was wounded along with thousands of others during the Civil War's bloodiest battle. Tift never reenlisted, and he returned home to Providence, RI until he died in 1870.

Civil War participant lists also indicate the name spelling: "Rensen."

Erastus Tucker Tefft (#816) was the son of William (#343) and Ruth (Wheaton) Tefft. He was born August 12, 1810, In Dudley, Massachusetts, and died November 10, 1888, at his Central Park West Apartment in The City of New York. Alma, born, August 15, 1815, died on June 17, 1889. They were married February 26, 1832, at Fairfield, New York. She was the daughter of William and Anna (Willard) Griswold.

Erastus was ambitious, capable, and must have had access to some capital for he opened a small store in Newport. When it became prosperous, around 1830, he sold the store. He then opened a store fronting on the Erie canal, in Syracuse. In 1843 the E. T. Tefft store was right in the middle of Syracuse's business center.

Around 1846 or 1847 Erastus moved his family (which included two sons) to New York city. He began a wholesale dry goods firm with Messers. Hamlin and Sloan at Cedar street. After two years the partnership was dissolved and Erastus set up business for himself on Liberty street. His trade grew and over time the firm became Tefft, Griswold & Kellogg. In 1860 the firm, now Tefft, Griswold & Co., built at 330 Broadway, near Worth street on the site of the former Broadway Theater. In 2000, the address is the site of the Jacob K. 1493. Florine Martha Tefft, b. 1846; d. December 27, 1863. [Spinster].
1494. Edgar Tefft, b. 1848; d. 1848.
+1495. Frank Holbrook Tefft, m. October 2, 1879, Mary Platt (Beaver Dam, Wis.).

William Harrison Tefft (#835) was the son of Royal Jr (#364) and Celinda (Robertson) Tefft. He was born July 11, 1819. He married Celinda in 1843. She was the daughter of William and Martha (Stebbins) Holbrook, born in Forestville, Chautauqua county, New York. She died in Detroit, Michigan, January 26, 1872.

William Harrison Tefft was born in Little Valley, Cattaraugus county, New York, July 11, 1819. At the age of 15 he resolved to become a printer, and for this purpose he secured a position on the Cattaraugus Whig. His ambition soon overleaped the narrow limits of this field, and he directed his attention to mercantile life. He spent five years with Walter Chester of Gerry, New York, in general merchandise.

He then entered the service of Sidney Shephard & Co., the largest hardware dealers in western New York. His industry and ability won him a partnership in the firm, and he remained there for another 14 years. Facilities for extending one's business were but few in those earlier days, but young Tefft pushed on westward into the then distant Wisconsin, over into Canada, and along the southern shore of Lake Erie. He traveled by boat and stage, creating business by his indomitable energy and sagacity.

In 1854 he associated himself with a Mr. Moore in the manufacture of car wheels and castings. The house secured the contract for furnishing the Buffalo & Brantford Railway, the nucleus of what is now [1904] the Grand Trunk System. In 1855 he removed to Detroit and engaged with modest success in the stove trade, buying out also the interests of Mr. Edward Shephard in a hardware store.

In 1860 he purchased a foundry, the lease of which he temporarily surrendered when the Civil War broke out, fearing that impending disaster would befall the entire country. A government contract for furnishing sheet iron camp stools, tin cans, and canteens, soon fortified Mr. Tefft with renewed courage and vigor. In 1863 he went into the stove business, a venture so successful that three years later he and Jeremiah Dwyer founded the now famous [1904] Detroit Stove Works, whose products are distributed over North and South America, as well as Europe, Asia, and Australia.

William Harrison Tefft was president not only of the Detroit Stove Works, but also of the Banner Tobacco Works, the Frankfort Blast Furnace Co., of Detroit and Saline Plank Road Company, a director of First National Bank of Detroit, of the Fire and Marine Insurance Company, of the Eldridge Sewing Machine Co., and Detroit Steel and Brass Manufacturing Co., and a heavy stockholder in the Michigan Stove Works.

A man of fine physical presence, genial manners, and public spirit, Mr. Tefft easily stood in the forefront of Detroit's honored citizens. He died June 19, 1884. His wife Lurinda Martha born in Forestville, New York, March 13, 1819. She died January 26, 1872. Rev. Stocking, The Tefft Ancestry, (1904), indicates the wife's name is Lurinda Martha Holbrook while Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) gives it as Martha Lucinda Holbrook.

He was born March 25, 1813, at Groton, New London county, Connecticut, and died at Key West, Monroe county, Florida, February 7, 1889. He married Anna on November 3, 1847. She was born in 1830 and died in 1854. Anna was also called "Annie."

Asa relocated to Key West, Florida, where he became a famous and successful marine wrecker/salvager, architect, and merchantman. Following the departure of Commodore David Porter and the anti-piracy squadron which operated out of Key West during the mid-1820's, the enterprising Mr. Tift purchased the former Naval warehouses. Asa used the warehouses for his flourishing salvage storage business. In addition, he purchased the first icehouse founded by F. A. Browne, with his brother Charles Tift and John Hay Philbrick and operated it from one of the warehouses.

In Key West, Asa is best known for his salvage of the ship Isaac Allerton which was the largest salvage operation ever undertaken in the Florida Keys. He was the wrecking captain and the work yielded some $50,000 for him and his crew.[210]

Asa, one of 19th-century Florida's wealthiest men, designed and built his house on Whitehead street in Key West. The house was constructed with coral rock quarried at the site. He also added opulent flourishes to the house by incorporating wrought iron porch railings and balcony supports, as well as Italian marble used for the fireplaces. The lavish home was completed in 1851, but Asa didn't enjoy it for very long as Anna and both children died from yellow fever in 1854. When the Civil War came, the marine architect, with Confederate sympathies moved to New Orleans, Louisiana in order to supervise construction of the ironclad war ships he designed. The ships, however, were never completed. When Asa returned to his Key West estate on Whitehead street he added a fountain in front of the house that was shaped like one of his unfinished vessels.

In 1931, the Asa Tift house was purchased by writer, author Ernest Hemingway. According to the 1880 Florida Federal census Asa was a commission merchant, living alone. The house today is operated as the Hemingway House – Museum. Among the writer's original home furnishings found at the Key West Hemingway house is a red Cardinal's chair which was a prop in the Broadway production of Hemingway's only full-length play, The Fifth Column.[211]

Mrs. Mary C. Reynolds, author of Baptist Missionary Pioneers Among Negroes, Newton, Massachusetts (Not in copyright) provides the following sketch of Lyman's life:

Lyman graduated from Brown university, Providence, Rhode Island in 1858 and Rochester Theological seminary in 1880. Mr. Tefft taught in New York state and in Wisconsin before taking a pastorate at a church in Minnesota where he stayed for a number of years. While in Minnesota Susan (Ham) Tefft developed tuberculosis causing them to relocate to Connecticut and Lyman taking a pastorate there. They thought the milder climate would be beneficial for her health. The change didn't prove to be helpful and so they returned to Minnesota riding by horse and phaeton. In 1870 Susan died and Lyman took another pastorate in his native state, Connecticut.

At the close of the Civil War and with the emancipation of slaves Lyman became convinced that no work was more pressing nor promising that the education of Negroes. Tefft became an instructor and professor at the Nashville, Tennessee Theological Institute, late Roger Williams University where he remained for nine years. Prof. L. B. Tefft had charge of the boys and young men at the religious school.

Through the good fortune of the New England Women's Baptist Home Mission Society and the five thousand dollars financial support of Joseph C. Hartshorn, in memory of his deceased wife Rachel Thurber Hartshorn, a site in Richmond, Virginia was secured and purchased. On condition required by Mr. Hartshorn Prof. Tefft and his Roger Williams university colleague Miss Carrie V. Dyer was put in charge of the school as president and preceptress. Mrs. Reynolds notes that "the work of Hartshorn college for twenty-nine years was under his [Tefft's] care, ably supplemented by the work of his daughter, Miss Mary Tefft, a Wellesley graduate and Miss Carrie V. Dyer."

Mary Abby Tefft (#1540) taught at Hartshorn college, Richmond, Virginia.

Wrilson Simon Tifft (#933) was the son of Simon (#443) and Ann (Webster) Tifft. Resided in Buffalo, Erie county, New York. Marriage to first wife Cynthia S. Lester was on February 12, 1856. She was born September 15, 1835, in Palmyra, Wayne county, New York. She died February 3, 1873. Wrilson Simon Tefft married his second wife Maria Elizabeth Maxon, July 5, 1874. She was from Adams, Jefferson county, New York. She was born June 5, 1856. Wrilson died May 3, 1900.

Wrilson, like so many others of this widely extended family, was a self-made man. His early years were spent on his father's farm, and he gained in the district school the average education of the countryside in those days.

When aged 24 he removed to Buffalo, engaging in the dairy business which he developed into a large wholesale trade, supplying hotels, lake steamers, and grocers. He retired with a comfortable fortune in 1872 and confined himself thereafter, until his death, to his real estate interests.

He was a devoted member, and for 15 years a trustee, of Grace M. E. church. Wrilson was generous, but wisely discriminating in his charities, helpful to those less fortunate than himself, and a living illustration of what industry, integrity, and piety can do in fashioning the life and character of man.

Maria Elizabeth Tifft earned the gratitude of that portion of the Tefft and Tifft families whose records were compiled by her and published as A Partial Record of the Descendants of John Tefft, of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, and the Nearly Complete Record of the Descendants of John Tifft, of Nassau, New York, in 1896. To her literary labors she added those of a charitable and religious nature, having been a member of the Woman's Educational and Industrial Unions of Buffalo since their founding and organization.

†1040. Dr. Frank Tefft, D. V. S.:

Dr. Frank Tefft (#1040), son of Jonathan Tefft Jr (#479) and Delinda (West) Tefft, was born April 7, 1862, in Elgin, Kane county, Illinois, and when he died is not known, but is presumed to have occurred in Elgin, Illinois. He first married Minnie Cook on February 25, 1886. When and where she was born and died are unknown but she likely died at Elgin, Illinois. No children came from the marriage. Frank next married Mabel Hammond on June 2, 1897 or June 3, 1898, perhaps in Elgin, Illinois. When and where she was born is a mystery. There were no children by either marriage.

The following biography was found on the Internet:

"Dr. Frank Tefft, enjoying an extensive practice in veterinary surgery in Elgin and also identified as a stockholder with different business concerns, while at the same time extensive farming interests return to him a good income, is numbered among Elgin's native sons, his birth having occurred in this city April 7, 1862. His father, Jonathan Tefft, is mentioned elsewhere in this volume.

"Dr. Tefft was educated in the public schools of the county and in Elgin Academy, while his professional training was received in the Chicago Veterinary College, from which he was graduated in 1892. He then began practice in Elgin, where he has been very successful in winning an extensive patronage. He manifests marked skill and ability in professional lines and thus his services, are in constant demand.

"He also buys and sells horses, controlling the Virginia stables, but this by no means represents the extent of his business interests, as he is a stockholder in the Elgin canning factory and the Chicago Gravel Company, while in connection with his sister Jennie he owns five hundred and eighty acres of land in Elgin township. They are engaged in the dairy business, having on hand at all times about one hundred and seventy-five head of milk cows and young Holsteins. Dr. Tefft is a natural born stockman, having been connected with the business from early youth and there is no better judge of good stock in this section, his evaluation of farm animals always being accurate and correct.

"On the 3d of June 1898, was celebrated the marriage of Dr. Tefft and Miss Mabel Hammond, a daughter of E. G. Hammond, of Elgin. He is a member of the lodge, the chapter and the Commandery in Masonic circles and he also belongs to the Century Club."

About 1866, John married Ellen, however, the place is not stipulated. Ellen was first married _____ Chapman around 1855. Evidently the marriage suffered difficulty in the late 1880's for John married second wife, Jeanette Groves, in 1888 and Ellen married third husband, Ezra S. Bennett, also in 1888.

Ellen, daughter of Daniel Boyens and Mary Ann _____, was born in December 1839, in Grafton, Massachusetts, and died in 1936, presumably in Connecticut. More about Ellen comes from the Gazlay family history, "Ellen married, third, ca. 1888, Ezra S. Bennett (born May 1854 in Connecticut; died 1932)." Ellen and Ezra were buried in Carey cemetery, Canterbury, Windham county, Connecticut.

An obituary from the Gazlay family history follows: "The death of John H. Tefft occurred Friday morning at his home on West Town street, Norwich, after a week's illness with bronchial pneumonia. He was the last of a family of 12 brothers and sisters and was born in Jewett City 72 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tefft. The larger part of his life was passed in Jewett City, where he was a successful farmer.

"There are two daughters and a son by his first marriage, Mrs. Annie Chapman of Norwich, Mrs. Luella Senay of New London and Elmer Tefft of Montville. His marriage with Janet Groves of Jewett City took place in 1888. Six years ago they moved to Norwich Town and became members of the First Methodist church.

"He leaves a widow and a daughter, Miss Gertrude Tefft, by the second marriage."

Samuel Harlow Tefft (#1088) was the son of George (#503) and Susan (Brown) Tefft. He was born in Mystic, New London county, Connecticut, October 28, 1821, and died in Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, December 8, 1904. His mother was buried in Oakwood cemetery, Lewis, Iowa. Maria was born April 22, 1824, in Natick, Kent county, Rhode Island, and died May 20, 1863, in Lewis, Cass county, Iowa. Maria and Samuel were married November 22, 1841, at Warwick, Kent county, Rhode Island.

Dixie Arlene Laire (#1781.5), great, great granddaughter of David George (#1087) tells the following: Samuel Harlow Tefft sailed around Cape Horn, South America, to California, about 1849, where he struck it rich in the gold fields. He returned to Rhode Island across country and, while traveling through Montgomery and Cass counties in Iowa, feel in love with the area. Samuel convinced his brother David (#1087) Tefft and brother-in-law Jason Streight, husband of Anna Elizabeth Tefft (#1052) to relocate their families to the Council Bluffs, Iowa, vicinity. The men and older sons went to Iowa, and built homes. When built, they returned to Rhode Island, collected their families, and made the final move to Iowa.

Samuel ran a ferry crossing the East Nishnabotna river. The nearest other ferry crossing was some 70 miles away in Missouri. The ferry house and home of Samuel and Maria was built circa 1850. The structure figured prominently in the Underground Railroad and was on the route of the California, Oregon, Mormon and gold rush trails west. A comment in 'Botna Crossing, a newsletter published by Cass county (Iowa) Mormon Trails Association (Winter 1998-99), Underground Railroad conductors smuggled fugitive slaves across the East Nishnabotna river at Tefft's ferry. One remark claims that a posse camped near the Tefft house waiting for fleeing slaves.

Wheel Write, a Mormon Pioneer newsletter (Winter 1996), informed readers that over 30 Mormon handcart companies crossed the East Nishnabotna river at Tefft's ferry in 1858. The Des Moines Register recounts that diaries of local residents living across the road from the ferry wrote about "watching the world go by as people passed through" on their way west. The Register also notes that the ferry site was the only development between Des Moines and Council Bluffs where travelers could buy provisions. The 'Botna Crossing (Spring 1997) newsletter observed that the National Park Service confirmed that Samuel Harlow Tefft's ferry house is the only surviving "such structure" along the historic Mormon Pioneer trail. Across from the ferry house, the Hitchcock house, is on the National Register of Historic Places. Fleeing slaves were hidden in the basement there by the Underground Railroad.[224]

Walter Tefft (#1098) was the son of Oden B. (#512) and Anna (Briggs) Tefft. He was born in Sandy Hill [Hudson Falls], Washington county, New York, about 1823 and moved with his family to Clintonville, Clinton county, New York at a young age. Wife Jane, daughter of Edward Stanton, was born about 1830. Her father, a soldier in the War of 1812, was an early settler in Plattsburgh, Clinton county, New York.

Walter was educated in common schools and took employment with Peru Steel and Iron company. He learned the trade of bloomer (one who coated the steel in the production process). He worked there for some 22 years. They removed to Mineville, Essex county, New York, where they bought a farm.

In Mineville, Walter took contracts for teaming from the mine there and beginning 1856 and until his death in 1886 he had charge of the Witherbee, Sherman & Co. mines. Under Walter's management the mines went from infancy to prominent development. "He was an honest, capable, useful citizen, respected of all men, bearing heavy responsibilities with credit and performing all the duties of business and citizenship thoroughly." For three years Walter served as excise commissioner for the town. He was a founder of the Mineville Presbyterian church and a member of Morning Sun Lodge, No. 142, Free and Accepted Masons, in Port Henry, Essex county, New York. The above biographical information comes from Genealogy and Family History of northern New York, Lewis Historical Publishing, 1910.

1104. Henry Amos Tefft & Maria Josefa Dana [Jenorita Eliza Josefa] had:

1815. Henry Tefft,[225] b. March 1853 (Nipomo, Calif.); d. 1856 (Nipomo, Calif.).

Henry Amos Tefft (#1104), son of David Sabin (#515) and Eliza (Woodard) Tefft, was born in Union Village (Greenwich), New York, on August 24, 1823, and died in December 1852, according to a February 13, 1853, obituary in the Daily Alta California after drowning when his row boat capsized while attempting to land in heavy surf in San Luis harbor, California. The obituary stated that, "California, had lost one of her best citizens, and one devoted to the promotion of her prosperity and happiness." He married on July 9, 1850, Josefa Dana [Jenorita Eliza Josefa], the oldest daughter of William Goodwin and Maria (Carillo) Dana. Maria Josefa was the oldest of 21 Dana children.

According to US and California, history teacher, Thomas Tefft (Henry Amos Tefft, 1992) the following information is provided: After admission to the New York State Bar Association, Henry Amos, along with his parents and brothers and sisters relocated to Racine, Wisconsin. When news hit of the gold rush in California, in 1849 Henry was off to seek his fortune.

Henry never got to the gold fields. Instead, the article goes on to say, between 1849 and his death in 1852, Judge Henry Amos Tefft had helped in the writing of the California state Constitution, was elected to the lower house of the state Legislature, representing San Luis Obispo county, and finally was elected the first district Judge for the Second Judicial District (Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties).

Henry was one of the most vocal participants at the California Constitutional Convention and almost had a duel with another representative, James M. Jones, over setting district boundaries. In his politics, Assemblyman Tefft strongly favored the Indian [Native American] right to vote. He also favored property rights for women. The Constitutional Convention was finished on October 12, 1849, and Henry Tefft, who had served as secretary pro tem of the convention, along with William Marcy, strapped bundles of the new Constitution, "to their saddles...and assumed the responsibility of distributing copies to the southern part of the state." Author/historian Thomas Tefft noted that the constitution was issued in English and Spanish and "distributed over the country, with all the speed of fleet California horses."

On November 13, 1849, Henry was elected the first Assemblyman of San Luis Obispo county and was instrumental in passing legislation implementing a Homestead exemption clause. In 1850 he became one of the first District Judges in the state. In Nipomo, California, the Dana Adobe where Judge Henry and Josefa Dana Tefft lived still stands on Tefft street. Maria married second husband, Samuel Adams Pollard, on December 20, 1854, in Santa Barbara, California.

[225] In a 1992 article Henry Amos Tefft by California history teacher Thomas Tefft which was edited by John Bowen, Maria Josefa (Dana) Tefft gave birth to a daughter four months after Henry Amos Tefft's untimely death. In July 2003, the same Bowen, in a compilation of Descendants of William Goodwin Dana lists a son Henry Tefft, born and died as stated above, four months after Henry Amos' demise. Dana Genealogy confirms Henry Tefft (#1821) and died age three.

Hiram Brand. Tefft (#1166) was born February 21, 1843, in Washington county, New York, and died July 16, 1898, in Washington county, New York. Hiram married December 16, 1875, Sarah A. Smith. She was born July 27, 1853, and died July 29, 1937, in Washington county, New York. He was the son of Joseph R. (#555) and Lydia (Coon) Tefft. At the youthful age of 19 was mustered into the Union Army at Camp Washington (the Fairgrounds) in Salem, New York, September 4, 1862. He was a private in Co. A–Greenwich and Easton (Washington county), 123d Regiment, New York Volunteers. He saw action at Chancellorsville, Spotsylvania county, Virginia, May 1863, and Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, July 1 to 4, 1863.

On June 11, 1865, the 123d arrived at Fenton Barracks, Troy, New York, and were released from active duty on June 14. In 1862 the unit set out with 950 men. They returned with 525 men.

Hiram transferred to the Navy, April 17, 1864, and shipped aboard the U. S. Steamship "Winnebago" as ship Corporal, April 24, 1864. He was present at the time of the capture of the Rebel ram "Tennessee," and gunboats "Selma" and "Gaines," four large scows and four sloops. Hiram was also present at the capture of Fort Morgan, Fort Gaines, Spanish Fort, and the city of Mobile. He was discharged August 7, 1865.[227]

Hiram was a pharmacist and owned Tefft's Pharmacy on the corner of Main street and Washington Square, where N.Y.S. Rte. 29 heads north to Salem, New York. In the 1890's, Isaac B. Powell went to work for Hiram as a jeweler. Later I. B. Powell purchased the business and building, operating as a jeweler and pharmacy. His son Theodore Powell took over the business. In the late 1970's, early 1980's Ted retired and new owners operated a cafe type restaurant.

Hiram was active in Masonry belonging to Ashlar Lodge #584 F. & A. M. (Greenwich, New York); Federal Chapter #10, Royal Arch Masons (Salem, New York); and Calvary Commandery #69 (Sandy Hill, New York). Issue from this union is not known. Hiram's Greenwich cemetery grave stone is emblazoned with the Commandery symbol, which is seldom seen. It is more typical for gravestones to be emblazoned with the Masonic Blue Lodge symbol–the square and compass.

John J. Falkenberg, member of Ashlar Lodge #584 Free and Accepted Masons, found in Lodge minutes commentary on the Masonic funeral parade given for Hiram B. Tefft. Masons paraded from Saratoga Springs to Ashlar Lodge in Greenwich. It was noted that a hundred or more turned out for the affair in 1898. There was also a detail of the Masonic ceremonies printed in The Greenwich Journal.

1347. William H. Tefft & Sarah V. Cooke had:

2067. Laurence D. [H.] Tefft, b. ~1859.

William H. Tefft (#1347) was the son of Gardner R. (#692) and Sarah (Potter) Tefft. He was born October 3, 1833, in Greenwich, Washington county, New York. William married Sarah, the daughter of W. W. Cooke in March 14, 1860. Sarah was born about 1834.

Buried in an Easton, Washington county graveyard, William served as editor of the Whitehall Chronicle. He was also Assemblyman serving the New York state Legislature in 1873 and again in 1888. He was member of Phoenix Lodge #96 Free and Accepted Masons and Trinity Episcopal church. He was also a lawyer and member of the New York Bar association.

William was accepted into the law practice of Chester Allen Arthur in New York city. Mr. Arthur, in boyhood, during his father's tenure as pastor at Bottskill Baptist church, Union Village (now Greenwich) was a student and graduated from Union Village Academy in 1844. Chester then attended and graduated from Union college, Schenectady, New York in 1848. After teaching two years in Pownal, Vermont, Chester Arthur went to New York, where he studied law and became active in the Republican party. In 1853, Arthur was admitted to the New York bar. A landmark case which secured a place in history and in New York was the Lemmon case in which the future president challenged the validity of the Fugitive Slave law. Under Arthur's management of the case Black Americans won equal rights with Caucasian Americans in the street cars of New York.

In 1861 Mr. Arthur was a principal organizer of the New York State militia and at the outset of Civil war was appointed Quartermaster-General of the state. In 1873, President Grant appointed Arthur Collector of the Port of New York and served in that position until removed by President Hayes about 1877. In 1880, Chester Arthur was delegate-at-large from New York at the Republican National Convention and led the fight for a third term for President Ulysses S. Grant over President Rutherford B. Hayes. The maneuver stalemated the convention. At the convention Arthur was so powerful that he was able to secure the nomination of James A. Garfield for president and himself as the vice-presidential candidate. He became president following the death of Garfield on September 19, 1881.

The firm Mr. Chester Arthur belonged to was that of Culver, Potter and Arthur, in New York. The firm was founded by Judge Erastus Culver, who spent his early days practicing law in Union Village (Greenwich), N. Y. and retired there. Judge Culver, an eloquent orator, served in Congress and was Ambassador to Venezuela. He was also the financial backer of John W. Curtis, who founded The Washington county People's Journal (The Greenwich Journal) in October 1842, at Union Village, Washington county, New York.

William graduated from Union Village Academy, then Brown University. He was admitted to the New York bar and after several years he removed to Whitehall, Washington county, New York, where he practiced law and published the Whitehall Chronicle.[208]

†1490. Charles Eugene Tefft & Mary Foote Burt:

Charles Eugene Tefft (#1490) was the son of Henry Franklin Tefft (#823) and Elizabeth Shaw (Parsons) Tefft. He was born September 21, 1874, in Brewer, Penobscot county, Maine, near Bangor, and died September 19, 1951, at Presque Isle, Aroostook county, Maine. He was interred in Mount Hope cemetery, Bangor, Maine. Charles and Mary were married in 1899. She was born October 6, 1873. Children by the marriage are not known.

Charles was a sculptor, perhaps one of the premier American sculptors of the first half of the twentieth century. During his lifetime (1922) the Boston Sunday Herald named him "one of the leading sculptors of the United States." Among the first sculpture was of General Joshua L. Chamberlain who became a hero in the American Civil War, leading the 20th Maine Volunteers at the Battle of Gettysburg. Charles was age seventeen at the time.

An Internet site about Charles Eugene Tefft's sculptures <http://www.bairnet.org/potw/sculpture99/Tefft/default.htm> states: "Around the turn of the century, city expositions created many opportunities for American artists. Tefft's exposition commissions included an allegorical Lake Superior for the 1902 Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo; this plaster figure representing Iowa at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition of 1904, also known as the St. Louis World's Fair; a marble Renaissance Art statue which now stands over the entrance portico of the St. Louis Museum of Art; a statue group named Philadelphia Progressive at the 1926 Sesqui-Centennial Exhibition in Philadelphia; and a statue of Osceola at the Charleston Exposition. He was art director for the Sesqui-Centennial Exhibition."

"In 1905, Tefft won a competition for his design for an equestrian group statue and fountain for the New York Botanical Garden in the Bronx. His next commission was for a Revolutionary War soldier's monument in Fort Lee, New Jersey's Monument Park. This sculpture, completed in 1909, depicts two of General Washington's soldiers scaling the Palisades. In 1913 Tefft opened his own studio in New York City and, with friends, organized the New York Evening School of Industrial Art. He put his career on hold, though, to serve in the Ninth Coast Artillery during World War I." Other sculptures were: The Peace Monument in Belleville, New Jersey and the William H. Maxwell Memorial for the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

When the art world turned increasingly to modernism, Charles E. Tefft began doing more work for Maine. One of the more significant pieces was the Luther H. Pierce Memorial, also known as The Last Drive. The memorial sculpture was a gift to the city of Bangor, Maine from the descendants of lumber baron Luther H. Pierce. It was installed in 1925 and commemorates Luther Pierce's contributions to the lumbering industry, the city of Bangor and to the state of Maine.

"Another statue, this stands on the Kenduskeag Mall in downtown Bangor, Maine. It is a bronze statue of Hannibal Hamlin and was erected in 1927. Hamlin (1809 - 1891) served as Congressman, Governor of Maine, United States Senator, and as United States Vice President during Abraham Lincoln's first term. He later served as port collector in Boston, as Senator from 1869 to 1881, and as Minister to Spain." A copy of the Hamlin statue in Bangor stands in Statuary Hall in the United States

Capitol Building, Washington, D.C. It is one of two statues given to Statuary Hall by the State of Maine, it was given in 1935.

"Another Tefft sculpture in Bangor is the Veterans of Foreign Wars Memorial, installed in Norumbega Parkway in 1939. Lady Victory holds a torch in one hand and a laurel branch in the other. Although classical in style, this is one of the earliest sculptures to be electrically wired."

Finally, the Spanish-American War Memorial in Bangor's Davenport Park was designed by Charles Tefft and incorporates the bow shield of the U. S. S. Maine. The sinking of the battleship in Havana harbor was the event that touched off the Spanish-American war in 1898 and aroused the battle cry, "Remember the Maine!" Much of the foregoing information about Charles Eugene Tefft's sculptures was found on the World Wide Web at <http://www.bairnet.org/potw/sculpture99/Tefft/default.htm>.

The following history from the Internet tells about the formation and naming of Tifton and Tift county Georgia:

History of Tift county

“The land now comprising Tift county, GA was once the hunting grounds of the Lower Creek Indians. It is the opinion of some historians that these Creeks descended from migrating tribes from the west and were in this area prior to the arrival of Hernando DeSoto in 1540. Following the Spanish the French came and then the English. While James Oglethorpe is credited with the "founding" of Georgia in 1733, few of these early pioneers were involved in the settlement of south-central Georgia, commonly called the Wiregrass. The settlers of the Wiregrass in the late 1700's and early 1800's were primarily immigrants arriving in the Mid-Atlantic states and migrating south through the Carolinas into Georgia.

"In 1803, the Land Lottery Act was passed which provided for the survey of new lands, the division into equal lots and the numbering of these lots. In 1818, the Georgia Legislature created three new counties in the southernmost portion of this land. They were early to the west, Irwin in the middle and Appling on the east. It is in the original Irwin county that Tift county would later be formed.

"By 1870, many small communities and towns had sprung up as a consequence of the development of railroads in this area. The main reason for the railroad was for the shipment north of local farm commodities, lumber and naval stores (turpentine). It also brought settlers into the area. One such pioneer was Henry Harding Tift, a railroad machinist. Having been persuaded to come to Albany, Georgia by his uncle, Tift moved east in 1872 to the area currently known as Tifton where he built a sawmill and commissary. It is from these humble beginnings that Tifton and Tift county was formed. On August 16, 1905, the Georgia legislature passed a bill creating Tift county, formed with almost equal portions from the then Worth, Irwin and Berrien Counties.

"For a more detailed account, I refer you to the History of Tift county by Ida Belle Williams from which the above was compiled. Several copies are available at the Tifton - Tift county Public Library."

+2437. Guy Colfax Tefft, b. August 19, 1905 (Belvidere, Ill.); d. May 16, 1978 (Westport, Conn.); m. Svea _____.

John Alvin Tefft (#1864) was the son of Schuyler Colfax Tefft Sr (#1160) and Mary (Billings) Tefft. He was born January 5, 1872, in Warren, Jo Daviess, Illinois, and died in Belvidere, Boone, Illinois. On September 2, 1901, he married Coralyn Wickwire in Winslow, Stephenson county, Illinois. Coralyn, the daughter of William and Teressie (Wire) Wickwire, was born May 7, 1877 in Winslow, Illinois and died in Stamford, Connecticut.

John was a traveling salesman and salesman about 1900, an assembler at sewing machine company in 1910, and by 1920 a business manager for his wife's cottage business, Artificial Flower company. In 1900 he resided in Waukesha, Wisconsin and removed to Belvidere, Boone county, Illinois, in 1910.

Coralyn had a hobby of making artificial flowers and turned the hobby into a living room [cottage] business about 1920. Ultimately she employed six women who produced elaborate floral arrangements. Theora (#2436) was an Assistant Designer. In the 1920's the craft took a great deal of artistic skill to make the flowers and arrangements look real. The flowers were rather expensive as each stem took time, material, and skill to turn into a vision of beauty. Coralyn developed and earned the reputation as one of the best flower artists in the industry. Her clients were primarily hotels in New York and Chicago, as well as wealthy families. When the Great Depression hit in the 1930's her business was adversely affected. Coralyn moved in with her daughter, Theora Tefft Loop, sometime around 1930. She was proprietress of a Linen shop in Belvidere. At age 52, she was a very talented skilled, and capable woman. After retiring, Coralyn moved to Connecticut to live with her son Guy Colfax (#2437), a successful engineer.

2440. Donald Kempthorn Tefft, b. April 27, 1909; d. October 30, 1918 (Nampa, Ida.).

Schuyler Colfax Tefft Jr (#1865) was the son of Schuyler Colfax Tefft Sr (#1160) and Mary (Billings) Tefft. He was born November 13, 1874, in Illinois. He married October 27, 1897, Mary L. Gamber in Warren, Jo Daviess county, Illinois. Mary was born February 16, 1878, in Illinois and died February 3, 1949, in Corvallis, Benton, Oregon. She was a cook at College hall in 1930. In 1930 they resided in Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon. In 1918 Schuyler Jr was a Rural Free Delivery (R.F.D.) carrier in Nampa, Canyon county, Idaho. He registered for World War I draft on September 12, 1918, at Nampa, Canyon county, Idaho. The 1900 census listed him as being in Warren, Jo Daviess, Illinois, and in 1930 in Corvallis, Benton, Oregon.

†1867. Oscar Worthington Tefft

Oscar Worthington Tefft (#1867) was the son of Martin Coon (#1161) and Mary (Clum) Tefft. He was born at the Tefft Beech Hill farm on September 1, 1865, and died January 28, 1949, at the Tefft farm on Spraguetown road, Greenwich, Washington county, New York. Oscar was director of Greenwich town fire insurance company and served many years as the organization's secretary. He was Justice of the Peace of the Town of Greenwich.

A genealogist, Oscar researched the Tefft ancestry and his findings, a century ago, became a significant resource for many researching their Tefft roots. His research provided much information for and was included in Rev. Charles H. W. Stocking's 1904 publication The Tefft Ancestry.

He was a great outdoors man and hiked a lot in the Adirondack mountains and lower Adirondacks. A naturalist, as well, Oscar found a great many Indian or Native American stone points, knives, and tools. A large collection of the projectile points he found were donated to the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, District of Columbia.

Oscar was also a local weather recorder for the weather service. Beginning around 1900, he kept records of local high and low temperatures.

Oscar lived, and owned the Tefft farm on the Spraguetown road just off and to the east of the North Greenwich road. His father and mother, Martin Coon and Mary (Clum) Tefft had moved from Beech Hill to Spraguetown road about 1885. After Oscar's death, ownership of the Tefft farm passed to his brother Grant J. Tefft (#1870). The farm was sold in the 1950's after the death of Grant Tefft.

1870. Grant Joseph Tefft & Mazie Huggins had:

+2444. Richard Samson Tefft, b. April 21, 1917; d. November 17, 1980; m. February 22, 1941, Sally Birdseye Nothnagle, b. October 16, 1918; d. May 29, 2016.
+2445. Clarissa Culver Tefft, b. August 7, 1923; d. August 18, 2000, 8:30 p. m.; m. September 17, 1949, George Edward [Edmund] Hughes Jr, b. May 27, 1922; d. August 22, 1983.

Grant Joseph Tefft (#1870) was the son of Martin Coon (#1161) and Mary (Clum) Tefft. He was born October 8, 1874, in Greenwich, Washington county, New York, and died there of a "tired heart" on January 28, 1948. Grant married Mary Lucina Huggins on September 18, 1907. Mary Lucina Huggins was born September 26, 1879, in North Argyle, Washington county, New York, and died December 3, 1961, in Greenwich, New York. Most of her adult life she was better known as "Mazie." They resided at 76 Salem Street, Greenwich, Washington county, New York. Grant served as President (mayor) of the Village of Greenwich.

Mazie, daughter of John Williamson Huggins and Lucina Jane Fuller, as a young girl (probably aged 7), went to live on the Derby road at the North road, Greenwich, New York, farm with her uncle and aunt, James Edward (#1339) and Mary Jane (Huggins) Tefft. Mazie also was an acquaintance of Primitive Artist Grandma Moses (Anna Mary Robinson) who was born in Easton, New York, and lived five miles north of Hoosick Falls, Rensselaer county, New York. Mazie painted with Grandma Moses and with friend Byrd Eddy developed a process for making painted scene candles.

Grant Joseph became editor of The Greenwich Journal in 1900. The newspaper was founded in 1842 by John W. Curtis as The Washington county Peoples' Journal. After a fire, December 1916, Grant bought the weekly newspaper from H. C. Morhous and continued to edit and publish the newspaper until his death January 28, 1948. In 1921, when the publisher of The Salem Press decided to abandon publishing that Washington county newspaper, Grant bought the paper for $100 and without missing an issue brought that paper back to life. After Grant's death, his wife Mazie continued as owner-publisher until her death December 3, 1961.

During 1941, 1942, and 1943 Grant wrote a long series of feature columns in The Greenwich Journal gleaning and quoting from the hometown weekly newspaper titled: The Story of Union Village. The columns were published in two volumes in 1942 and 1943 by and at The Journal in Greenwich, New York. The two volumes are a history of Union Village, now Greenwich, New York during the years John W. Curtis established, published and edited the newspaper. In addition to the local history the volumes are also a wonderful genealogy resource for many early families.

Jane W. (#2443) and Richard S. (#2444) joined the family business in the early 1940's. Jane took over the editor's pen in 1948 and Richard assumed the advertising duties following his service in World War II. During their years at the helm, Tefft Publishers, Inc. also leased and published The Schuylerville Standard in nearby Saratoga county and printed Rensselaer county's oldest newspaper, The Schaghticoke Sun until 1969.

Jane and Richard guided the newspaper through a disastrous fire in July 1951 and shared Greenwich's rich history at the time of the sesquicentennial celebration in 1959. In 1960, Dick and Jane began a new venture by opening a stationery store in conjunction with the newspaper and since its founding The Greenwich Journal has operated a commercial print shop producing letterhead, envelops, business cards, booklets, tickets, etc.

In 1968-1969 the Tefft's set aside hot metal production of the newspapers for the more flexible cut and paste photo offset method and The Greenwich Journal and The Salem Press were merged into one weekly newspaper, The Greenwich Journal and Salem Press. At that time printing of the Schuylerville and Schaghticoke newspapers was abandoned.

In the early 1970's, Clarissa (#2445) assumed an active role in the family business. Through the 1970's Clarissa's children, Martin (#2445.1) and Margaret (#2445.2) assumed some of the reporting and editing duties. Jane Anne (#2445.3) and Elizabeth (#2445.4) also worked in various capacities at The Journal.

In 1976 Jane retired, leaving Richard and Clarissa to continue the family tradition. Richard (Dick) having written and edited the newspaper off and on through the years and been publisher, assumed the publishing and editing responsibilities with his wife Sally picking up a big part of the load, as well, as publisher. In the late 1980's, early 1990's Sally led the newspaper into the computer age. At various times, Dick and Sally's children Tabor (#2774), Tim (#2792), Culver (#2791), and Susan (#2790) have participated in the family endeavor. Currently Timothy is part of the third generation delivering quality hometown news. It is interesting to note, in the year 2004, that the Tefft family has owned the weekly newspaper for 88 years and been full participants of its success for 104 years.

In 1987, The Journal-Press celebrated 150 years of continuous publication, having never missed an edition even though fires had greatly hindered production for several weeks, at least two times in the newspaper's history. As this ancestry volume goes into production in the year 2004, the newspaper is completing its 162d year of publication in a fine family tradition and 104 years in the Tefft branch headed by Grant Joseph.

Theodore Adencourt Tefft (#1878) was son of Benjamin Franklin Tefft (#1188) and Harriet Melinda (Hanchett) Tefft. He was born circa 1852, in Jamestown, Chautauqua county, New York, and died April 26, 1895, at Ridgefield, Fairfield county, Connecticut, at the age of 43. Adencourt, as he may have preferred, and Lydia were married, circa 1872, based on the birth of their first child. Lydia, daughter of George H. B. Avery and Lydia A. _____, was likely born in Pound Ridge, Westchester county, New York around 1850, based on where they were living. When her death at Ridgefield, Fairfield county, Connecticut occurred is not known, but seems to have been after 1900, based on her second marriage date.

Theodore A. Tefft's (#2340) date of death comes from Lake View cemetery records found on the Internet. His age of 30 puts his birth circa 1883. It is not known if he married and had children.

Theodore was a member and active in Pilgrim Lodge, No. 46, Independent Order of Odd Fellows (I.O.O.F.). He served in many of the office positions, working his way up to Past Grand. Theodore and his family removed to Ridgefield, Connecticut in 1875. Pilgrim lodge performed traditional burial ritual at the cemetery. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church in Ridgefield. Theodore and Linda were buried in a cemetery in Ridgefield, Connecticut.

After Theodore's death in 1895, Lydia married Francis A. Parketon, circa January to March 1900, in Connecticut. A June 20, 1900 census indicates that the couple had been married four months.

Information is graciously provided by Laurie Tvedt of New York, New York (The city so nice they named it twice).

Andrew Ross Martin of Seattle, Washington indicates on Rootsweb that Pha married Helen H. Stowe. The Anderson county, Kansas marriage database gives Helen's spelling as "Stow."

Pha first married Helen D. Stowe, May 7, 1866, in Anderson county, Kansas. Helen was born in Prairieville, Barry county, Michigan, on August 19, 1846. She died July 15, 1919, in Portland, Multnomah county, Oregon. It may be Pha and Helen divorced as she was later married to a man with surname Jackson.

Next Pha, on December 7, 1904, married Clara O. (Fitz) Preston, born in 1853 and died in 1937. Pha and Clara were both interred in Grand Army of the Republic cemetery, Portland, Multnomah county, Oregon.

Pha's name is usually seen as "Pha." with a period which suggests the given name was shortened to Pha. Possible given names that might be so shortened we can imagine are: Alpha, Elipha, Eliphalet, Lapham, Orpha, Stephan, Zilpha, and Zephaniah. There are probably others we don't yet imagine. The compiler does not suggest that Pha's first name actually was shortened from some other given name; only that it may have.

Civil War service about Pha Tefft: He was a Private in Company G, 7th Regiment, Kansas (Calvary). Death certificate states burial at GAR Plot, Greenwood.

Account of Thomas Jefferson Tefft's death

San Juan Prospector dated Dec. 11, 1897

Elder Tefft was fatally shot at the South Fork sawmill Monday afternoon by Paddy Ryan. It appears Ryan was in charge of the mill for Weiss and Freeman who had a claim on the mill. Tefft arrived with a team and wagon and announced he was taking away some of the machinery. He had loaded some of the machinery on his wagon when Ryan objected and ordered Tefft to desist. Tefft had apparently shown no legal authority for removal of the machinery. Refusing to desist, the two men had words and Ryan fired a charge of buckshot, killing Tefft. The man who had accompanied Tefft went to Del Norte to report the shooting and a coroner's inquest panel was selected. After consideration the verdict was a felonious killing by Paddy Ryan. Tefft's body was removed to Del Norte.

"LUTHER CLINTON TEFFT - The first position Luther C. Tefft ever held in a mill was with the Palmer Brothers Quilt Mills, and since that time he has filled many positions, now being assistant superintendent of the Bank Paper Mills in Montville, New London county, Connecticut. He is a son of Elmer Tefft, a farmer of the town of Griswold, New London county, Connecticut, but later moved to a farm in Oakdale, Connecticut, where he is now living, aged fifty-four years. He married Jessie McClure, born in Griswold, Connecticut.

"Luther Clinton Tefft was born at the home farm in the town of Griswold, Connecticut, August 28, 1891. He attended public schools until fifteen years of age, then secured employment with the Palmer Brothers Quilt Mills in Montville, his parents having previously moved there. He remained three years with Palmer Brothers, going thence to what is now the Keyes Products Company Mill, where he remained until 1915. In that year he came to his present position, assistant superintendent of the Bank Paper Mills in Montville. Mr. Tefft is a member of Oxoboxo Blue Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, in Montville, New London county, Connecticut, and in politics is extremely independent.

"Mr. Tefft married Mabel LaFlamme, born in Yantic, Connecticut, February 11, 1892, daughter of James and Grace (Windsor) La Flame. Mr. and Mrs. Tefft are the parents of four children: Dorothy T., born February 7, 1912; Ruth, born January 26, 1914; Elsie, born February 16, 1917; Luther, born May 5, 1920. Mr. and Mrs. Tefft are members of the Episcopal church of Norwich, New London county, Connecticut.

"From his obituary: Luther was a farmer all his life, operating a farm in Oakdale after having moved there from East Hartford around 1939. He was a member of the Montville Center Congregational Church. Luther died from accidental drowning while swimming at the Oxoboxo Lake Dam in Montville."

†2443. Jane Worthington Tefft:

Jane Worthington Tefft (#2443) was the daughter of Grant Joseph (#1870) and Mary Lucina "Mazie" (Huggins) Tefft. She was born November 23, 1912, in Greenwich, Washington county, New York, and died May 27, 1984, at Mary McClellan hospital, Cambridge, Washington county, New York, just months shy of 72 years of age. She never married and lived at the home of her parents at 76 Salem street until the death of her mother in 1960.

Following the death of her father, Grant, in January 1948, Jane became editor of The Greenwich Journal and Fort Edward Advertiser and The Salem Press weekly newspapers. Her mother, Mazie, became publisher of the newspapers. In the mid 1950's the family incorporated the business as Tefft Publishers', Inc. and shares were divided among Mazie, Jane, her brother Richard, and sister Clarissa. While Clarissa played a minor role in the conduct of the family business, Richard continued the advertising responsibilities he had assumed following World War II, some writing, and was active in linotype setting of news and advertising copy. Dick, as he was better known, also was an integral part of the commercial printing side of the business.

As editor, Jane chiefly reported community meetings (town and village as well as school board), community and county events and meetings. At the county level Jane reported monthly and sometimes special meeting of the Washington county Board of Supervisors. In addition to story writing, the important task Jane completed every week for nearly 30 years was editing news copy, writing headlines, and putting the linotype and handset type pages to bed for printing. Jane also gave her editing skills to the production of The Schuylerville Standard and The Schaghticoke Sun weekly newspapers, which were printed on the newspaper web press at The Greenwich Journal's plant in the old Hill block, Greenwich, Washington county.

In 1976, Jane retired from the family business and as editor of the newspapers. Richard and Clarissa bought her shares and they took over the duties there. Clarissa, her children pretty well grown, took over office duties and Dick became editor, a task he was well capable of and had long enjoyed. He continued to have a hand in the advertising, saying, "Advertising is what makes the newspaper live." Around 1978, Dick bought Clarissa family shares and took over Tefft Publishers', Inc.

2444. Richard Samson Tefft & Sally Birdseye Nothnagle had:

+2790. Susan Curtis Tefft, b. January 19, 1942; m. August 27, 1966, Timothy Morse Guilford, b. February 27, 1942. (div. October 4, 1996); d. June 17, 2017.

+2791. Culver Stephen Tefft, b. September 29, 1946; m 1st June 21, 1969, Irene Claire Berry, b. April 2, 1946; m. 2d August 27, 1976, Patricia Kay Flook, b. October 15, 1951.

†2792. Timothy Huggins Tefft, b. January 10, 1949.

+2793. Tabor Nathan Tefft, b. April 10, 1953; m. September 11, 1999, JoAnne Louise Lucas (Lambert by 1st marriage), b. November 11, 1950.

Richard Samson Tefft (#2444) was the son of Grant Joseph (#1870) and Mary Lucina "Mazie" (Huggins) Tefft. He was born April 21, 1917, and died November 17, 1980. He married Sally February 22, 1941, in Stratford, Fairfield county, Connecticut. Sally, daughter of Claribel May Lewis and Harold Edgar Nothnagle, was born October 16, 1918, in Stratford, Fairfield county, Connecticut. Due to mail and telephone call confusion with Richard E. Tefft (#2892) son of Earl F. Tefft (#2584) and Martha Dewey of Center Falls, Town of Greenwich, Richard S. Tefft (#2444) went by "Dick." Most people (friends and family) knew him as Dick.

Resided in Greenwich, New York, where Richard and Sally continued (See commentary under Grant Tefft (#1870), as owners of The Greenwich Journal and Salem Press after buying out sister Clarissa Tefft (#2445) Hughes in 1979. Tabor (#2793), Culver (#2791) and Timothy (#2792) variously joined and served the weekly newspaper from 1979 to date with Tim carrying the pen from 1996 on. Dick, as Richard was better known, was editor at the time of his death, November 17, 1980. During his some 50 years tenure in the family business he did virtually all the advertising, wrote numerous editorials and contributed a weekly column entitled "Bits and Pieces" through which he shared his musings about local history, memories of growing up, his heritage, and countless stories often adding his wry sense of humor.

About Spring 1960 Dick and Jane decided to open Journal Stationers, a satellite store retailing business, stationer, and school supplies, as they were already accommodating many customers, supplying business forms, engraved stationery, and other business supplies. The store's location was the former Greenwich Journal office at 103 Main street (the Hill bock). After a fire in July 1951, the weekly newspaper moved its complete operations to the basement of the building, entered from Hill (#5) street. The space after the fire was used by Skiff Dry Goods, before relocating to a new building further down Main street in 1958. During Greenwich's Sesquicentennial celebration in August 1959, the store space was the headquarters for the Sesquicentennial committee.

Dick entered active duty for World War II on April 1, 1943, at Camp Upton, U. S. Army Reception Center, Long Island, New York. From there he was given orders to Camp Lee, Virginia, Recruit Reception Center, where U. S. Army clothing was issued to soldiers for the war. After going to an Army camp in Pennsylvania he was sent to Salisbury, England with the 442d Engineers. The Cunard lines ocean liner The Queen Mary was the transport ship on which he went to England. Richard served in England until December 1944 and then his unit was sent to France, where he remained until December 1945. He arrived home, after a three week trip on a freighter, about December 29, 1945. After the New Year Richard returned to the Army briefly until his discharge in January 1946.

During the war, Sally (w#2444) and Susan (#2790) spent part of the summer of 1943 and then again during the winter of 1944 in Yellow Lake and St. Paul, Minnesota, respectively, with Claribel and George Hurd, her mother and stepfather (and first cousin once removed)..

He was a member and Past Master of Ashlar Lodge #584, Free & Accepted Masons. He belonged to Federal Chapter #10, Royal Arch Masons; Calvary Commandery #29, and a York Rite Mason. He was an avid trout fisherman, poet, and meticulous writer.

Sally is an inactive member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She graduated from high school in Stratford, Fairfield county, Connecticut, in 1936, and from Middlebury college, Middlebury, Addison county, Vermont, in 1940. She earned a Bachelor's degree in English and minored in homemaking. She enjoyed golf, playing in a couple league at Battenkill Country Club and was an avid bowler, participating in several women and mixed bowling leagues until the Middle Falls bowling alley closed around 2000. Sally also enjoyed wild flowers and created a wonderful wild flower garden at the home with such species as Maiden Hair fern, Pink and Yellow Lady Slippers, Dutchman's Breeches, Solomon's Seal, and Jack-in-the-Pulpit.

In 2013, after nearly 100 years of family ownership and over 100 years of family involvement, Sally retired from Tefft Publishers' Inc. and The Greenwich Journal & Salem Press weekly newspaper and Journal Stationers. The stationery was closed and the newspaper was sold to Peter Gregg, an agriculture newsletter publisher. After a tenuous year with Peter promoting the dissolution of the Village of Greenwich Gregg resold the weekly newspaper to Meghan K. Phalen and her husband Craig who have rejuvenated the paper with new layout designs , graphics, and focus areas. Gregg pursued an active campaign to have the village residents vote to dissolve the entity which was strongly opposed and ultimately caused his demise at the helm of the long running weekly newspaper.

Sally died, May 29, 2016, the day before Memorial day at the age of 97, just months before her 98th birthday.

Clarissa Culver Tefft (#2445) was the daughter of Grant Joseph (#1870) and Mary Lucina "Mazie" (Huggins) Tefft. She was born August 7, 1923, and died August 18, 2000, 8:30 p. m. in Greenwich, New York. Resided: Greenwich, New York. Clarissa and George were married September 17, 1949. He, son George Edward Hughes Sr and Margaret Anna McHugh, was born May 27, 1922, and died August 22, 1983.

George retired from Greenwich, Washington county, New York, Post Office in 1973 where he worked 29 years. He was a carrier for many years and Assistant Postmaster at the time of his retirement. George attained the rank of Staff Sergeant, maintaining bombers on Saipan in World War II. He was a skilled cabinetmaker, making many fine reproductions of antiques in his retirement years. Martin (#2445.1), Margaret (#2445.2), Jane Anne (#2445.3), and Elizabeth (#2445.4) all worked at *The Greenwich Journa*l during high school, college, or professionally following academics in the 1970's.

Martin (2445.1) was born March 5, 1951 at Mary McClellan hospital, Cambridge, N. Y. He graduated Greenwich Central school in June 1969; Bard college, Annandale, N. Y., in 1973 with Liberal Arts degree. Later in life he completed a culinary arts program at Adirondack Community college, Hudson Falls, Washington county, New York. After graduation from Bard college, Marty worked at The Greenwich Journal and Salem Press writing, reporting, and editing for the weekly newspaper. Following the purchase of the newspaper by Richard and Sally Tefft in 1972 Marty pursued culinary arts and worked in many of the fine restaurants in Saratoga Springs, Saratoga county, New York where he resided with his companion Alexandra Shattuck. Marty died April 25, 2017 at Saratoga hospital. A Funeral Liturgy was held at Bethesda Episcopal church, Saratoga Springs, N. Y. and burial at Greenwich cemetery. Funeral arrangements were directed by William J. Burke & Sons/Bussing & Cundiff Funeral Homes.

To family and friends Margaret is known as "Meg" and Elizabeth as "Liz."

Lucina Verish (#2445.5) informs us (May 2009) that her father's actual middle name was "Edmund" but a flustered doctor filled out the birth certificate with the middle name as "Edward" incorrectly. George went by George Jr his entire life.

Obituary

Decorated war veteran Ralph Frederick Tefft (91) recently passed away peacefully in his sleep at his home in Morrisonville, NY.

Born in Pawtucket, RI in 1926, SMSgt.(Ret) Tefft volunteered for service near the end of WWII and quickly found himself flying combat missions with the US Army Air Corps. He flew intelligence-gathering missions during the Cold War with Russia and found himself in combat again during the Korean War where he survived one of the "Black Tuesday" events where numerous bombers were shot down in "MiG Alley." During one of those missions he received combat injuries that would have earned him a Purple Heart if had applied for it. His career included service with the US Army, US Army Air Corps, US Navy and US Air Force. During the Vietnam War Sgt. Tefft shifted to the role of in-flight refueling technician, a skill he mastered and taught for many years prior to his retirement at Plattsburgh AFB in 1976.

Ralph Tefft was pre-deceased by his wife of 56 years Marie Annette (Blais) and is survived by three daughters.

During his retirement he earned an Associate's Degree in Business at Clinton Community College and worked for Kodak for 10 years. He was very active with American Legion Post 20 and Post 1619 and VFW Post 309. He volunteered with the DAV - Disable American Veterans - to drive disabled veterans to various appointments and was especially proud to participate in local chili cookoff competitions.

The date of John's marriage to Ruth is unavailable. Ruth, the daughter of Carroll H. and Harriett M. Wright, was born circa 1913, in Ticonderoga, Essex county, New York, and died there December 11, 2007. John was owner and publisher of The Ticonderoga Sentinel weekly newspaper since the middle 1940's. After his death in 1965, Ruth continued as publisher until the newspaper was sold to an Elizabethtown, Essex county, New York small newspaper chain in 1972. Following sale of The Ticonderoga Sentinel Ruth served as court clerk beginning 1976. She was active in Ticonderoga Girl Scout activities, Ticonderoga Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. In addition Mrs. Tefft graduated from Ticonderoga High school and was active there in sports and other school activities. Information gleaned from obituary published December 14, 2007 in The Post-Star, daily Glens Falls, Warren county, New York newspaper.

Ruth M. (Wright) Tefft obituary[255]

TICONDEROGA–Ruth M. (Wright) Tefft, 94, mother of the late Sally A. (Tefft) Matthews, widow of the late John B. Tefft, died Tuesday, Dec 11, 2007, at 3:30 p. m. Mrs. Tefft was a lifelong resident of Ticonderoga and the daughter of the late Carroll H. and Harriett M. Wright, also of Ticonderoga. She was a graduate of Ticonderoga High School and was active in high school sports as well as many other high school programs. For years she spent time and effort with the local Girl Scout troops and was a member of the Girl Scout committee. She was a former member of the Ticonderoga Chapter of The Daughters of the American Revolution. For 25 years, she was associated with the Ticonderoga Sentinel, a former local newspaper. At the time of her husband's death in 1965, she assumed his position as publisher of the paper until its sale in 1972. She had been employed by the town of Ticonderoga since 1976, as court clerk of the Town Justice Court and, during her tenure there, she had worked with 10 different justices. Survivors include her two grandsons, Alexander and Zachary Martin of Burlington, Vt.; her sister, Dorothy M. Nadeau of Orchard Park, N.Y.; a niece, Karen Bielich and her son, John, of Pittsburgh, Penn.; and a nephew, Maj. David J. Nadeau, his wife, Misty, and daughters, Jenelle and Desiree of Peyton, Colo. At the request of the deceased, no funeral service is to be held. Arrangements are under the direction of the Wilcox & Regan Funeral Home of Ticonderoga.

Susan Curtis Tefft (#2790), the daughter of Richard Samson (#2444) and Sally Birdseye (Nothnagle) Tefft, was born January 19, 1942.

Sue attended Greenwich central school through her freshman year and then went to Northfield school for girls, a boarding school in Northfield, Franklin county, Massachusetts. Northfield school originally opened as Northfield Seminary for Girls. She graduated in June 1960 and in the fall attended Keuka college, along the shores of Keuka lake, near Penn Yan, Yates county in New York's Finger lake region. Sue graduated from Keuka college and earned a BA degree in English Literature in 1964.

Following graduation, Susan married Tim Guilford, who graduated from Mount Herman school for boys, five miles from Northfield, across the Connecticut river near Gill, Franklin county, Massachusetts. Tim also graduated from University of Connecticut, Hartford, Connecticut in 1964. Sue retired from the Hartford companies about 2002 after working about ten years in their printing department and another ten as computer programmer. She enjoys and makes a living by cat sitting, house sitting and reading for people. Susan plays the guitar, enjoys reading science fiction and playing World of Warcraft on-line, an interactive dungeons & dragons game. Sue is an Al-anon leader in West Hartford, Connecticut. The organization has chapters in many cities around the country and consists of fellowships of relatives and friends of alcoholics who share their experience, strength, and hope in order to solve their common problems. Nicknames Susan has answered to are: Sue and Taffy. Her husband was often called "Tim".

In 1971 Northfield school for girls and Mount Herman school for boys, administrated by a board of directors, merged and operated from both campuses as Northfield-Mount Herman school. At the end of the 2004-2005 academic year Northfield-Mount Herman closed the Northfield campus and consolidated operations at the Mount Herman campus.

Sue and Tim divorced October 4, 1996. Sometime after that event Tim relocated to California and didn't keep in touch with his children. Kate, around 2011, tracked her father down and began writing him. Tim seemed not overly thrilled with Kate's reaching out, but she persisted. In 2017, she learned that her father was hospitalized following a stroke and Kate and Ray drove to Los Angeles to see him at Grand Park Convalescent hospital there. Tim died from complications, June 17, 20017, at the Los Angeles hospital.

2791. Culver Stephen Tefft & 2d wife Patricia Kay Flook had:

+3048. Rebecca Maxon Tefft, b. December 24, 1977; m. October 27, 2007, Michael Ray Curtis, b. June 21, 1966.

+3049. Bethany Noël Tefft, b. December 25, 1979; m. May 14, 2005 (Richmond, Ky.), Matthew Scott Smith, b. August 25, 1982.

Culver Stephen Tefft (#2791), the son of Richard Samson (#2444) and Sally Birdseye (Nothnagle) Tefft, was born September 29, 1946, at Mary McClellan hospital, in Cambridge, Washington, New York. Culver left Greenwich high school after sophomore year and attended the Darrow school (once the largest community of Shakers in America), Mt. Lebanon, New York. Culver graduated Westminster college, Fulton, Missouri, June 1969. He married first wife, Irene Claire Berry on June 21, 1969 and the marriage ended in divorce in 1974. Irene was the daughter of Frank Berry and Evelyn Burdorf. There were no children from that union. He served in U. S. Army in Vietnam (October 3, 1970 to 21 Jul 1971) with A Co., 475th Bn., 5th Infantry (Mechanized) Division. He resided in Louisville, Jefferson, Kentucky, from October 1969 to October 31, 1979.

He served in U. S. Army in Vietnam (October 3, 1970 to 21 Jul 1971) with C Co., 1st Bn., 77th Armor and A Co., 75th Support Bn., 5th Infantry (Mechanized) Division. His first two months in country Culver was Battalion S-5 for Civilian Affairs. Following his military service Culver resided in Louisville, Jefferson, Kentucky, from July 1971 to October 31, 1979.

During summers, from 1961 to 1966, Culver was a camper, Counselor-in-Training, and Counselor at Camp Pok-o-Moonshine, Willsboro, Essex county, New York, not far from Lake Champlain. He took advantage of many hiking and canoeing opportunities during those summers and became an Adirondack 46-R (One who has climbed all 46 peaks in the Adirondack mountains whose summits are 4,000 feet in altitude or higher. Culver's first climb was Mount McComb (August 1961). He became a 46-R on Redfield mountain on August 18, 1966. His 46-R number and rank is No. 360. He also climbed Slide and Hunter (over 4000 ft.) mountains in the Catskills, as well as portions of the Presidential Range, including Mt. Washington, in the White Mountains of New Hampshire and Mt. Mansfield and Camel's Hump in the Green Mountains of Vermont.

Culver attended Greenwich central school through his sophomore year (from 1951 to 1962). In September 1962 he attended Darrow school, New Lebanon, Columbia county, New York. At Darrow, a private college preparatory school, he completed his sophomore, junior and senior years of high school, graduating in June 1969. Darrow school was originally built by Shakers beginning 1781 as the Mount Lebanon Shaker communities (North Family, Church Family, West Family, and South Family). By the 1840's Mount Lebanon could brag on having the largest Shaker population in America with probably 1,000 or more Shakers. The Mount Lebanon Shaker community was visited about 1820 by English author Charles Dickens in order to witness the Shaker religious dancing. In 1932, the Shaker elders at Mount Lebanon deeded much of their buildings and real estate to the Lebanon school for boys. In 1939, the name was changed to Darrow school, named in honor of the Darrow family who befriended the early Shaker settlers at Mt. Lebanon. Astronaut Charles "Pete" Conrad was a 1949 graduate of Darrow. He was Apollo 12 Commander (November 1969) and third man to walk on the moon (also November 1969). Around 2000, Conrad tragically died in an automobile accident in California. George Catlett Marshall, President Truman's Secretary of State (1947-1949) and Lady Randolph Churchill, Winston's daughter, the church and library were opened in April 1969. Among the artifacts in possession of the college and museum are some sections of the Berlin Wall.

On August 27, 1976, Culver S. married second wife Patricia Kay Flook, originally of Madison, Dane Wisconsin. Pat is the daughter of Kenneth Robert Flook and Evelyn LaVerne Nolen. Pat was born October 15, 1951, in Madison, Dane county, Wisconsin. Pat graduated from Robert M. LaFollette high school, Madison, Dane county, Wisconsin in June 1969. Tragically, her mother died from cancer when Pat was age twelve. After graduation from high school she was a clerk in a pharmacy in Madison. About 1971, at the invitation and urging of her mother's sister, Thelma Nolen, Pat removed to Louisville, Jefferson, Kentucky to live with Gilbert and Thelma Hayes to help her aunt with her uncle's care.

Following the wedding Culver and Pat resided in Louisville, Jefferson, Kentucky, until removing to Greenwich, Washington, New York, where Culver assumed the advertising duties and many other responsibilities of The Greenwich Journal and Salem Press in November 1979. Before relocating Culver was Branch Manager and then Vice President, and finally Loan Service department manager at Jefferson Federal Savings and Loan, a position created by the association president at the insistence of Culver. The move saved the association some 20 thousand dollars in uncontrolled expenses, annually.

Pat worked for a number of years for the Jefferson county schools in their receiving department before her marriage. She then worked up to cash office clerk for an Ayr-Way department store in Louisville from 1976 to October 1979.

Culver served as Advertising agent/manager, reporter, writer, photographer and paper deliverer while at The Greenwich Journal from 1979 to 1994. Pat, after the Bethany (#3049) started school in 1984 took a job with Service Merchandise center in Saratoga Springs, Saratoga, New York, where she was Inventory Control clerk and part-time cash office clerk for a couple of years. Taking a closer to home opportunity she was hired as teller at Home and City Savings bank, in Greenwich, Washington, New York. While there, Pat worked her way up to head teller. During her tenure Home and City merged with and became a branch of Trustco bank, home office in Schenectady, Schenectady county, New York. About 1992, Pat returned to Service Merchandise in Saratoga taking a jewelry receiver position. In September 1993, Pat and Bethany moved to Hastings, Dakota, Minnesota and later Elk Mound, Eau Claire, Wisconsin to give Bethany a change in surroundings. After Rebecca's (#3048) graduation from Greenwich central school in June 1994, Culver and Rebecca removed to Wisconsin as well.

About 1995-1996, they removed to Elk Mound, Wisconsin, where Mrs. Tefft's sister resided. In July 1997 they removed to Eau Claire, Wisconsin, about 12 miles east of Elk Mound. Patricia was office manager for the State Regional Arts center, operated by the Eau Claire Regional Arts Council. Culver worked three years as a driller/router at Johnson-Matthey Semi-Conductor Packages, later Honeywell Advanced Circuits, in Chippewa Falls, Chippewa, Wisconsin. Following a work layoff in October 1999, Culver attended Chippewa Valley Technical college in Eau Claire (January 2000 to May 2002), where he earned an Associate degree in Computer Information Systems — Programmer/Analyst and Records and Information Management.

In January 2003, Culver and Pat sold their home in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and removed to Louisville, Jefferson, Kentucky, in part to be closer to daughters living in Richmond, Madison, Kentucky. In part the move was a career move to Records Management for Culver. He served for a short time five months) at The Data Vault, before being let go for "philosophical" reasons.

In February 2005, Pat started as a nontraditional student at Berea college, Berea, Madison, Kentucky. In December 2008 she graduated, completing four years of study, earning her B. A. degree in Gerontology studies. During the summer of 2008 Pat served as an intern (3 months) for Eden Alternative, in Wimberley, Texas.

In January 2005 Culver lost, after six months, his job with Stock Yards bank in Louisville. Culver and Pat regrouped in Berea completing their move in July of 2005.

Culver, whose great-uncle Oscar W. Tefft was an important resource for Rev. Charles H. W. Stocking's The Tefft Ancestry published in 1904, has been working on updating and correcting the Tefft ancestry genealogical information (1996 to 2010). In July 2004 he published the centennial edition of The Tefft Ancestry, with some 2,500 Tefft and Tifft entries and 3,000 allied families with Tefft blood.

Patricia's maiden middle name was to be Kae, but the nurse at the hospital in Madison, Wisconsin, put the spelling as Kay which went on the official birth record. Her older sister's name is Sandra Fae (Flook) Meyer.

Culver enjoys genealogy research, history, reading, writing, computers, philately, and numismatics. Pat enjoys sewing projects, gerontology, gardening, and home decoration and design. She plans to work where she can be an advocate for elders, improving the respect and dignity they deserve.

Culver and Pat reside in Berea, Rockcastle county, Kentucky. Their mail address is Berea (Madison county) but the property address is in Rockcastle county, Kentucky.

In October 2012 Culver was contacted by Kentucky Office of Employment, Somerset, Kentucky about a job opportunity for working on a government project the Department of Veterans' Affairs in Mount Vernon, Rockcastle county, Kentucky, just twenty minutes from his home. After indicating interest for a position, he was contacted by Oxford Forge Government Consulting, North Beach, Maryland by Alexandra "Alex" Kelly. The telephone interview led an application for employment, a VA security check, hiring, and working with Oxford GC's project partners: CACI and SourceHOV at SourceHOV's Mount Vernon plant. The original contract with Dept. of Veterans' Affairs was for three year 2013 through 2015. In 2016, a five-year contract between VA and SourceHOV with partners CRSA, Oxford GC and a few smaller companies hiring General Clerks. The purpose and work on the VA project is to convert VA records and files to digital electronic documents which are then available for review and research by Department of Veterans' Affairs Regional Offices, Hospitals, Clinics, and Finance Centers throughout the United States and Territories.

Primarily the work involves: removing paper documents (letters, reports, correspondence, medical treatment records, military personnel material, personal information, and legal information); repairing torn, damaged, mutilated, and brittle documents; separating stapled and taped notes and other pages attached to other pages; scanning the pages (front and back) creating digital images in Portable Document Format (PDF); correctly orient the images facilitating easy reading by the end user; removing images that are either blank in information or have bleed-through information through from the other side of the original paper page; identify what each image or group of images is by document type title and date images according a pre-defined VA date stamp policy; maintain red fiber VA folders and paper records on site in case of need to rescan and replace digital images; and finally replace paper documents into red fiber folders exactly as and where they were placed prior to the digitalizing process performed at Mount Vernon, Kentucky. Following the SourceHOV/Oxford GC work the boxes that have been completed are warehoused in different locations around the country or returned to VA Regional Offices (RO's). Sometime in the future the paper records are destined to be destroyed.

The work requires the strictest security and confidentiality. All who are involved and work on the project get annual security and confidentiality training from the Veterans Administration. The Mount Vernon, Kentucky operation process some two million images a day. Culver started February 19, 2013 as General Clerk. His first task was Prep ID (preparing paper pages for the scan process). After a month he learned QC (properly orienting images, removing blank pages, and insuring individual identifiable documents were correct separated). Mr. Tefft then was transferred to DocID (correctly titling and dating individual documents according to VA guidelines). During changes made in processing functions Culver performed Auto QC (a more streamlined process to remove blank pages). Currently, since October 2016, Culver is one of 12 on the Quality Team that checks and verifies the quality of General Clerks performing PrepID and DocID for correctness of Doc Type naming, Date Stamps used, and correct separation of documents.

At Mount Vernon, Kentucky, SourceHOV/Oxford GC processes some two million images a day, The turnaround for receiving boxes of VA files and VA getting the PDF information back is five days. When the digital records are received back at VA, any VA official with proper "Need-to-Know" and security authority can access any Veteran's records from any Regional Office to obtain the necessary information regarding a Veteran's claim for benefits. The work at Mount Vernon by Culver and some 1,000 others is making a difference for more timely service to Veterans who could survive without the benefits that VA provides to those who have served and protected America's freedoms.

In March of 2020, the country was hit with a pandemic disease, Coronavirus referred to as "Covid-19," which spread around the world with severe and lethal consequences. In the United States, by July 2021, deaths from corona virus would total 622,845; worldwide 3,962,506 deaths. Many states, including Kentucky, set contact restrictions, required people to wear face masking and distance themselves at least six feet from others, at times closed or reduced business activities where the public congregated such as churches, restaurants, barbershops and cosmetologist shops, schools, etc. Berea college, chided at the time, immediately (in March) end the school year and sent all the students home. Many states implemented mail-in voting for elections, the 2020 election being a presidential election. Airlines, passenger trains and buses had to limit the number of passengers and require face masks and hand sanitizers for travelers. During some periods any air travel was completely shut down. During peak periods, with increased numbers of people becoming infected with Covid-19, travel outside of individual states was prohibited. Around the world some 42 pharmaceutical companies began the process of creating a vaccination to protect the population. In the United States four companies received temporary approval from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC): Pfizer Pharmaceutical; Moderna, Inc.; Johnson & Johnson; and AstraZeneca. The accomplishment came nearly a year after the pandemic began, which was significant, since it has usually taken 15 to 20 years for vaccinations and other drugs to be made, tested, and approved before administering to the population. Pfizer's and Moderna's vaccinations required two injections a month apart and were rated 95% effective on the virus as well as on mutated variants of the Covid-19 virus. The Johnson & Johnson vaccination was a one shot treatment.

The economic effect, loss of life, and severe complications from contracting Covid-19 were enormous. Millions lost their jobs for weeks and months, sports and entertainment venues were closed, hospitals and the medical professions were overwhelmed, ventilators and other equipment needed for thousands of the most severe cases were unavailable or nonexistent, personal protective equipment (PPE) and hand sanitizers were in short supply, and setting up and maintaining virus testing sites, later inoculation sites was painfully slow. The world was not prepared to properly respond to such a pandemic. In addition, countless numbers of people refused to follow the guidelines and , in fact, purposely congregated in large numbers and refused to wear face masks, which may have contributed to the high number of Coronavirus fatalities.

As a result of the Coronavirus impact and most companies, including Exela in Mount Vernon, slowness to impose CDC virus safety measures, Culver, with higher risks if the virus was contracted, took a 30-day leave of absence, then worked remotely from home for the month of May. In June, when called back to the worksite and the pandemic still out of control, Culver officially retired. Site managers and vendor management approved the action with favorable comments from the Mount Vernon production managers.

Culver and Pat reside in Berea, Kentucky. Their mail address is Berea (Madison county) but the property address is in Rockcastle county, Kentucky.

†2792. Timothy Huggins Tefft

Timothy Huggins Tefft (#2792), son of Richard Samson (#2444) and Sally Birdseye (Nothnagle) Tefft, was born January 10, 1949, at Mary McClellan hospital, in Cambridge, Washington, New York.

He attended Greenwich Central school through eighth grade (1954-1963). Tim then attended Darrow school, New Lebanon, Columbia county, New York (1963-1967) and graduated in June 1968. While at Darrow Tim was active in Theatre club. He then attended Middlebury college, Middlebury, Addison county, Vermont (1967-1971). Majoring in English literature, Tim earned his B. A. degree.

He is an Adirondack 46-R, having climbed the 46 Adirondack mountain peaks over 4,000 feet in altitude (more than ten times). He first climbed Giant of the Valley mountain 22 Jul 1961, and became a 46-R on Redfield mountain on 6 Aug 1970. His 46-R number and rank is No. 616. He is a past director and president of the Adirondack 46-R's and a past co-director of the Adirondack Forty-Sixers Outdoor Leadership Workshop, where he taught various outdoor camping and hiking skills for some 15 years. Tim, as noted in Heaven Up-h'isted-ness (Adirondack Forty-Sixers, Inc., Cadyville, NY; 2011) became president of the Adirondack 46-R's in 1992, after Joe Urbanczyk stepped down due to health issues. With a strong vision for the club's future, Tim advocated the removal of canisters on the trailless 46-R peaks, an opinion shared by Forty-Sixer founding brothers Robert and George Marshall, as early as the 1930's, when the placement of canisters to mark the summits of some 20 peaks was proposed. His recommendation to "abandon the club's original purpose — the climbing of the Adirondack 46" and push the organization, even though it already focused on mountain stewardship, to place even more emphasis on projects and education of the public that would strengthen the Adirondack wilderness through responsible programs and attitudes. Tim's position and statement, though eloquent and sensible, brought much discussion and he found himself out of sync with the great majority of Forty-Sixer members. Thus after only a year at the helm Tim stepped down as Forty-Sixer president. (Heaven Up-h'isted-ness, p. 113)

After graduation from college he taught English and History at private schools in Newport, Newport county, Rhode Island; Greenwich, Fairfield county, Connecticut; Concord, Middlesex county, Massachusetts, and Bedford, Westchester county, New York. Most recently he has provided his editorial and writing expertise in family owned weekly newspaper, The Greenwich Journal and Salem Press, Greenwich, Washington, New York. He owns and operates Panther Mountain Press and has produced a number of publications, including local histories, poetry, fiction, &~for a number of people.

About 1990 or 1991, Tim completed work on Of Summits, of Forests, the third Forty-Sixer book which was being written and edited by William Kozel, a photographer and a 46-R committee. Kozel was two-thirds finished on the book when a serious accident prevented his completing the book. Tim stepped in and the book was in members' hands by the fall of 1991.

Under the capable English writing and journalism talents of Tim, a fourth Forty-Sixer book, Heaven Up-h'isted-ness, was begun in 2003. The 702 page volume is a significant contribution to Adirondack Mountain and state of New York history. Finally completed in the fall of 2011, the book has three main sections — The History of the Adirondack Forty-Sixers, The History of the High Peaks of the Adirondacks, and The Member Roster of the Adirondack Forty-Sixers.

An avid outdoors man, Tim was headmaster (1975-1981) at Camp Pok-O-Moonshine, Willsboro, New York, overseeing camp programs and activities for youth spending their summers at the camp from the late 1970's to the early 2000's. He enjoys camping, hiking, fishing, history, writing, painting, theatre and woodworking. Timothy is a certified Adirondack Guide, proficient golfer, and like his father before him, an avid trout fisherman.

Timothy enjoys camping, hiking, fishing, writing, painting, woodworking, and theatre. He is avid trout fisherman. He has appeared in a number of local theatre productions, including Greenwich, the Musical. Tim, as he likes to go by, is a talented and extremely proficient word and language technician.

Hannah, daughter of Thomas and Sarah (Stedman) Kenyon, was born May 3, 1771, in Richmond, Rhode Island, and died February 4, 1845, also in Richmond where she was buried.

[276] Speculation on Mary Tefft's (w#99.44) parents, married Joel B. Kenyon (#99.44), leads to one primary candidate and one that is possible but at best a long shot. A strong choice is Mary (#503), daughter of Samuel Tefft (#227) and Phebe (Niles) Tefft. Her birth was also in 1803. In addition, her family also resided in Richmond, Rhode Island. A second possibility is Mary (#137) daughter of David Tefft (#46) and unknown wife. Nothing about her dates is known so she is may be a wild card.

He was born February 14, 1817, in Wallingford, Rutland county, Vermont and his date of death, maybe in New York state is unknown. Samuel and Mary were married about 1830 in Vermont. Mary's vital dates are unknown. It may be that Mary died and about 1847 Samuel took second wife Sarah Ann _____. Sarah was born in Seneca county, New York about 1822.

[284] While there is nothing to indicate differently or even lend support to the notion, one could speculate that the children beginning with Lorenzo Dow Whitehorne (#313.35) and following were born of second wife Sarah Ann _____. That possibility, without more definitive birth records however is purely speculation. The notion is hinted by the birth of Lorenzo in Yates county, New York, adjacent to Seneca county, New York, where second wife Sarah Ann was born. It seems possible that Mary may have died after they removed to the Finger Lakes region of New York state and Samuel remarried and had children by his second spouse. Without further information, however, it is reasonable to conclude that all the children were born by Mary.

SCU is Station Complement Unit, in this case Headquarters Detachment for the Munich area. I was briefly assigned to the Post Engineers, then to the AGD section. Rank T5.

"Second trip was Sep '50 to Aug '51. Believe it or not, I cannot for the life of me remember the actual designation or the unit, other than "Chemical Technical Intelligence Detachment". We joked that if you could say it three times fast, you qualified for a team. Stationed at the (then) Army Chemical Center in Maryland. There were 5 teams billeted and training together, which may be one reason I can't remember the proper designation. Teams were 5 enlisted and 3 officers (5 teams) or 7 enlisted and 3 officers (2 teams), giving us a group of 39 enlisted men and 21 officers. Each team was provided a "6 - by" (truck), a 3/4 ton truck, and 3 jeeps - giving us a motor pool larger than some infantry companies. All this was to carry our equipment - chemical test lab. photo lab (had B & L press cameras), etc. Rank remained T5."

Roger (#1291.32) was the son of Donald Lynn (#1291) and Blanche May (Mosher) Chaffee. He was born February 15, 1935 in Grand Rapids, Kent county, Michigan, and died January 27, 1967 at the Kennedy Space Center, Cape Canaveral, Florida. He died along with astronauts Virgil "Gus" Grissom and Edward White when fire engulfed the Apollo I spacecraft while in the launch process aboard a Titan missile. The tragedy set the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) back a year before manned-flights into earth's inner space resumed. He graduated from Central High school, Grand Rapids, Kent county, Michigan on June 11, 1953. Roger attended Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, majoring in aeronautical engineering and graduated June 11, 1957, receiving his Bachelor of Science degree. Roger married Martha in 1957. She was born March 28, 1937 in Tarrant County, Texas.

In 1962, Roger and his family relocated to Dayton, Ohio, where he pursued a Master's degree in reliability engineering at Wright-Patterson Air Force base. He was also actively testing for the astronaut candidate program at the same time. On October 14, 1963, Roger learned that he had been selected one of America's newest astronauts. On October 18, 1963, he joined Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr (USAF), Capt. William A. Anders (USAF), Capt. Charles A. Bassett II (USAF), Lt. Alan L. Bean (USN), Lt. Eugene A. Cernan (USN), Capt. Michael Collins (USAF), R. Walter Cunningham (Civilian), Capt. Donn F. Eisele (USAF), Capt. Theodore C. Freeman (USAF), Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon (USN), Russell L. Schweickart (Civilian), Capt. David R. Scott (USAF), and Capt. Clifton C. Williams (USMC) at the Astronaut Corps, Houston, Texas.

Chaffee was named to the first Apollo Earth-orbit mission following Neil Armstrong's and David Scott's Gemini VIII flight in March of 1966. The purpose was to test and evaluate for up to two weeks all major spacecraft systems, ground tracking, and control facilities. On January 27, 1967, while maintaining communications with those following tests outside the Command Module at the launch pad, fire raged throughout the Apollo I spacecraft. Chaffee, who never had the opportunity to complete a spaceflight, truly "...proved himself most worthy of the title of "Astronaut' ... strapped into his couch, attempting to transmit emergency messages to the Blockhouses...."[297]

Obituary of Dean Brophy

Dean Brophy, 76, a lifelong resident of Greenwich and owner of Brophy Construction passed away peacefully Wednesday, December 16, 2020 at Albany Medical Center. He was born on October 27, 1944 in Glens Falls, NY, to Paul and Emily (Tefft) Brophy {Greenwich, Washington county, New York].

Dean graduated from Greenwich High School in 1962. After graduation he began his successful construction business, Brophy Construction that he operated for the past 35 years. Many houses and relationships were built in the Greenwich and surrounding areas throughout the years.

He, along with his wife, also own and operate the laundromat in Greenwich. Dean could be reserved at times, but he was always quiet and steady, the rock of the family. In his younger years he loved to garden, ski, and golf. He was a great husband, father, and son who were always there for his family and anyone who needed help. Dean was a down to earth, humble man who will be missed by all who knew him.

He is predeceased by his father, Paul Brophy.

Survivors include his mother Emily Brophy; his wife of 49 years, Kathleen (Duane) Brophy; children, Dean (Bridget) Brophy and their children, Emma, Molly and Riley; Shane (Jessica) Brophy, and their boys, Shamus and Daniel; 1 brother, Jerry (Diana) Brophy; several nieces and nephews.

A private funeral service will be held on Monday, December 21, 2020 at the Flynn Bros. Inc. Funeral Home, 80 Main St, Greenwich, NY, 12834. Family and friends that wish to make donations in his name may give to the Easton-Greenwich Rescue Squad, PO Box 84, Greenwich, NY, 12834. Online condolences and messages to the family may be made to www.flynnbrosinc.com

THE TEFFT ADDENDA

Introduction

The Tefft Addenda, of *The Tefft Ancestry (*2010) is a compilation of information on formerly unknown Tefft-Tifft individuals and lines not found in the original work. In the following pages we have somewhat organized available information we have found on Tefft's and Tifft's who haven't been previously connected to our vast family tree. In articles, Internet postings or other sources we have found mention of these Tefft descendants identified herein. What has NOT been discovered is the identity of the individual in the Tefft ancestral tree to whom these "unconnected" Tefft's are linked.

It is probable that all are linked to the Tefft family tree through a marriage we are currently unaware of and therefore the offspring of that union remain unknown to us. Some purposely refuse to share their genealogy information. Some have a bit of knowledge about their genealogy but their ancestral past isn't of any interest to them. Some may not be aware that there are genealogists, like the author, dying to gain their family tree information.

Where and when possible the addenda line will be rooted to the main tree, The Tefft Ancestry, 2009. Because we have not found the exact location where a branch shoots from the tree the sapling stands alone. Rest assured that when we learn from where the shoot has fallen and re-rooted we will graft that branch back on the ancestral tree.

Genealogist's Note: The following Tefft's have been found during this major update of Rev. Charles H. W. Stocking's The Tefft Ancestry, published in 1904. At the time of publication, the editor/genealogist was unable to complete the connection to the regular family branches and so they have been left as addenda entries.

James Tafft [Tefft] (#T1-1) was the son of _____ (#____) and _____ (_____) Tefft. This information comes from Tefft, Grant J. The Union Village Story, Vol. I. The Greenwich Journal, Greenwich, New York. (1942). p. XIV. Who James is seems to be an enigma. This compiler believes he may have been James Tefft Jr (#105), son of James Tefft Sr (#33) and Martha (Sheffield) Tefft, and Mary Wescott. He was born February 6, 1772, perhaps in South Kingstown, Rhode Island. When and where

James Jr died isn't available. When James and Olive married also isn't available, but a reasonable guess would be around 1790 or 1791. Olive was the daughter of Job and Freelove (Carpenter) Whipple. According to information on Family Search organization she was born February 9, 1775, in Cumberland, Rhode Island (near Providence), and died January 11, 1839, in Pennsylvania. Olive was sister of David Whipple who married Elizabeth Tefft (#509), daughter of David Tefft (#231) and Ruhamah (James) Tefft. James probably died and Olive married Daniel M. Beers, however when and where hasn't been learned by this compiler. It is known that Olive Beers died January 11, 1839, in Pennsylvania.

The Descendants of John Tefft (1997), by Rachel Saul Tefft (w#2743) provides similar, though incorrect information concerning Olive Whipple. On page 176 she lists Olive Whipple (R#1846), born in 1775, as daughter of Job Tefft Whipple (#509.4) (R#1166), who was born March 29, 1818. As stated above in this family biography Olive was a sister of David Whipple, born in 1776.

Cathy (Sharp) Barber reports with information from the Whipple-Mowry family Bible, held in the Isley V. Gill room at Greenwich Free Library, Greenwich, Washington county, New York, that Olive Whipple first married Thaddeus Taft and later Daniel M. Beers. So far, little more has been discovered about Thaddeus Taft. According to The Descendants of Capt. John Whipple of Providence, R.I. (Six Generations) published 17 Jun 2009 Thaddeus was born December 13, 1757 in Massachusetts. It doesn't seem likely that he married Olive Whipple.

The Genealogy of Job Whipple, posted as a Google genealogy reference publication (found on the Internet February 1, 2010) indicates that Olive Whipple first married James Tafft and then Daniel Beers. James Tafft could be same person as James Tefft cited here as Tefft and Tafft surname spelling could vary depending on the source author information or preference.

Finally, genweb.whipple.org has information posted by someone that concurs with The Genealogy of Job Whipple digital genealogy copy and lists James Tafft as Olive's first husband followed by marriage to Daniel M. Beers. Without more documentation and information this compiler cannot confirm that James Tafft and James Tefft are the same person, though he would like to draw that conclusion. Whipple.org discussion names Olive (Whipple) [m. James Tafft] daughter of: Job Tafft; Elizabeth Tafft, b. September 15, 1792 & d. July 26, 1865; James Tafft; and Mary Tafft. Olive bore six children with Daniel M. Beers.

The author and this compiler has chosen to recognize that James Tafft is the same person as James Tefft and therefore counts him and his children as descendants of John Tefft (#1) and Mary (Barber) Tefft. The given name of Thaddeus may have been a middle name or an unused first name with James being the middle name. Thus this compiler dismisses the Mowry-Whipple Bible page without explanation. James may have been James (#520), son of William Tefft (#232) and Elizabeth James, as Olive Whipple was likely a sister of David Whipple who married Betsy Tefft (#509).

Dennis Tefft (#T2-2) was the son of Leslie (#T-2.1) and Bernice (Wheeler) Tefft. This information comes from a Rhode Island obituary found on-line. Dennis was born September 13, 1962, in Westerly, Rhode Island and died at age 46 on June 4, 2009, in Hope Valley, Rhode Island. When Dennis and Dianne married isn't known, however, sometime in the middle to late 1980's is a reasonable guess. Dennis, employed by Hendricks Industries, was an heavy equipment operator. The obituary reports that he had a passion for antique tractors and frequently participated in antique tractor pulls. Dennis was a member of the Washington county (Rhode Island) Antique and Rhode Island Antique Tractor clubs. The obituary doesn't say, but as the funeral was held at the Carolina (Rhode Island) Volunteer fire house, Dennis may have been a volunteer fireman for that fire company. +T-9.2. George P. Tefft, b. ~1832; d. September 17, 1891; m. Esther E. _____, b. ??; d. May 14, 1925.

George Tefft's (#T-9.1) parents haven't been determined. His date of birth was likely in Rhode Island between 1800 and 1813. His marriage to Elsie may have been around 1830. Elsie's parents are also unknown. Her birth was probably around 1820-1821, perhaps also in Rhode Island.

T-9.2. George P. Tefft and Esther E._____ had:

George P. Tefft (#T-9.2) may have been the son of George (#T-9.1) and Elsie (James) Tefft. That is a guess of Donna Potter <uriramfan@cox.net> who is looking for Allen's connection to the Tefft family tree. He was born circa 1832 in Rhode Island and died there September 17, 1891. Esther's born date and place is unknown but may have been in Rhode Island. She died in Rhode Island May 14, 1925. This information comes from Rhode Island Historical Cemeteries project and Donna Potter. George P. Tefft may well have served in Co. A, 7th Reg., New Hampshire Infantry, in Civil War. They were buried in Wood River cemetery, Richmond, Washington county, Rhode Island.

T-9.5. Mary T. Tefft, b. 1890. age 19 (1910 census)

Allen R. Tefft (#T-9.3) was the son of George P. (#T-9.2) and Hannah T. (Barber) Tefft. He was born in May 1860 in Rhode Island and died there in 1949. Dora A. Briggs was born in 1864 and died in 1943, in Rhode Island and is buried in Rhode Island. This information comes from Rhode Island Historical Cemeteries project and Donna Potter. Donna has surname of Allen spelled Teft while the historical cemeteries project uses Tefft.

T-9.4. Louisa Tefft and Charles Francis Tanner had:

T-9.6. Child Tefft.

Louisa Tefft (#T-9.4) was the daughter of Allen R. (T-9.3) and Dora (Almira) Tefft. Her date of birth hasn't been established though middle 1870s is a likely time period. She was born in Rhode Island. Charles Tanner, the son of George Perry and Sarah Jane (Woodmanse) Tenner, was born August 19, 1876, in North Kingstown, Washington county, Rhode Island and died on April 6, 1963. This information comes from Family Search Organization <familysearch.org>. According to Federal census information Charles Tanner worked in the railroad industry. Speculation: It may be that Louisa Tefft (#T-9.4) was called "Sarah," perhaps a middle name she preferred instead of given name, "Louisa". It is also possible that her given name was "Sarah" and "Louisa" was a middle name.

T-11.1.3. David Crandall, b. ~1816; d. ??.

Sally Tefft (#T-11.1) was the daughter of _____ (#____) and _____ (_____) Tefft. Sally was born in 1785, in Greenwich (town of? or perhaps Whipple City), Washington county, New York, and died April 7, 1869. When she married is known exactly, but it was in all likelihood prior to the birth of Content (#T-11.1.1) in 1808 at about age 23. Benjamin Crandall, son of Eber and Abigail (Sprague) Crandall, was born June 6, 1785, in Greenwich (Town?), Washington county, New York.

This above information comes from Elder John Crandall of Rhode Island and his Descendants (1949), by John Cortland Crandall (p. 30). No other information has been found. David Crandall (#T-11.1.3) and dates for Content (#T-11.1.1) and daughter (#T-11.1.2) came from Family Search organization. Spouses for Sally and Benjamin's two daughters is from the Crandall genealogy previously cited.

Compiler's Note: The community on the banks of the Battenkill river, founded by Job Whipple was first called "Whipple City," though it wasn't anywhere near a city by any standard at that time or any other. In March 1807 the name was changed to Union Village and in 1867 the present name Greenwich was adopted. Grant J. Tefft (#1857), editor and publisher of The Greenwich Journal (1900-1948) and author\compiler of The Union Village Story (1942) noted in that history the following concerning Job Whipple's settlement of Greenwich:

"The exact date of Job Whipple's arrival in what is now Greenwich seems difficult if not impossible to establish. An extract from a paper, "The Rise and Progress of Union Village," written in later years by one of his granddaughters, Anna Caroline Mowry, wife of Henry Holmes, has this paragraph: 'At the close of a sunny day, about the year 1775, a man on horseback, in the garb of the Society of Friends, might have been seen fording the stream below the mill, and looking anxiously around for the dwelling to which he had been directed for rest and refreshment. There was at that time but two dwellings, standing near where the center of the village now is.'

"If the full text of 'The Rise and Progress of Union Village' was ever printed, or if it exists in any other form, this compiler has never seen it. The extracts from it given here are from a book entitled 'Whipple Genealogies,' which was privately printed in 1881. A footnote to the extract indicates that 'the year 1775' was a guess, and the correction 17__ in the text is suggested, indicating that nobody knew just when Job Whipple came to town. It is known, however, that in 1781 he obtained title to a tract of land on both sides of the kill where the village was to arise.

"Job Whipple came from Cumberland Hill, Rhode Island, and he purchased the property of one referred to in the old histories as 'a Mr. Carbine of Albany who had built a dam across the river about opposite the present site of Eleazer Looker's house, had put a saw mill in operation, and opened a store in part of his house prior to 1780."

T-18.2. Adelbert F. Tefft & Mary Elizabeth Austin had:

No children.

Adelbert F. Tefft (#T-18.2) was the son of _____ (#T-18.1) and _____ (_____) Tefft. He was born circa 1840, probably in Hebron, Tolland county, Connecticut. When and where Adelbert died is not known but it is possible that that event happened in the vicinity of Hebron sometime after January 12, 1863. Adelbert and Mary were supposedly married August 26, 1862, in Marlborough, Windham county, Connecticut. Mary, daughter of John Austin and Sarah M. Perry, was born November 26, 1844, in Marlborough, Windham county, Connecticut. The date and place of her death is not known. At the present time, children from this marriage are not known.

During the Civil War, Adelbert F. Tefft was a Private in Company B, 16th Regiment, Connecticut Volunteer Infantry. He enlisted July 15, 1862 and was mustered August 24, 1862. He was admitted to Frederick, Maryland hospital with wounds on October 4, 1862. Adelbert was discharged with disability on January 12, 1863. Civil War Soldiers and Sailors database also has Adelbert F. Tefft as serving in Company D, 1st Regiment, Connecticut Heavy Artillery, which was likely prior to his infantry unit.

Henry B. Tefft (#T-19.1) was the son of _____ (#??) and _____ (_____) Tefft. He was born circa 1820, perhaps in Poland township, Chautauqua county, New York. Where he died is not known but it is possible that that event happened in Poland township, New York. About 1842 or 1843 Henry and Amanda were married perhaps in Poland, New York. Amanda was born circa 1816, according to the 1860 census.

According to Chautauqua county, New York genealogy and cemetery records, Henry enlisted as a Private on 21 August 1862 at the age of 43. He enlisted in Company C, 9th Cavalry Regiment, New York State Volunteers on 31 August 1862, and was killed in action on October 11, 1863, at Rappahannock Station, VA.

T-19.3. Elias A. Tefft & 1st wife Jennie Taylor had:

T-19.5. Bartlett D. Tefft, b. November 1880/1881; d. aft. 1920. [Unmarried.]

Elias A. Tefft (#T-19.3) was the son of Henry (#T-19.1) and Amanda (Hall) Tefft. He was born September 20, 1847, on a farm, likely in Poland township, Chautauqua county, New York. He died, in his prime, at just shy of age 41 on May 4, 1888. It is probable that Elias and Jennie were married in Falconer, Chautauqua county, New York about 1864 or 1865. The birth date for Jennie, daughter of John Taylor and Hannah Wall, is in February 1853. Chautauqua county records indicate that Elias married Myra J. _____. The date of that event is not known. The same source indicates no information about children of that union. Evidently Elias and his family resided in Falconer, Chautauqua county, New York.

On July 29, 1862, at age 15, Elias enlisted in Company A, 112th Regiment, New York Volunteers (Infantry) where he served three years. Beginning October 1862, Elias was detached from the 112th New York and attached to the 7th Regiment, Massachusetts State Volunteers (Light Artillery). In to March 1865, Elias rejoined the New York 112th Infantry. According to The History of Chautauqua county New York and its People Vol. I (1921, American Historical Society, Inc., Chicago), "Mr. Tefft saw hard service, always acquitting himself as a brave and faithful soldier." (p. 282).

After the war he returned to Poland, New York where he pursued farming. Elias later removed to Sheffield, Pennsylvania where he became associated with the lumber industry. After a period of time Elias spent three years in the West before returning to Falconer in Chautauqua county. He was employed in the lumber/saw mill business there. He was an ardent Republican and kept in touch with his G. A. R. companions. They were members of the Methodist Episcopal church in Falconer (Chautauqua History, p. 282.). They are buried in Levent cemetery, Poland, New York.

T-19.2. Byron H. Tefft & 1st wife Charlotte Wright had:

T-19.6. Gerald Altos Tefft, b. ??; d. ??.
T-19.7. Howard Allen Tefft, b. ??; d. ??.

Byron H. Tefft (#T-19.4) was the son of Elias A. (#T-19.2) and Jennie (Taylor) Tefft. He was born in November 1878, presumably in Chautauqua county, New York. When and where he died is unknown. It is probable that Byron and first wife Charlotte were married in the vicinity of Falconer, Chautauqua county, New York. When and where Charlotte was born is not available. Byron next married Nina Burson, the date is not known. Nina's date of birth and place are also not available. Gerald (#T-19.6) and Howard (#T-19.7) were likely children by first wife Charlotte but that is not confirmed. Byron was employed by Lynndon Mirror company of Falconer.

Unknown male Tefft (#T-22.1) was the son of _____ (#??) and _____ (_____) Tefft. He was maybe born sometime between 1800 and 1813, place unknown, and when he died is a mystery. Whom he married, when and where is also unknown. The children noted above are assembled from guesswork extrapolated from data published by East cemetery, Jacksonville, Illinois. Orson (#T-22.2) is the only child known for sure. All the above individuals and Rectina (b. ~1804; d. February 1876), Willis (b. ~1818; d. May 2, 1873), and William (b. September 3, 1875; d. September 18, 1880) Tefft are buried in the same family lot in East cemetery, Jacksonville, Illinois. Rectina (#T29.7) may be wife of Unknown Tefft (#T29.1). It is a stretch to think Willis is the Unknown Tefft (#T-22.1). William (#T-22.9) may well be the son of Orson (T-22.2) and Catherine (_____) Tefft or one of the imagined male siblings. # — Epilogue —

2004 Centennial Edition

We have finished or perhaps, more accurately, reached a reasonable stage of completeness, that for the present is satisfying. We have labored nearly a decade on this project, an update of The Tefft Ancestry, published in 1904 by Reverend Charles H. W. Stocking, D. D. It seems fitting that, a century later, we have significantly added to the work begun by Rev. Stocking, Oscar W. Tefft, Maria E. Maxon Tifft, and countless other descendants of John Tefft and Mary Barber, whose family data made the original publication possible.

For many, it will be difficult to imagine the amount of paper and ink used, as well as the time spent keying, proofreading, making corrections, and verifying information that has gone into this project. At times, the descendant numbering, only just completed, had to be redone because of changes, inadvertent omissions or duplications. Figuring out Samuels and Mary's and which children were which was confusing and difficult. We modified our ancestry numbering scheme at least four times before arriving at the present system, which allows researchers to follow more easily allied family lines. The scheme also preserves the Tefft and Tifft branches of the family tree.

In 1904, Rev. Stocking enumerated nearly 1,150 descendants of John Tefft and Mary Barber. Most listed were a Tefft or a Tifft. At the date of this publication, we count almost 3,000 Tefft's, Tifft's, and Tift's. The allied Tefft families, those with Tefft blood having various other surnames, we count today as numbering almost 4,900 individuals. The total number of individuals mentioned in this volume total nearly 7,500 descendants.

"It's all in the name," someone once said; so here are some used fairly often in our family. "John" and "William" are the most frequently given name of the male gender, with Charles, George, and James also given to many of our forbearers and cousins. In order of frequency: Joseph, Henry, Thomas, David, Samuel, Robert, Benjamin, Edward, Frank & Franklin, Nathan, Daniel, Stephen, Jonathan, Jesse, and Lewis round out the top twenty first name choices.

"Mary," hands down, is the most popular name given to the fairer gender. Sarah is a distant second choice with Elizabeth and Abigail the next most popular first names. Caroline, Mercy, Susan, Hannah, Anna, Harriet, Lydia, Martha, Eliza, Ella, Emily, Esther, Lucy, Nancy, and Ruth lead all the rest in the first names department. Good, old names like Samuel and Dorcas have not been bestowed much, since about 1840.

There are some 1430 bloodline-Teffts with surnames other than Tefft, Tifft and Tift. Most prolific are the Barbers and Martins. Smith, Rogers, Hammer, Kenyon, Zimmerman, Wilson, Brown, and Carpenter are the next most prolific. Finally, Clark, Cole, Denison, Shonk, White, Norton, Chambers, Gardner, Stewart, and Mohler round out the top 20 list of surnames. The researcher will find Ballou, Salisbury, and Dewey also fairly frequently.

We have, undoubtedly, omitted some Tefft/Tifft descendants in this work, not due to our lack of interest or desire for more complete information, but for insufficient time to find and connect the "dots." We have reached the point where we must set forth what we think we know about this historic family and let the researchers and those with merely passing interest correct the mistakes and announce the omissions. We must give this work a chance to fulfill its purpose.

Finally, it is with great humility, that I thank all those who have gone before, as well as those who carry the torch today for: 1) allowing me to standardize, somewhat, the genealogical data of this prolific family of which I am a member; and 2) the opportunity to form interfamily relationships and bonds that go far beyond the written words found here. The Tefft Ancestry, 2004 project is and always has been a labor of love. The work has been a lot like putting a picture puzzle together. Although there were frustrations in trying to find the right pieces, there have also been those special days when, all of a sudden names, dates, and places came together and we added fifty pieces or more to the puzzle (names to the ancestral tree). Now, we believe, the picture of our family tree is more fully revealed and the missing pieces, as they are discovered, can be more easily placed along the branches where they belong. One day, we hope, The Tefft Ancestry will show the tree complete, with all its limbs and branches, so that all we and others have to do is add the names of those who join the line of descendants of John and Mary Barber Tefft.

Sincerely,

Culver

Origin theory of the name - Tefft

*Various theories have been advanced for the "origin" of the family name. of "Tefft". We append a few only. The following letter cites one origin.

> "The name of Tefft is the very ancient, in Armenia, a dealer, who buys and sells, is called a "Tefftman" and Tiftlie, is one of the oldest market towns on the globe.
> One writer claims that "Taafe", the name of the principal river in Wales, has the same derivation as the name Teffe, or Tefft.
> When in England for the U.S. Government, I caused a search to be made to ascertain the origin of the family. They originally belonged to the French Huguenots and the name was spelled "Thevet", and pronounced "Tevay." Driven out by the St. Bartholomew massacre, they came to England and thence to America."
> (Signed) Rev. Benj. F. Tefft (Born in Floyd, New York, 18137 died in Bangor, Maine. At one time Professor of Greek and Hebrew in an Indiana University and also former U.S. Consul to Stockholm, Sweden.)
> Unavailing search has been made to learn when the family came from England, and from what part, but thus far to no avail.
> (Signed) Maria E. (Maxon) Tift,
> Buffalo, New York

Stuart G. Wade, a genealogist of New York says the name is Saxon, from Toft, a plot of ground on which a house once stood, and is frequently found today in the county of Essex, England, from which many of the early emigrants came, though usually spelled Taft, Teft or Tofts.

*Passage from Tefft – A Genealogy, authored by Hannah M. Tefft (#1839), b. Feb. 13, 1846; d. Sept. 1, 1913. Hannah was great-granddaughter of Taber Tefft (#239) and Sarah “Polly” Barber; granddaughter of Caleb Tefft (#550) and Hannah Green(e); daughter of Rensselaer (#1146) and Mary Closson. The rest of the line: Joseph Tefft (#98) and Sarah Maxon; Joseph Tefft Sr (#31) and Esther Brownell; John Tefft (#7) and Joanna Sprague; and progenitor John Tefft (#1) and Mary Magdaline Barber. Hannah M. Tefft was unmarried.

While the grayed text is exactly what Hannah M. Tefft wrote, the arrangement has been modified to facilitate inclusion in The Tefft Ancestry 2025.

Tefft Family Coat of Arms

Tefft Heraldry- Exploring the History of a Welsh Surname

In this unusual name lies the origin of the Welsh nickname "Taff", a pre-medieval form of the personal name "David". The name also appears in the Irish "Taffe". The original members of the name descended from the Norman invaders of Ireland from 1169 to 1170. The name's development included Tath, Teft, Tefte, Teffe, and Tefft. It has been speculated that some bearers of the name are location-based, deriving from the Old English (Midlands) word "Toft", meaning someone who lives on a small farm.

The first recorded spelling of the family name is that of James Tefte (baptized) dated 1680, St. Martin in the Fields, London, during the reign of King Charles II, The Merry Monarch, 1660 - 1685. Surnames became necessary as governments introduced personal taxation. In England, this was known as the Poll Tax. Over the centuries, surnames have continued to "evolve" in all countries, often leading to remarkable variations from the original spelling.

The Tefft Coat of Arms

When it comes to the Tefft family's heraldry, there are several variations of the coat of arms associated with the surname. One common depiction features a shield with a lion rampant, symbolizing courage and strength. The lion is often depicted in gold, representing generosity and valor.

Another commonly seen element in Tefft heraldry is the griffin, a mythical creature with the body of a lion and the head and wings of an eagle. The griffin signifies vigilance and loyalty, traits that are often associated with individuals bearing the Tefft name.

Colors play a significant role in heraldry, and the Tefft coat of arms typically incorporates hues such as red, blue, gold, and silver. These colors carry symbolic meanings, with red representing courage, blue symbolizing loyalty, gold signifying generosity, and silver standing for purity.

The Tefft/Tifft Legacy

There is the frivolous story of a youthful Benjamin Franklin taking an early eighteenth-century English "cruise ship" up the Hudson river from New Amsterdam to Fort Orange, to preview the real estate of the former Dutch colony in America. Accompanied by George Washington, Colonel Philip Schuyler, Colonel Benedict Arnold, Major Nicholas Herkimer, Captain Ethan Allen and Colonel Horatio Gates, Ben couldn't resist the telling of puns, jokes and made-up stories capitalizing on the humor from the French and Indian Wars and early Dutch history that thrived across the New York colony.

As the group progressed along the route the other members began tiring of Ben's humor and shenanigans. Finally, when the cruise reached Fort Orange, Ben started to suggest a new name for the populated area the Dutch had called Fort Orange. Before he could get another word out of his mouth, Philip Schuyler chastised Mr. Franklin saying, "That will be All! Benny!"

The rest is history and the New York's capital city became "Albany."

The Tefft, Tifft, and Tift surnames have been gloriously bestowed to landmarks and geographical places around the country. Though the stories of how those places earned their Tefft/Tifft names are probably less spectacular than the one above, you can be sure that those names weren't carelessly thrown out, but rather meticulously given with high honor and sincere historical perspective.

There are likely many places and landmarks around the country honored, somehow utilizing the Tefft/Tifft name. We include a few that we have found in our research here:

1. Tefft a small city in Jasper county, Indiana; and thus used to identify many local businesses and organizations there.
2. Tefft Center: a shopping center in Springfield, Missouri.
3. Tefft Street: one of the main thorough fares in Nipomo, California named after Henry Amos Tefft.
4. West Tefft Street: found in Santa Maria, California.
5. Tefft Street: San Luis Obispo, California [see #3 above.]
6. Tefft Street: found in Saunderstown, Rhode Island.
7. Tefft Hill: the original real estate owned by John Tefft and Mary Barber in South King's Town, Rhode Island.
8. Town of Tefft: Kankakee, Illinois.
9. Tefft Middle School: Streamwood, Illinois [Near Elgin, Illinois; named after Jeremiah Tefft II and Jonathan Tefft, Sr.]
10. Tifft Nature Preserve: Buffalo, New York.
11. Tifft Street Greenway Project: Buffalo, New York.
12. Tift College: one of the colleges making-up Mercer University, Forsythe, Monroe county, Georgia.
13. Tift County: Georgia county. [named after Henry Harding Tift, one of the first settlers.]
14. Tifton: Georgia city. [named after Henry Harding Tift, one of the first settlers.]
15. Tiftonia: community developed by Thomas Willingham Tift, Sr. near Lookout Mountain, Tennessee.
16. Tefft School (Tefft Business School): a Business and Medical Technology school in White Plains, Westchester county, New York.
17. Tefft Rd., Bedford Center, Vermont.

We also note here that Forsythe, Georgia was named for Hannah (Forsythe) Tift, Thomas Willingham Tift's mother.

Albany, Georgia was named after Albany, New York, in 1835 by one of the area's first settlers and founder, Nelson Tift.

Writer/Author Ernest Hemingway's home in Key West, Florida, bought in 1931, was built by Asa Forsythe Tift. Today, the Hemingway Museum, the lavish home was completed in 1851.

"Hearst Castle," San Luis Obispo, California and originally called San Simeon Rancho was purchased by Henry Amos Tefft for $1,400 at a public auction on May 21, 1851, from the estate of T. A. Park.

These are all we have found so far in pursuit of our Tefft family tree and genealogy. It is likely there are many more we haven't yet discovered. We would be very grateful for your kind alert to any you have found and will happily add them to this short list.

The Tefft Names: What we learned

In 1904, when Rev. Charles Stocking published The Tefft Ancestry, there were 1,150 Tefft's and Tifft's enumerated. During the last decade we have, with some success, made numerous corrections and enumerated some 235 per cent more names. The "Tefft" surnames now also include many whose spelling is "Tift." There are enumerated in these pages 2,715 first or given names for Tefft, Tifft, and Tift individuals.

We have listed the given names according to our understanding of what was bestowed by parents. Often, families give formal names like "Charles" at birth, but the person is better known as "Charlie." The nickname sticks throughout his/her life and many may not know that Charlie's real name is "Charles." By the same token, some have made the nickname the official or legal name of the individual. Thus, "Charley" never really was "Charles."

Thus, the names, as we have included them in this publication, supposes that the name, whether it sounds like a nickname or not, is the formal spelling of the name for that person. So, in our tabulation you will find Charles, Charlie, Charley, and maybe Chuck and Chucky, unless we know, with some degree of certainty, that Charles is the given name. We have NOT counted nicknames, like "Short" and "Mazie" in our tabulation, though we have included them in the biography pages when we have been able to verify the nickname for an individual.

Across the Tefft/Tifft/Tift surname we found 112 instances of the name "Mary" [Tefft-86; Tifft-20; Tift-6]. The name "John" has 86 instances [Tefft-78; Tifft-5; Tift-3]. William = 79 [Tefft-60; Tifft-12; Tift-7] Sarah = 65 [Tefft-59; Tifft-4; Tift-2].

Twelve first names have 30 or more instances: Mary (112), John (86), William (79), Sarah (65), George (47), Charles (45), James (44), Eliza/Elizabeth (41), Francis/Frank/Franklin (31), Ann/Anna/Anne (32), Henry (30), and Joseph (30). Those with 20 or more are: Robert (29), Thomas (26), David (25), Susan/Susannah (26), Carol/ Caroline (24), Abby/Abbey/Abbie/Abigail (27) Benjamin (21), Stephen (21), Samuel (22), and Edward (20).

The top 20 male given names (alphabetically) are: Benjamin, Charles, Daniel David, Edward, Francis/Frank/ Franklin, George, Henry, James, John, Jonathan, Joseph, Nathan, Richard, Robert, Samuel, Stephen, Thomas/ Tommy, Willard, and William.

The top 18 female given names (also alphabetically) are: Abby/Abbey/Abbie/Abigail, Amey/Amy, Ann/Anna/ Anne, Carol/Caroline, Eliza/Elizabeth/Betsey, Emma, Esther, Frances, Hannah, Lucy, Lydia, Martha, Mary, Mercy, Nancy, Phebe/Phoebe, Sarah, and Susan/Susannah.

Single-instance "given" names was a surprising 452 of 2,715 or just over 16 per cent of the names. Males outnumber females 1396 to 1265. A total of 57 first names are unknown or unidentified, either because of their youth or missing official records. Finally, 144 first names were given from two to 19 times.

A total of 27 individuals are designated "Sr."; 45, "Jr."; none, "1st"; 3, "2d"; 10, "3d"; and 2, "4th".

We have not tried to analyze the name distribution for the Allied families. That is an exercise we will leave to someone else.

We found a great many (most of them) common names and spellings, but then most of them came from the Victorian era and early 20th Century. We also were exposed to some pretty unusual names and spellings (perhaps as a result of our forbearers wishing to establish a record of uniqueness for their progeny). My own first name is, at this time and place, unique and singular among Tefft's. Although Culver is a fairly common surname and among the clan were the founders of Culver Military Academy in Indiana and Culver City, California, so far as I know I am the only first name Culver.

Among the more unusual given names we found: Eulalie, Euphemia, Iranelle, Izeyl, Lantie, Oca, Oden, Ola, Pliny, Raina, Shelva, Tacitus, Typhena, Wrilson, and Zyressa. What surprised us was that many of these unusual names predate World War II and even the 20th Century. And while we are speculating, we wonder if the Vietnam peace movement really started during the French and Indian War (the Hundred Years War in Europe) for we found the wonderful given name of "Freelove."

What's in a name?
Name Spellings!

Since we began this Tefft ancestry project, we have pondered the question of why there are multiple spellings of family surnames. Perhaps our curiosity goes back even further, to when we realized some friends spelled their last name: "Barber" and others spelled it "Barbur." We later learned there was also a spelling "Barbour."

For our own name, about high school age, we discovered there were Tifft's. It didn't occur to us, then, that they might be related, even remotely. We just thought Tifft was a different last name. After years of conversations, participation in genealogy discussions, reading genealogies, our own genealogy research, and reflection we have learned that there are many Tifft's distantly related to Tefft's. We have learned, for instance, that John Tifft, born in Exeter, Rhode Island, was the son of Robert Tefft. He and his family removed from Rhode Island to Nassau, New York in 1793. Inexplicably, he changed the spelling of his last name from Tefft to Tifft. We don't know when or why he changed the spelling.

When researching Tefft's intermarried with Lillibridge's we ran into Tefft cousins who spell their last name "Tift." That really sparked our interest. "Tifft" was an acceptable different spelling. The right number of letters were there. But "Tift?" At first we thought someone was trying to save ink. Then it occurred to us that there might be some other reason. Virginia Lee, a Tift cousin brought things into perspective when helping us sort out the Tefft - Lillibridge connection. Francis R. Tefft, born circa 1841 changed his name to Francis "Frank" Tift, again inexplicably.

Solomon Tift, son of Joseph Tefft, born in 1758, may have been the first Tefft to drop the second (or maybe the first) "F." He is the earliest Tefft descendant with that spelling we are aware of. We also are without explanation for the change. But Virginia suggested that people's name spelling had a lot to do with their ability to read and write. Even as recently as the 20th century there are people who have never learned to read and write, though we hope greater numbers of people today can read and write compared to the 1700's, 1800's, and early 1900's.

In the case of Francis "Frank" R. Tift, ability to read and write may have been exactly the reason for the spelling change. One story suggests, in order to have a needed birth certificate, Frank wrote out his own and had it validated by witnesses. Not being able to read, he spelled his name as it sound to himself. The story may be fanciful, but goes to the heart of at least one reason for varying spellings of last names.

In some cases family disputes may have provoked a desire for a different name spelling. Probably most families have skeletons in their closets; some family member we can't believe we're related to. Criminality and mental instability or just plain desire to be disassociated from with siblings, parents, aunts and uncles are some issues that come to mind that might cause someone to want to change their name and spelling of it.

There are McEachron's and McEathron's and they are in most instances related. Daniel McEachron was born in Argyle, Washington county, New York in 1764. He emigrated to Canada and was among its first settlers of Perth, Ontario. In obtaining his land grant the clerk spelled his name as "McEathron" on all the legal papers. It was probably easier to accept the new spelling than change or redo all the legal documents. In any case, a inattention to details created a new surname spelling.

In researching grand Tefft lines and branches we discovered a Tefft whose father decided to register his children with social security with a totally different last name. We don't know why and he doesn't know why either. Another Tefft acquaintance, has a son who took a completely different first, middle and last name. Though curious, we haven't asked about it. It's none of our business and he probably had some reason.

When it comes to given names we suspect that the new and various spellings have more to do with establishing uniqueness than any other reason. Aren't many parents trying to carve out a certain uniqueness for the son or daughter? There aren't many ways a parent can make sure "Amy" is not confused with aunt Amy and even though the last name is different, classmate "Amy." Parents have no influence on how the gene attributes are displayed. They have little impact on establishing certain qualities, interests, habits, and desires of their children. But they can make her name "Aimee."

Our father named a sibling after a direct ancestor — Taber. The original Taber named a son, Taber and a half-brother of his named a son, Taber as well. James Tefft was married to a Taber (last name). So by the middle of the nineteenth century the "Taber" spelling was far too common. We surmise the thought process may have gone a little like the following: We prefer a name that has strong family historical significance, BUT we want him to "stand alone" so-to speak in the family tree. How can we do that? Ah! We'll name him "T A B O R." Problem solved. We look forward to the day we see "T A B U R" or "T A Y B I R" or some other variation.

Just as some are chasing singularity, others pursue name rubber stamping. If one goes back far enough in their ancestry they can probably find a run of the same first name for several generations. For instance: William, son of William, son of William, &c. There may be some family out there whose given William suffix might correctly be William the 17th. That wasn't a farfetched notion, especially prior to eighteen hundred, for not many had middle names. Since the use of middle names it probably is rarer to run into a long line of "William John Smith's."

What did we do when we didn't get a male heir? One, we kept trying. Two, we named her Willamette or Willamina. And three, we found a new mate and started at the beginning.

There is a small group of people who like one letter of the alphabet. Hence their children are named: Leonard, Lisa, Larry, Linda, Louise, and LaVerne. This group isn't to be surpassed by the rhymers. Those families have children with given names like: Terry, Jerry, Merry, Kerry, Berry, and Perry.

Some of the variations on the "Tefft" spelling (in addition to Tifft and Tift) have been identified as: Teffe, Teft, Taft, Toft, Tofte, and Tuft. This compiler has not found any who spell their surname Taft, Toft, Tofte, and Tuft who are in any way related to those who spell the name Teffe, Tefft, Tifft, Teft, and Tift.

A word about names that appear to be duplicated

Some names appearing on this roster of Civil War Soldiers and Sailors may be a duplication of a same name either because of confusion about the spelling of the surname or possibly the interpretation of Civil War records. In some cases, the same name may be associated with two or more Civil War units. In such circumstances the units may have been merged and changed names or the individual completed his service with one unit and reenlisted and was assigned to a new unit. Where we have been able to establish the correct family spelling of names we have omitted other listings of the variant name and unit Some names that may be duplicated for variant spelling have been flagged with a superscript asterisk (*).

We welcome any information which provides better data in our list and more accuracy relative to our honored family members and their distinctive service during the War Between the States.
